Delts Down Theta Chis; Win IM Softball Title

Ed Sanford Hurls No-Hit Ball Game; Winners Take, Hold Early Contest Lead

With Ed Sanford hurling no-hit ball, Delta Tau Delta captured the IM softball championship, walloping Theta Chi 10-1 yesterday.

The Delts were keyed up to a fighting pitch for the tilt, and starting with two runs in the first frame, were never headed. The loser's lone run came in the sixth inning and was unearned as Sanford whiffed 14 in the seven-inning contest.

In the top of the first, the winners took advantage of Theta Chi Hurler Paul Sower's wildness, scoring twice on two walks, a wild pitch, and Bob Kehrl's ground double to centerfield. In the second frame, the Delts really salted the game away with five more runs.

Paul Pierson started the outburst with a walk, Jim Dunlap followed with a short single to left. Sowers retired the next two batters, but George Redden reached base on an error, and when Sanford followed with a two-bagger, three runs scored.

Next hitter, Zeb Czai Koski, then supplied the power blow of the game with a long high-fly homer far over the left fielder's head. The Delts added a single tally in the fifth, sixth, and last innings to chalk up their count.

Theta Chi's lone run came as Bill Hutchinson reached first on an error, stole second and third, and came home on an overthrow. Otherwise only three other Theta Chi hitters reached base.

Kehrl led the Delts with two doubles as they put together seven hits and six Theta Chi miscues for the win.

Girl Adds Realism To Omar Khayyam Oregon Stops OSC; Threatens Huskies

Assistant Professor John C. McCloskey, his thoughts on the past, was lecturing to his English lit class on the philosophy of Omar Khayyam. In the back of the room, someone probably brooding on the off-balance economy that will follow Mortar Board ball, was counting her change.

Said McCloskey, "Eat, drink, and be melancholy, for tomorrow we die. Take the cash and let the credit go."

From the back of the room, came the clink of falling coins.

A home run by Johnny Kovenz in the 10th inning with one man on gave the University of Oregon baseball team a 9-7 victory over the Oregon State Beavers in Corvallis yesterday.

Biond Harry Walker, who relieved Hal Saltzman in the second frame, was credited with the win.

The win boosted Oregon's record to eight wins and seven losses. A victory today will tie the Ducks with the Washington Huskies for second-place honors.

Both teams will play their final game this afternoon at 3 p. m. on Howe field.
