

Appointments Get Approval From President

The appointments of Cyrus E. Anderson and Ray Hawk as special counselors attached to the University dean of men's office have been approved by President Harry K. Newburn.

Hawk will act primarily as counselor to freshmen and new students at the University, especially on problems of scholarship.

Advice will be offered by Anderson to students who's grade averages have fallen below 2.00 and are on the verge of being disqualified from further registering at the University.

Students Get Help

According to Dr. Vergil S. Fogdall, the addition of the two counselors to the University staff are designed as a factor in helping many sub - marginal students get back on their feet scholastically.

"We feel that the chief purpose of this office is to help men succeed at this college," Fogdall declared.

U.O. Graduate

Hawk is a graduate of the University, and held the position of physical education instructor and coach at Grants Pass high school. He spent four years during World War II as an officer in charge of recreation in Europe and outlying areas.

Anderson has a background of extensive experience in the public schools of Jacksonville, Florida. During the war he was a Lt.-commander with the naval air command. He was in charge of setting up a naval training school at Astoria, Oregon.

Public Speaking Bureau Opens

University students who have had unusual personal experiences while in military service or in other connections with affairs of current interest, or who are particularly well informed on current affairs and who desire an opportunity to discuss these matters before public audiences throughout the state are asked to contact E. Ray Nichols, Jr. of the speech and drama department.

As in years past, the department is sponsoring the speaker bureau, offering a public information and education service along with its individual speaker's training program.

This year the speakers' bureau activity will be expanded to a year-around basis with engagements for speaking fall and winter terms added to the previously established spring-term engagements. Students eligible for participation must be better than average in speaking ability and may frequently draw upon personal background for their topic matter.

New Social Hall Built on Campus

A former officer's recreation building from Camp Adair is being rapidly completed behind Gerlinger hall. The building is 60 feet by 100 feet and of wood construction. The building will be used for classes until 5 p.m. the first five days of the week. After 5 p.m. and on weekends the facilities will be available for social functions.

Persons or organizations wishing to use the hall may make reservations by contacting Dick Williams, educational activities manager, Golda P. Wickham, dean of women. There is a kitchen in conjunction with the hall for the use of those who use the hall for social activities.

Driver's Licences Expire This Month

Robert S. Farrell Jr., secretary of state, has announced that all Oregon drivers' licenses numbered below 5R-132,000 are void, and license numbers between 5R-132,000 and 5R-165,000 will expire this month. "No individual motorist will receive a mailed notice when his license expires," Farrell said. "He must apply of his own accord at the right time."

All drivers' permits issued before June, 1947 bear the "5R" prefix. Schedules showing the date of expiration of these permits are available free from service stations, police stations, sheriffs' offices, and driver's license clerks and examiners.

Road checks of licenses are being continued. "There is no point in delaying your application," a license spokesman said, "since a new license will expire at the same time, regardless of whether taken out on the proper date."

Dance Decorations To Be Inspected

Before any house dance can be held on the campus, the bureau of fire prevention must inspect the decorations and give its approval. Ordinance No. 8874 gives the fire marshal authority to order hazardous decorations or conditions removed before the holding of any public gathering.

The bureau receives a calendar each week of the coming activities on the campus and each house or dormitory will be inspected before its social function.

A person in charge of a house can be held liable for criminal negligence should a fire occur and someone lose his life as a result of using flammable decorations.

Quiet Room Sought By Language Prof.

The University language department will lose a professor this week if a warm, quiet room with private bath and permission to prepare "a pot of tea now and then" is not found immediately.

Plea for such a place, where the professor may write and study in comfort and without interruption, was made today through Mrs. Alice Macduff, director of off-campus housing. Information leading to a home for the instructor may be given Mrs. Macduff, she said.

Frosh Line Holds

Coach Carl Heldt's team held the losers to a plus-seven yards gained for the first three quarters of play. Standing out in the line for the Frosh were Daniels, Bill O'Hara and Bill Marker, while the backfield combination of Stelle, Sullivan, Morriston and Hanns handled the offensive well.

Two injuries, one slight and one quite serious, were suffered by the Oregon yearlings as Dick Morrison injured his knee to such an extent that may keep him on the sidelines for two or three weeks, and Doug Coghill twisted his ankle and had to leave the game.
