Savage, Marshall Plan Author, Oregon Graduate Class of '21

By BETTY LAGOMARSINO

Primary author of the Marshall Plan is an Oregon graduate, Carleton Savage, Liberty magazine claimed unofficially in a recent issue. He is one of the chief economic advisors of the state department.

Savage received his B.S. in history from the University of Oregon in 1921. A veteran of World War I, he was ASUO president here in his senior year.

After receiving his MA in history from George Washington university in Washington, D. C., he was appointed assistant historical adviser of the state department division of research and publications in 1937.

Received Promotion

In 1938 he was promoted to the position of assistant to the counsellor of the department of state, and from there was commissioned special assistant to the secretary of state. He served in this capacity under Cordell Hull, Edward Stettinius Jr. and James Byrnes.

Savage last visited Eugene on his return trip from the San Francisco peace conference. He spoke before the students here and presented the University with a photographic copy of the signatures of the delegates to the San Francisco conference.

President Newburn On Eastern Trip

President Harry K. Newburn was in Chicago Sunday through Tuesday where he attended a meeting of the National Education association.

The president is scheduled to participate in a meeting of the finance commission of President Truman's commission on higher education, which will meet in St. Louis October 3 and 4.

President Newburn is expected to return to the University next week, though no definite date has been announced.

12 P.M. Permission For Girls Tonight

Gals who have been wondering just how late they could dance to the strains of the Harry James' trumpet tonight at Willamette park, and fellows who have been debating, "is it worth it," for a 10:30 date may now relax.

Late permission until 12 p.m. tonight has been granted women students, according to an announcement from the dean of women's office yesterday. The dean's office agreed to extend closing hours until midnight because Harry James and his band would be at Willamette park tonight only.

Student Loans Exceed $5500

The student loan department of the University business office has taken on the characteristics of a small bank, with loans totaling $5,683.30 made to 135 students since September 15, according to figures released by Dr. Vergil S. Fogdall, assistant dean of men.

Under University regulations eligible students are able to borrow as much as $50 for a maximum period of 60 days. However, Dr. Fogdall urged that students borrow no more than they must have for basic school needs.

Loan Requirements

Dr. Fogdall warned that students must realize that repayment of the loans will cut into their future incomes.

Not all students are eligible to receive loans from the University, since they must meet the requirements specified in the code of rules governing this privilege.

To be eligible for a loan the applicant must have been enrolled at the University for at least one year, and must have a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or better.

Service Charge

A service charge of 25 cents for loans up to $10, and 50 cents for loans over $10 must be paid by the borrower.

An additional service charge is levied on notes not paid at the end of the first month amounting to 25 cents a month for the first five months and 6 per cent interest on the unpaid balance thereafter.

The interest rate for long-time loans is 6 per cent a year.

Art Johnson Awarded Annual Huestis Cup

Huestis Cup Presented for Second Year To Outstanding Independent Freshman

Art Johnson, sophomore in business administration, has been awarded the Jerry Huestis cup for the most outstanding independent freshman of last year.

Art Johnson, sophomore in business administration, has been awarded the annual Jerry Huestis cup, Don McNeal, president of the ISA announced Tuesday. This cup, awarded every fall term to the outstanding independent freshman, during the previous year, is given for the purpose of furthering independent participation in campus activities.

Johnson was president of the freshman class, is a member of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary, and is sophomore representative on the executive council.

Jerry Huestis gave this cup for the first time last year. Trudi Chernis junior in journalism, received the award.

Huestis received his B.A. from Oregon in 1942 and graduated from the University of Oregon medical school in 1946. While at Oregon he was president of the ISA, a member of Friars, Order of the O, Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Delta Psi, men's national physical education honorary, and Sigma Xi, national science honorary.

Radio Opening Set For Monday

Radio broadcasts from the University extension studios over station KOAC are scheduled to begin Monday evening, October 6, according to Glenn Starlin, radio director. The first broadcast, from 8 to 9 p.m., is slated to include a 15 minute topical discussion entitled, "The World in Review," by Dr. Victor Morris, dean of the school of business administration, and a campus recital by the music department, under direction of Dr. George Hopkins.

Scheduled as regular broadcasts to begin in the near future are an hourly mixed-program broadcast on Monday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m., the University hour from 4 to 5 p.m. on Thursdays, and a half-hour Campus Headlines show every other Wednesday.

Two Contact Foreigns

All foreign students on campus are requested to contact Laura Olson at the Delta Delta Delta house or Dedo Misley at the Chi Omega house.

Fall Extensions Start Monday

Registration for the fall term classes of the general extension division of the Oregon state system of higher education will begin Monday with all prospects pointing to an increase over last year's high of 11,473. Registration, which will extend over a two-week period, will begin at the classes Monday evening.

Two types of courses will be offered, regular extension classes and extension correspondence courses.

Listed as outstanding among the classes to be offered are the two-hour retail merchandising course, to be conducted by Dr. Newel Comish Thursday evenings and methods in woodworking taught by C. D. Moore of Eugene high school Monday evenings.

Most popular correspondence courses offered during the last school year were: teaching, student methods, housewifery, and military sciences, with at least one student from every state but Vermont and Delaware enrolled in one of the more than 200 courses offered.

In addition there were correspondence enrollments from Africa, Alaska, Hawaii, Sumatra, and Germany, where two released German prisoners are being aided in their studies by American friends.

Bunion Parade Follows Game

A report in Tuesday's Emerald scheduled the Bunion Derby for Friday evening. To quiet campus hysteria, students are herewith informed that the annual foot-sore parade to women's living organizations will be held Saturday, October 4 from 7 to 11 p.m. following the Oregon-Nevada football game.

Details on the route of the Bunion Derby will be printed in Friday's Emerald.

WORLD HEADLINES

By United Press

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 30, (UP)—Pert film star Susan Hayward filed for a divorce from actor Jess Barker today, two days after they separated. The red-haired, Brooklyn-born actress accused Barker of mental cruelty. She asked for custody of their twin sons, Timothy and Gregory, two years old, and a reasonable allowance for their support.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30 (UP)—The AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific and the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots today agreed with the Pacific American Shipowners association to extend for 48 hours the contract that expires at midnight tonight. The agreements were concluded in two separate meetings between negotiations committees for the union and association before federal conciliator Omar Hoskins.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (UP)—The Soviet Union has refused permission for Assistant Secretary of State John Peurifoy and members of the Senate appropriations committee to enter the U.S.S.R. next month for an inspection of the American Embassy in Moscow, it was disclosed today.

PORTLAND, ORE., Sept. 30 (UP)—Two major wholesale bakeries here today scheduled a one-cent increase in the price of bread, effective Thursday. The increase would bring the price range to 15 and 16 cents a pound loaf. Other bakeries were expected to follow.

News Reporter Demonstrates Wire Recorder

Local radio station KUGN's news reporter, Jack Craig, demonstrated the station's revolutionary new wire recorder outfit and explained the purpose of the portable recorder on the University campus Tuesday afternoon.

The recorder has already seen service in KUGN's recent coverage of the Pittenger case in Eugene in which both the former police chief of the city and his accuser, 14-year-old Bryant Wood, broadcast their statements. The station obtained the testimony separately, along with short statements by Mr. and Mrs. Wood and later rebroadcast the interviews, providing unique coverage of the case.

Craig also explained various other uses for the machine including interviews with officials and national figures who visit the city but who do not have time to come to the studio for broadcasts. Through use of the recorder, the local station hopes to get personal commentaries from news sources for later broadcasting.

Craig spoke before a class in special assignments under the direction of Dean George S. Turnbull of the school of journalism.
