Journalism Poll Surveys Enrollment

University seniors desiring work in two Portland department stores will be interviewed Friday and Tuesday in the office of Dr. N. H. Comish, professor of business administration, room 108 Commerce.

T. Wright of Olds Wortman and King, Portland, will be on the campus Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to interview the seniors. All University students who are interested are invited to consult with Mr. Wright.

A representative of Lipman, Wolfe, and Co., Miss Sinclair, will interview students Tuesday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. She is particularly interested in meeting students applying for jobs on the firm's College Board.

Senior Honorary Elects Helen Hicks

Formal initiation into Mortar Board was held for new members Wednesday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry K. Newburn. Officers were elected at the first meeting of old and new Mortar Boards. President of the 1947-48 group will be Helen Hicks. Other officers include Beryl Howard, vice-president; Pat Webber, secretary; Ann Burgess, treasurer, and Jeanne Simmonds, editor.

Outgoing officers are Jean Watson, president; Marilyn Sage, vice-president; Virginia Scholl, secretary; June Johnson, treasurer, and Marge Allingham, editor.

Eugene Quota Group Offers Scholarships

Quota Club of Eugene is offering tuition scholarships to women students for next year. Any woman may apply by picking up an application blank at the Dean of Women's office and returning it by May 29. Girls who already have applied need only write a letter of scholarship or have previously so stating and asking to be reconsidered.

Quiet Assembly Upset

The ASA will run Bob Wallace and Kay Schneider for the one and two spots for the senior class. Si Ellingson and Joyce Niedermeyer will run on the ISA ticket for these positions.

Joe Conroy and Trudi Chernis, both of the ISA, will contend with Hank Kinsell and Beth Basler, both of the ASA, for the junior class officers.

Jim Wallace and Joanne Frydenlund, ASA candidates, were nominated to compete with Mike Mitchell and Virginia Thompson, ISA candidates for the sophomore class positions.

Yell king candidates running on party tickets are Johnny Backlund, ISA, and Don Lindstedt, ASA.

Tom Kay, ASUO president, conducted the assembly. Approximately 800 students attended the meeting.

faith in student government," he said, adding that "The University feels that students are in our executive council only to play politics, and the students have the same feeling."

Lemons said that to determine the will of the students as a whole would be beneficial to both the students and their organization.

He advocated the removal of the position of yell king from the ballot, explaining that he should be selected on the basis of ability instead of political affiliations. He also urged that Webfooters, which has assisted the rally squad, be given official recognition as an aid to increasing rally spirit.

Representation of the freshman class on the executive council was another plank in his platform. Explaining that under the present system freshmen have no place on the executive council, he said, "This plan would represent the freshmen in the student government ahead of the present schedule."

He urged the continuation of the present practice of class officers handling their class function. "Student officers should be elected to perform their duties, not for honor," he declared.

In closing he expressed the desire that the present campaign restore some of the dignity to the student government which, he said, had been taken away by some of the previous campaigns.

In nominating Lemons, Warren Miller pointed to his activities in 1940 which included work on Dad's Day, promotion of Student Union, and general manager of the three men's co-operatives.

After serving three years in the army, Lemons returned to become ISA president and was instrumental in the reorganization of the ISA senate and the drafting of a new constitution, Miller said. He pointed to these achievements as indicative of his administrative ability.

Catherine Crombie, nominating Jeanne Simmonds for the number two position, pointed out that she was chosen outstanding woman in journalism in her freshman and sophomore years and recently received the Gerlinger cup as the outstanding junior woman.

"She has a strong sense of integity and will be loyal to her duties in the ASUO as well as to the students of the University," Miss Crombie said.

Accepting the nomination, Miss Simmonds announced that she would consider the interests of the students as a whole at all times. She also advocated making the executive council an "instrument of the students rather than an honorary position."

A STATEMENT:

We, at Oregon want a great school. One of the methods of becoming a great all-around university is through athletics.

OREGON has progressed far this year in athletics—OREGON is on the road. Under the guiding hand of President Newburn we have a new football coach and an athletic director replacing the former board.

The merits of a school cannot be solely based on sports. That we recognize. We believe the greatness of this university depends on three points. (1) Education. (2) Activities. (3) Athletics.

EDUCATION is handled by the administration and we believe that great strides are being made in this department.

ACTIVITIES are usually dependent on the enthusiasm of the students and how much interest they have. Check our slate of candidates. A culmination of all their activities on the campus exceeds those of the opponent party. These students have shown, in a material way, that they are interested in OREGON.

ATHLETIC progress is determined by both the administration and the students. It is the job of the administration to employ the best of coaches and equipment—we believe this has been done.

Students must show enthusiasm and spirit in support of their teams. They must extend a "welcome" to all budding stars who may be interested in OREGON. These stars should have no question in their minds about enrolling here.

We believe that Oregon needs a student leader versed in athletic problems—someone who knows them from the athlete's standpoint—who knows the little things that are important in the function of sports.

A man is needed who recognizes the need for outstanding athletic public relations, for the right man in the right office can put OREGON on the map in future years.

THAT IS WHY WE HAVE NOMINATED STAN WILLIAMSON FOR ASUO STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT.

We believe that STAN is the man to take care of that important third point listed above—athletics.

We leave the activities to the other members of our ticket; we leave the educational function to the administration—but we believe that WILLIAMSON can give the needed point of view in athletics, next year and in years to come.

STAN WILLIAMSON can do something no other member of our ticket or the opponent's ticket can do. He can, and will be, a sparkplug of an OREGON athletic offense.
