

Eugene and vicinity, cloudy today with scattered showers probable; little temperature change.

Following are the Emerald phone numbers: editor's office, 351; news office, 353; business office, 354.

Emphasis On Religion Oct. 27-31

Dr. George Hedley Scheduled Speaker For Religious Week

Guest speakers have been contacted and complete arrangements made for every part of Religious Evaluation Week, October 27 to 31, according to Barbara Borrevik, student chairman of the yearly event. Dr. George Hedley will be the main speaker of the week, Miss Borrevik has announced.

The purpose of the week is to bring students closer to the religious aspect of our day and present to them in concrete form, problems and questions of the present day world concerning religion.

One of the outstanding parts of the week's program is the classroom talks by the visiting speakers. Besides Dr. Hedley, Robert Dann, Dr. Warren Tomlinson and Rabbi Aaron Levey will appear in various classes for talks.

Classroom Lectures

Talks in class will be included in schedules such as Dr. Hedley's speech in Dr. Ballaine's 10 a.m. economics class. Dr. Hedley will stress religion as related to economic labor problems.

Besides the classroom lectures there will be individual conferences (Please turn to page three)

Students Offered Outlet for Drawing

Art students interested in designing Christmas cards now have an outlet for their talent, John E Witteveen of the Eugene Picture Press announced Monday. Students capable of hand painting cards in practical quantities are offered a commercial outlet for their work.

Samples on 3 1/4 by 5 1/4 inch stock can be submitted to the Picture Press and they will be included in their regular sample book.

Co-ed 'Fraternity' First On Campus

"Take the sting out of penicillin!" is the rallying cry of the Shoota Thighs, new all-infirmary "fraternity."

Founded last Friday evening in ward 3, the organization's by-laws set five penicillin shots as the requirement for pledging. The initiate must have received 20 shots.

President of the group is Mary Ann Lynch, with 72 shots to her credit. Other members include Gloria Harrington and Edith Mays. Two pledges, Beverly Rohrer and Gloria Grenfell, will have completed requirements by Tuesday, an official spokesman announced.

Although Shoota Thigh is classified as a "fraternity," no male candidates have applied for membership yet.

Accident Injures Two Students Eugene Bound

Two University of Oregon students were injured, one man killed and another man injured in an automobile accident on highway 99W near Amity Sunday, according to state police.

Dead is Ernest F. Waterhouse, Portland. Injured are Tom Burbee, junior in architecture; Laurence Christian, junior in journalism; and Patrick Sullivan, Portland, a passenger with Waterhouse.

Sullivan is injured critically. Burbee is reported to have incurred head and hand lacerations, and Christian face injuries, but further information on their condition could not be obtained at this time.

State police said that the car driven by Waterhouse apparently attempted to pass another car, and was unable to return to the correct lane before striking the auto believed to be driven by Burbee. Burbee and Christian were returning to the University from Portland.

UO Students Facing Difficult Selection in Vote at Co-op

After all eliminations had taken place, five charming coeds were remaining in the Homecoming Hostess race. Left to right, they are Sally Watson, Carol Bartel, Gladys Hale, Joan Larue and Zeta Sinclair. (Emerald photo by Kirk Braun)

Five Beauties Vie in Hostess Balloting Today

University students will face a difficult decision today as they trek to the polls to select the 1947 Homecoming hostess from a field of five lovely finalists—survivors of an elimination judging last week.

Polling tables will be set up in the Co-op and will be open from 9 a.m. until noon, and from 1 until 5 p.m. Students must present their student body cards to vote in today's election.

The five candidates are:

Zeta Sinclair, sophomore in liberal arts and a member of Delta Gamma.

Carol Bartel, freshman in art from Gerlinger hall.

Sally Watson, junior in liberal arts from Hendricks hall.

Gladys Hale, junior in sociology and a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Joan Larue, junior in art and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

The winner today will be the official hostess throughout Homecoming weekend, November 21 and 22. She will be present at all functions, including the Oregon-Oregon State football game Saturday afternoon. Last year's hostess was Dawn Carson, a junior this year in liberal arts.

To aid students in voting today, pictures of each of the candidates will be placed near the polls in the Co-op, according to Jackie Wachhorst, chairman of the hostess contest.

Fellowship to Meet

A student-participation program will feature the regular weekly meeting of the Inter-Varsity Christian fellowship in the dining room of John Straub hall tonight at 7.

Warren Webster, junior in general social science, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Noel Coward Act by Freshman To Highlight First Guild Play

By PAT KING

Freshman Don Smith has taken time out from being a journalism major to obey the call of his second love—acting, and will satirize Noel Coward in the forthcoming University Guild play "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Although he refers to his interest in dramatics as "dabbling," past records prove that he has done considerably more than dabble. Active in plays at Franklin high school in Portland, he also played leading roles in the Portland junior civic theater and appeared on KBPS, student radio station.

In the summer of 1946 he was the only Oregon student awarded a scholarship to the national high school institute of speech at Northwestern where he studied in the radio division.

Don was also editor of the All-American Franklin Post, which substantiates his claim to journalism. On campus he is affiliated (Please turn to page three)

Grads Meet Tonight

Graduate students from all departments will meet in alumni hall of Gerlinger at 7 p.m. today. The forming of a graduate student organization will be discussed at this time.

SIGN CHAIRMEN TO MEET

Homecoming sign chairman from all living organizations will meet in alumni hall of Gerlinger at 4 p.m. today, according to Chairman Wally Turnidge.

Stubble Contest to Follow Betty-Joe Selection

Betty Coed finalists are pictured, left to right; front row: Jackie Wachhorst, and Carol Handeline; back row: Marilyn Anderson, Ann Hoch, Phyllis Morgan, and Annie Bennett. (Emerald photo by Kirk Braun)

The typical Joe College and Betty Coed will be voted upon in the traditional way, according to sophomore Whiskerino committee chairmen, who announced voting methods yesterday. With the purchase of tickets, each couple attending the dance will be provided with ballots.

These ballots, which are on the stubs of the tickets, properly marked for the dancer's choice for the all-college couple, must be placed in the boxes provided at McArthur court before the first intermission, and the winners will be announced and presented later in the evening.

Tickets went on sale this week through representatives in all men's living organizations. Price of the tickets is $2.40 per couple.

Beards will be judged and shaved during the first intermission, and the sophomore man with the bushiest, longest and heaviest beard will receive a cup, according to Jim Wallace, class vice-president and co-chairman of the dance.

The six finalists in the Joe College contest are, left right: front row; Carl Bugge, Bob Rasmussen, and Joe Miller. Back row; Perry Holloman, Harry Nyland, and Jim Bartelt. Voting will take place at the dance. (Photo by Kirk Braun)