Increase In Tuition Proposed

All-In-One Campaign To Begin

United Fund Drive Opens September 29; Success Expected

The Campus United Fund drive, campaign promise of ASUO President Stan Williamson, will begin September 29 and run through October 4. A relatively new idea on university campuses, the drive will consolidate the Red Cross, Community Chest, March of Dimes, and World Student Service Fund into one, so that students will not be hounded for contributions to individual drives throughout the year.

Using totals from previous year's drives, students will be asked for $4 each. The money will be apportioned to the four organizations, leaving a small amount for an emergency fund. Students giving $1 or more will receive a small tag with a yellow "O" on a green background showing that they have contributed.

To Award Cup

A permanent silver cup will be awarded to the living organization contributing the highest per capita amount by drive co-chairmen John Gilbertson, interfraternity council president, and Nancy Bedingfield, heads of houses president. House vice-presidents will be in charge of collecting from their house members, and will get their information at a meeting at 12:30 today in the Susan Campbell hall recreation room.

To insure the success of this unique drive, off-campus students will be contacted by members of the men's and women's service honoraries. Arrangements are also being made to collect between class hours from students not wearing the "O" tag. Faculty members are not to be approached for funds.

Percentage Thermometer

Enthusiasm and competition will be aroused through a large percentage thermometer in the Co-op and posters on the campus.

The drive must be a success, according to co-chairmen or the council will have to allow separate organizations on the campus to make up their quotas. "A successful drive will mean that students can forget about contributing to national drives for the rest of the year," Williamson said.

To Be Annual

The campus United Fund drive, which has been used successfully at the University of Washington, will become an annual part of the University campus with rotating chairmen.

Council members this year besides Williamson, Gilbertson and Miss Bedingfield are Bob Frazier, Emerald editor; Barbara Johns, AWS president; Barbara Williams, Panhellenic president; Howard Lemons, inter-coop president; Ray Johnson, Co-op board president, and Maryann Thielen, president of interdorm council.

Arnall, Georgia Political Figure, Tops List of Assembly Speakers

Leading off the University of Oregon's 1947-48 general assembly will be Ellis Arnall, one of the most controversial Southern political figures in years and former governor of Georgia. He will speak at McArthur court September 29, at 7:30 p.m.

Arnall was in the middle of a bitter political controversy in Georgia last winter when Herman Talmadge tried to take away the governorship to which his father, Eugene, had been elected in November 1946. Talmadge died a few days before he was to take office.

Newburn Ok's Student Posts

Names of students approved by Dr. Harry K. Newburn, University president for faculty committees, were announced yesterday by ASUO Student Body president, Stan Williamson.

Heading the list of faculty committees on which students serve was the student affairs committee. This committee sets up rules, regulations and procedures for the social functions of the school. It sets the rules but rejects all disciplinary action.

Controls Social Life

Under its control comes hours, social calendar, social life in living organizations, all campus dances, rallies, parades and other extra-curricular activities of the University.

Stan Williamson, Barbara Johns, and Nancy Bedingfield are the students serving on this committee which is headed by Earl Pallett, assistant to the president of the University.

The student body president recommends to the president of the University, the president of AWS, the president of Heads of Houses and himself as members of the student affairs committee.

Dr. Newburn Approved

Stan Williamson, Barbara Johns, Howard Lemons, Bob Frazier, and Ross Yates were approved by Dr. Newburn as members of the educational activities board. The board is headed by Dr. Pallett and administers most of the functions at the University.

Recommendation is by custom of office. Bob Frazier and Ross Yates

State Board Okeys UO Building Fund

Additions to the University library and music school were provided for last week when the state emergency board approved the expenditure of $100,000 for preliminary costs of construction of five college buildings for the state board of higher education.

A total of $750,000 will eventually be expended on the library and $195,000 on the music school. University officials said last week that the funds just allotted will pay fees to architects and engineers who have been employed for some time.

Other projects include two buildings at Oregon State college and an administration building at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland.

The funds will come from the $4,000,000 state board of higher education building fund.

Talmadge Elected

Arnall wanted to turn his office over to M. E. Thompson, lieutenant governor of the state, but the legislature elected young Talmadge, who led an armed group to give his forces control of the state capitol. Later Thompson was ruled legal governor by the Georgia supreme court.

The great improvement made in Georgia's political system during the four years he was in office is credited to former Governor Arnall. He did not, however, succeed in ending the system of tabulating votes by county units. This was partly the cause for Gene Talmadge's re-election.

Adamic Slated

Another speaker in the series will be Louis Adamic, distinguished Yugoslav author of "My America" and "My Native Land." His speech November 4 will be on the subject "Tolerance Is Not Enough."

