WORLD HEADLINES

By United Press

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 7. A tornado struck the north section of Jacksonville tonight, ripping the roofs off at least a dozen houses, overturning several trailer homes and injuring an undetermined number of persons. The twister hit a wartime housing project and a trailer camp in the northshore suburb. Power lines blown down threw the area in darkness and highway patrolmen were unable to determine the number of casualties.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. President Truman said tonight that the world is moving closer to a "just and honorable peace" and added confidently that "we eventually will get it." He spoke extemporaneously during services at the First Baptist church here which marked the transfer from London to Washington of headquarters for the Baptist world alliance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said today that some form of food conservation probably will be needed until next summer, but he held out hope that meatless Tuesdays and poultry-less Thursdays could be discontinued much sooner. He volunteered that cautious forecast as the country got off to a faltering start on the voluntary food-saving campaign by which President Truman hopes to provide an extra 100,000,000 bushels of grain for European winter relief.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson assigned to European posts arrived today for urgent talks on Soviet-American relations as well as future United States diplomatic and economic policies in Germany and Austria. They were Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Russia; Robert D. Murphy, U.S. political adviser for Germany; Lewis W. Douglas, ambassador to Great Britain, and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, military governor of the American occupied zone in Germany.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, former army commander in the Mediterranean theater, was enroute here tonight to be assigned to the detachment of patients at Letterman hospital while awaiting retirement from active duty. He was expected to arrive Thursday.

BOSTON, Oct. 7. Meatless Tuesday is no problem to the Boston chapter of the Society of Amateur Chefs which advises harried housewives to "feed 'em beans."

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. A guided missile capable of traveling 5,000 miles will become a reality within 15 years, Brig. Gen. Donald L. Putt predicted tonight. He said that with unlimited funds and resources, the air force believed the 5,000-mile missile could become a reality within five years, but at a normal peacetime research pace the time probably should be extended to 15 years.

'Y' Group to Confer At Oregon Camp

Members of the student YW and YMCA groups are attending a regional fall conference at Trestle Glen Camp, Barton, Oregon, from October 10 to 12.

According to the University Y conference chairman, Marcia Summers, delegates from the summer national and international Y meetings will be present to address the group.

W. H. Genne of Pacific university is addressing the conference on "The Committed Individual" and

Dean John L. Anderson of the College of Idaho is speaking on "The Call to Our Movement."

The Atomic Power Shown In Movies

Three shorts concerning atomic power will be the educational activities movies shown today.

The program consists of "Atomic Power," which tells the story of the atom from the beginning to the present time; "Atomic Energy," describing by graphic animation how nuclear synthesis, nuclear fission and the atomic bomb's chain reaction is accomplished; and "Operation Crossroads," a U. S. navy documentary film of the atomic tests on Bikini.

Two shows will be given, the first beginning at 7:30 p.m. in room 3 Fenton hall.

Kitchen Equipment Obtained for Dorm

Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, director of dormitories, returned yesterday from Portland, where she obtained two gas ranges and two "french-fryers" to be installed at John Straub hall. The kitchen equipment was purchased for payment of freight charges only through the war assets administration at the Portland army air base.

40% Increase Shown

Enrollment in the physics department has increased 40 per cent over last year according to comparative figures derived at the end of registration week. At the present, there are 416 students enrolled in the physics department, though only a small number are physics majors.

Illustrated Feature Story Written by Professor

An illustrated feature story on the colorful pioneer theaters of Portland, written by Alice Henson Ernst, associate professor of English at the University, will appear in a coming issue of the Northwest magazine section of the Sunday Oregonian.

Date for publication of the story, which tells of the appearance of the trooper in the Oregon country, has tentatively been set for Oct. 13.

An earlier story in the series of notable Northwest theaters described the Chinese theater and its background in Oregon. Later sketches will deal with other historic theaters of the region.

The stories have grown from a series written for the Oregon Historical Quarterly, in which the history of Eugene theaters and other stage annals of the state were reviewed.

Exhibit To Tell Story of Venice

A photographic exhibition, "Venice," prepared by the editors of Life magazine, will be shown at the University library from October 15 to November 1.

The display consists of 24 enlarged panels, which tell the story of Venice in pictures. This exhibit is an expansion of the article on Renaissance Venice which appeared in Life magazine recently.

Pi Lamda Theta Plans Luncheon

The local chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, national women's educational society, will hold a luncheon at the Osburn hotel Friday. All members who wish to attend are requested to sign at the bulletin board inside the main entrance of the education building.
