

New Dorm Rule Goes into Effect

Students moving from dormitories during regular terms must provide substitutes for their dorm rooms, Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, director of dormitories, said yesterday. A waiting list of students seeking dormitory housing can be found in the dormitory office in John Straub hall, she said.

Mrs. Turnipseed also reminded students who plan moving into University dorms from private homes that they must first secure a written release from the householder, or a substitute for the rooms.

Reason for the new regulation, according to the director, is that "many people in Eugene have generously opened their doors to meet the housing need, going to much expense and sacrifice to provide housing. It is only fair and courteous that these students show their appreciation by remaining throughout the term," she said.

Sweetheart

Last year's Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Sally Mueller, will be an honored guest at the fraternity's sweetheart ball November 1. She will hand over her title to a freshman girl selected from 50 contestants.

Selected Contestants to Vie For 'Sweetheart of Sigma Chi'

Two Sigma Chi sweetheart contestants have been selected from each of 25 women's living organizations, Sam Gillette, who has charge of the contest, announced yesterday.

Half of the girls will be invited to a dance at the Sigma Chi house Tuesday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., and the other half will attend another dance Thursday evening. Short silks will be in order for the contestants.

All the girls will attend another dance October 15 in their honor. Campus clothes will be in order.

Beginning October 22, the field will be narrowed down to 20. From these girls, five finalists will be selected, who will appear on a radio program October 28. Ballots of the members will be counted while the program is in progress, leaving the winner unknown until the time of the announcement.

Climax of the contest will be a Sweethearts' ball November 1, with the official sweetheart guest of honor.

Contestants are traditionally chosen from entering freshmen. Those who are trying out this year are:

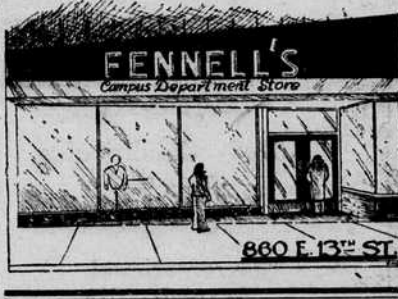

Mary Knox and Jerry Ann Myers, Alpha Phi; Jean Martin and Maryland Griffith, Highland house;

Pat Ryan and Corlista Vondeae, Zeta hall; Donna Brotherson and Gloria Grimson, Alpha Chi Omega.

Carol Fallin and Beverly Miller, Delta Delta Delta; JoAnn Fitzmaurice and Georgianne Balaam, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Ann Jor-
