Provisions Furnished Vets Pay

Broken subsistence payments for college veterans will become a thing of the past under the new leave policies announced today by Thomas L. Karnes, training officer in charge of Oregon's veterans administration.

Under the new regulations, veterans will receive subsistence payments for the full enrollment certified to VA by the University providing there are no more than 15 days between terms. No leaves other than one 15-day vacation at the end of the current school year will be authorized.

During the past years, the University was required to make affirmative reports on conduct, progress, grades and attendance and these reports were used as a basis for making the subsistence allowance. Under the new regulations, only unsatisfactory progress or interruptions of training will be used for decreasing the allowance of any veteran.

The new leave provisions will not apply to veterans interrupting their training before the end of a term. In such cases, authorization for payments will end on the date training was stopped.

Fellowship Group To Present Party

Fun, food and fellowship will highlight the Interservice Christian fellowship's party tonight on the sun porch of Gerlinger hall at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited, with a warm greeting especially awaiting freshmen who attend.

A "singspiration," to be followed by a welcoming address and short devotional message by President Art Somner, will conclude the evening's entertainment.

Informal campus clothes will be in order.

Spinal Meningitis Case Checked in at Infirmary

Preston W. Leonard, 729 E. 11th street was taken to the University infirmary Thursday evening, where laboratory tests of spinal fluid showed menigi coccus (spinal meningitis). Fraternity members were given sulphadiazene and sulphathiazole tablets, but will not be quarantined. Dr. James W. Brooke, orthopedic surgeon at the Eugene clinic, was called in and Dr. F. N. Miller, director of the University health service, is now in charge of the patient.

Vets Offices Moved To Emerald Building

Veterans attending the University or taking on the job training will find the veterans' offices, formerly located in the basement of Johnson hall and in the P.E. building, have moved to Emerald hall at E. 13th and Agate.

The office of contact representative Donald C. Schworer on Emerald hall's second floor is number one information center for veterans. One of the functions of Schworer's headquarters is to direct the veteran students and on the job training to the proper departments for handling their difficulties.

James Cline, formerly assistant to the dean of men in charge of veterans' affairs, has been transferred to a similar post as assistant to the registrar.