Arctic explorer Vilhjalmur Stefansson will talk about "New Frontiers of Science" on November 20.

Perennial candidate for president on the Socialist ticket, Norman Thomas will speak April 6 on an unannounced subject. He said earlier this year that he would not run again for president.

Dan E. Clark, head of the history department, is chairman of the University assembly committee. He has announced that all four of the speeches will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Warren Smith Asked to Speak

Dr. Warren D. Smith, former head of the geology and geography department, has been asked to be principal speaker at the annual convention of the Oregon Coast Highway association at Gearhart October 6 and 7. He will speak on "The Oregon Coast from Geological and Historical Episodes."

Dr. Smith has just returned after spending a month on the Oregon coast doing work on the Indian land cases for the government. He has prepared a manuscript on a book covering all phases of the Oregon coast.

ADS to Meet

AWS cabinet and council will meet this afternoon at 4 p.m. at the dean of women's office to select a campus social chairman. Barbara Johns, AWS president urges that all cabinet and council members be present at the meeting.

Registration To Date Reaches 5401 Total

At the end of the regular registration period unofficial totals showed 5401 students had completed the process.

This unofficial number does not include some students who took out registration materials late Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. More registrants are also expected throughout this week.

Daily Aspirants Meet Tonight

The first Emerald organizational meeting of the year, open to all students wishing to work on the student daily, will be held in the news room of the Emerald quonset hut tonight at 7:30. The "shack" is situated just south of the journalism building.

At the same time students interested in working on the business staff may meet in room 105, journalism building.

Editor Bob Frazier, Managing Editor Bill Yates, and News Editors June Goetze and Bobolee Brophy will explain the jobs open on the news side of the Emerald. A few reporting jobs are open to freshmen, according to the news editors. Most new Emerald workers will be placed on the copy desk and night staff.

Positions Open

On the business side positions are open for layout managers, office and circulation assistants, and contact executives to work with merchants downtown in preparation and placing of advertising, according to Bob Chapman, business manager.

Staff appointments will be completed by Chapman and Barbara Twiford, advertising manager, before October 1.

Experience in publication work is not necessary and hours can be arranged to fit the students' schedules. During the year the staff will work with members of the retail advertising classes which are engaged with a project basis with downtown merchants.

Appointments Made

Business staff appointments already announced by Chapman are Marilyn Turner, national advertising manager; Billjean Riethmiller, circulation manager; Bob Chaney, Virg Tucker, Sally Waller, Winnie Carl, and Al Ruedy, day managers; Marge Huston Foster and Bob Bechtle, promotion managers.

At the meeting the operation of the office will be explained and students may sign up for the phase of work which interests them.

Phi Thetas Name Three for Group

Betty Jean McCurry, Pat King, and Marcia Summers were tapped for membership in Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary, during the dinner hour last night. They will take the places of three members who did not return to the University this fall. The girls will be initiated into the organization next week.

Raise of $5 Given Nod By Council

Student Union Need Felt By ASUO Body

As a last resort to assure a student union building "in our time" the executive council of the ASUO last night went on record as favoring a $5 increase in university tuition for 10 terms only.

The plan, which would go into effect winter term, came after an executive council investigation into "the state of the union."

The council's expression of sentiment is without legal force, and is merely an expression of the opinions of the student leaders. Other student bodies will be contacted for opinion soon.

Such a tuition increase could be made only by the state board of higher education upon the recommendation of the chancellor and the president of the University, neither of whom will recommend the increase without a "substantial demonstration" by the students that the increase meets their approval.

Must Know Sentiment

The president and the chancellor must know student sentiment by late October if the plan is to go into effect winter term.

The council estimated this move would provide the $300,000 necessary to make up the deficit between the $1,200,000 now in sight and the $1,500,000 needed to construct a student union building containing 93,000 square feet of floor space.

The $300,000 will be needed for furnishing and equipping the new building the new building. The council's investigation showed that if the money were not raised it would be impossible to go into the "working drawing" stage.

The council's investigation indicated that if the $300,000 were not raised the whole student idea might have to be pigeon-holed. As a result of this, they feared, many of the pledges secured during the summer's campaign, might not be fulfilled.

Expressed Regret

The council expressed regret at having to ask the students to make up the deficit in this manner, but expressed the view that there was no other feasible means of raising the funds.

The Oregon "dream building" which was to have 150,000 square feet of floor space according to original plans, was scaled down to 93,000 as building costs went up and last summer's drive failed to produce the hoped-for revenues. The 93,000 figure is as far as the building can be cut and still retain the essential features of a student union building.

(An investigative article on student union funds will appear in Wednesday's Emerald.)
