OSC Rooks Drill With 120 on Team

With a turnout of 120 freshman pigskin enthusiasts on hand, Coach Al Cox set his sights for the coming Rook football season and their opener with the Oregon Frosh a week from today. The baby flat tails have tapered off conditioning drills during the week and are beginning body contact work with a scrimmage scheduled the first of next week against the varsity subs.

Exactly what kind of team OSC will field is still unknown, but the size of the heavy turnout would indicate a powerhouse squad. In accordance with Pacific Coast conference rules the Rooks have scheduled five games the first and last against the Oregon frosh in a home and home series.

This year's freshman team is the first for the Orange and Black since 1942. Last year the freshmen played either on the varsity or the JV team. The two JV games against Oregon ended in OSC victories.

Gilded spurs were reckoned the badge of knighthood, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, and in rare cases of ceremonial degradation they were hacked from the knight's heels with the cook's chopper.
