

IM Football Crown Won by Sigma Nu

By ED ARTZT

Pounding viciously away at each other in a rough and rugged thrill jammed battle that heard more official's whistles than a bathing beauty contest, Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega played off the final round of the 1947 Intramural Football Championships yesterday afternoon. Sigma Nu toted home the coveted crown after hacking out a hard earned 6-0 victory.

Both teams were rolling under full steam every second of the game. The busiest men on the field were the three officials, who paced off a neat eighty yards in penalties before the final gun sounded.

Brown Scores

Roger Dick's third quarter aerial to Merse Brown spelled doom for the defending champions from Alpha Tau Omega. The lone tally came after two-and-a-half quarters of air tight football. ATO Ramsey Fendall connected with pass after pass, but the Sigma Nu defense wasn't issuing end zone tickets to the Tau's.

A scoreless but red hot first half saw Sigma Nu displaying the tougher offense. The ATO crew couldn't keep the pigskin out of their half of the gridiron, due more than once to the powerful toe of Sigma Nu flash, Dick Wilkins.

ATOs Fight Back

When the third quarter got under way, a revitalized Tau club bounced back and started turning on the heat. Fendall connected twice to Lynn Hamilton for a sizeable hunk of yardage and the first ATO first down. Fendall fired a high one to Mo Thomas. Thomas juggled the ball and Johnny Kovenz streaked through to intercept for Sigma Nu and galloped from his own 40 to the ATO 25 yard-stripe.

An ill-timed shoving penalty against Alpha Tau Omega pushed the ball down to the 10 yard-line. Three plays later Roger Dick tossed to Merse Brown for the big six. Dick's attempted conversion flip to Jim Bartelt was unsuccessful.

Vandals Scrimmage

MOSCOW, Ida., Oct. 21—Coach Dixie Howell put his University of Idaho gridders through a drill on blocking assignments today after observing the Vandals looked ragged on fundamentals against Portland university. The team ran through a dummy scrimmage, with heavy scrimmages on the slate for the rest of the week.

Cougars Regain Back

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 21—Rains finally let up here today permitting the Washington State grid team to engage in full-scale drills for the Montana game here Saturday. With halfback Jerry Williams on the mend, the Cougars are expected to be at full strength against the Grizzlies.

Pacific Coast Football Briefs

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 21—Coach Lynn Waldorf today installed a new set of plays for California's unbeaten football team to spring against Southern California here Saturday in the west coast's "game of the year."

The Bears ran through a dummy defensive scrimmage against USC plays, and Waldorf admitted they "looked all right." He said the Bears should enter the game as underdogs, however.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21—USC's first string fullback, John Rossetto, out with a sprained back since the Washington State game, looked good in his first scrimmage today, as he joined the Trojans in practicing defense against California plays.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21—For the second consecutive day, Coach Bert LaBrucherie stressed pass defense as he prepared his UCLA Bruins for the aerial attack he expects Southern Methodist to launch here Saturday. The Bruins went through a rough scrimmage in which they also polished their own passing attack.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 21—The battered Oregon State college football Beavers were still licking their wounds today after the 48 to 6 loss suffered at the hands of Southern California. They offered no alibis, although it was suggested that the sudden change from soggy Oregon practice fields to the fast turf of the coliseum may have hindered the northerners.

SEATTLE, Oct. 21—Coach Ralph Welch reshuffled his University of Twelve teams of the 1947 volleyball league will vie this afternoon on the Men's P.E. building courts in the fall volleyball opener. For two weeks this colorful sport will take the limelight in intramural play.

Some rules and information set down for this year's IM schedule are as follows: 1. All games will be played on Courts 40 and 43 in the Men's Physical Education building. 2. Games will begin at 3:50, 4:35, or 5:15, and forfeits may be declared if teams are five minutes late. 3. No postponements are permitted. 4. Although a team consists of six players, fewer contestants may start a game. 5. A player may move from a (B) team to an (A) team at any time. However, once a player starts on an (A) team he is no longer eligible for a (B) team. 6. All spectators must be seated and off the playing floor.

Washington Huskies here today in hopes of strengthening them for the Stanford tussle Saturday, when the coast conference cellar berth will go on the block.

Welch spent considerable time today drilling a backfield made up of Gerry Austin, Gordie Hungar, Fred Provo and Herb Harlow, with Joe Stone alternating at quarterback.

Forrest Hall Stars For San Francisco

Four Added to Hoop Turnout

Basketball coach John Warren sent 31 squad hopefuls through another steaming practice session yesterday, with the turnout swelled by the addition of four men.

The new candidates were Kenny Seeborg, JV performer last season; Don Kimball, Frosh first-stringer; Hans Wold, a junior hailing from Custer, S. Dak.; and Dick Bryant.

Kimball was the casualty of the workout, knocking two teeth loose in a collision with Jim Bocchi. Kimball, at the time of the accident, was working the three man pass-weave when he collided full-tilt into Bocchi.

Yesterday's workout was somewhat of a let-up after Monday's rugged session, although the men were sent through the usual never-let-up running tactics. In addition, the candidates sharpened up their shooting eyes, and practiced working the ball down-court at top speed while doing the chest pass, dribble, and bounce pass.

When the University of San Francisco Dons come to grips with Oregon next Saturday, they will have in their ranks a player who last year set what is probably the greatest single record for individual game performance seen on the West Coast. Their fair-haired lad is highly publicized Forrest Hall, USF left halfback.

The All-Coast Hall, nicknamed "Scooter," last year almost equalled an all-time record of Red Grange. In the Kansas State-San Francisco game last fall, "Scooter" carried the ball five times, made four touchdowns and one conversion, to singlehandedly ring up 25 points. Grange's record stands at five tallies for five carries.

Hall also set a new gridiron record with his kickoff returns during the '46 season. In seven games he returned 15 kickoffs for 602 yards. His average was 40.1 yards. Three of these kickoff returns resulted in touchdowns. One was 99 yards against Stanford, another for 86 yards against Santa Clara and the third for 81 yards through the Kansas State team.

A "mighty mite" of 155-pounds, Hall was one of the ten highest scorers in the nation during 1946, running up a total of 78 points.
