

Professor Declares Americans Oversold by U.N. Propaganda

That the American people had been oversold in the early propaganda about the expectations of the United Nations organization was the statement made by Charles Schleicher, professor of political science department, in a talk to Christian and Methodist church members, at a joint meeting Wednesday evening.

In explaining what the U. N. is and the work that it has accomplished so far, Professor Schleicher reminded the group that the U. N. was only two years old. In most past experiments made in government organizations not much more hope of success was shown within a two-year period than is presently shown in the United Nations organization, he said.

"Not until an efficient international government is set up can we hope for true peace and understanding between nations," Schleicher remarked, "and such a program will take many more years to be accomplished." He explained that the U. N. as now organized, is not an international government and does not try to change the state systems of the different countries.

The speaker also pointed out that the organization does not have an international police force in its charter, but that each nation has agreed to place at the disposal of the council their forces when needed.

Mrs. Paul Means, instructor in English, was in charge of the arrangements for the program which followed a dinner at the church. Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the business administration school, will discuss the work of the U. N. in a November meeting at the Methodist church.

YWCA Drive To End Tonight

Indications of another record number of YWCA members were reported yesterday by Membership Chairman Nila Desinger, who has announced that the drive ends tonight.

Several houses have already completely backed the drive, and others have withheld sending in membership cards until a check covering the whole amount could be submitted, she said.

All membership chairmen have been requested to turn in cards and money at the Y bungalow as soon as possible today. Membership is one dollar and entitles a member to participate in all Y activities and to vote in Y elections.

Independent women who have not been approached by a house representative can join the Y by going directly to the Y bungalow.

The Y candlelight recognition service for all new and old members is to take place in front of the art museum at 7 p.m. Tuesday as part of the Y Day program of AWS week.

AWS Week Activity

Oslo conference last summer, as honored guests.

Also at noon Tuesday the lunch-club invites all Eugene girls who be held Wednesday with Vickie Utz to lunch at the YWCA bungalow. A special program is planned.

From 2:30 to 4:30 will be an all-campus informal tea honoring all foreign students on the campus.

The sophomore commission will hold a pot-luck supper at 5 p.m. and all members of the commission are invited.

At 7 p.m. is planned a candlelight recognition service of all new YWCA members in front of the library. Alpha Phi members will sing, led by Jean Lichty. Following the service will be an open house at the Bungalow with refreshments served.

Exchange Lunches Planned

Exchange lunches between the women's living organizations will held Wednesday with Vickie Utz as chairman. Exchange lunches have never been done on the campus before, but AWS plans to make it a regular activity, Barbara Johns, president, stated.

An all-campus assembly will be featured Thursday in McArthur court at 7:30 p.m. Roll will be taken for all women's organizations, and the men's organizations are urged to come. The Kwamas, Phi Thetas, and Mortar Board members will be presented and Barbara Borrevik, president of WAA, and Bjork Hansen, president of the YWCA, will inform all women on the various activities on the campus.

Show to Follow

A complete entertainment show to surprise numbers will follow.

Chairmen of Thursday's events are Nila Desinger, Ann Burgess, Geneva Davis, Helen McFetridge, and Sid Rosnan. Bill Bishop is handling the continuity of the show.

The annual Nickel Hop will close the week's activities Friday, October 10, with Trudi Chernis and Beth Basler as chairmen. All women's living organizations will be open for dancing from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. and the men will move from house to house.

A prize will be awarded to the men's organization that visits the most women's organizations, and a prize is in store for the women's house that nets the most nickels on a percentage basis.

Committee chairmen for the Nickel Hop are Marjoree Rambo and Donna Kletzing, Emerald publicity; Mary Stadelman and Joanne Frydenlund, prizes; Jeannine Macaulay and Joy Miller, posters; Norma Stearns and Jackie Wachhorst, flying speech; Joan Minnaugh and Joanne Nichols, collections.

"I help make your telephone service the world's best"

"About 50 years before you were born—back in 1877—I started making telephone equipment for the nation.

"As the manufacturing and supply member of the Bell Telephone team, I've always had a lot to do with making your service the world's best—at the lowest possible cost.

"The close teamwork made possible by my being a part of the Bell System was never more important than today—in helping to meet record demands for telephone service.
