Chess Master Plays Exhibition Games

Chess master Weaver P. Adams played two exhibition games with members of the University chess club for the benefit of 25 students and Eugeneans Monday night in Commerce hall. Adams defeated Alvin Weibe and Shubert Fendrich in the two and a half hour contest. George Swift, club president, recorded the games. Adams, one of the nations outstanding professional chess players, is now on a tour of the West coast, and is proceeding to California. His appearance was sponsored by the Educational activities board.

YWCA Schedules Vocational Speech

Mrs. William Fort, manager of Fort and Company, will speak on buying and selling of retail clothing to the sophomore commission of the YWCA at 6:30 tonight, according to chairman Zeta Sinclair.

This is a second in a series of speeches on vocational guidance sponsored by the Y. Members of other classes have been invited to attend. Plans have been made for a questioning period and discussion of likely vocations.

Catholic Group Appoints Heads

Newly appointed committee members of the Newman club are Dick Logan, co-membership head; Larry Cushing, senior in law, member at large; and Frank Mahula, junior in music, co-social committee head.

Joe Conroy, junior in business administration, has received the Newman club key, a national honor awarded to one member only from each Newman club chapter.

Dr. Orlando J. Hollis, dean of the University of Oregon school of law, has been appointed to the committee of participation by lawyers as citizens in public affairs by the American Bar association.

Parties Held By Honoraries

Two fall invitational rushing parties were held by Mu Phi Epsilon women's music honorary, Tuesday night at the Alpha Gamma Delta house.

At each party, 7:30 and 9 p.m., a program was presented by chapter members. The program consisted of piano solos given by Helen Hudson and Joanne Twedt, bass viol numbers by Dorothea Shaer, accompanied by Elizabeth Pollock at the piano, and vocal pieces by Claire Lewis.

Refreshments were cake and coffee.

Heading the program, bid and refreshments committees were Pat Hendricks, Marie Peery and Lina Lou Pope, respectively.

Pepsi-Cola Offers Awards to Seniors

Seniors who wish to apply for a Pepsi-Cola fellowship award may obtain application forms at the graduate school office, 200 Fenton instead of from the dean of their individual colleges as reported in the October 21 Emerald. Application forms may also be obtained by writing to the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, 532 Emerson St., Palo Alto, California.

EASY MONEY DEPARTMENT

Sing a song of sixpence, pockets full of dough. Here's the way you'll get it from Pepsi-Cola Co. Make us laugh... if you can. We'll pay you $1, $2, $3... as much as $15 for stuff we accept — and print. Think of it. You can retire. (As early as 9 P. M. if you like.) You don't have to mention Pepsi-Cola but that always makes us smile. So send in your jokes and gags to Easy Money Dept., Box B. Pepsi-Cola Co., Long Island City, N. Y.

The very next day you may receive a de-luxe radio-phonograph combination and a nine-room prefabricated house. It won't be from us. We'll just send you money if we feel like it. Easy Money, too.

Little Moron Corner

Mohair Moron, the upholsterer's son, was found huddled up and shivering in his refrigerator one day. He explained by saying, "I was th-thirsty for a P-pepsi-C-cola and was t-told it should be d-drunk when cold. Now I can drink it. I'm c-c-cold!"

You don't have to be a moron to write these... but it helps. $2 for each accepted we'll pay you, and not a penny more.

EXTRA ADDED ATTRACTION

At the end of the year we're going to review all the stuff we buy, and the item we think was best of all is going to get an extra

$100.00

—HE-SHE GAGS—

If you're a "he" or a "she" (as we suspect) writing HE-SHE jokes should be a cinch for you. If you're not a "he" or a "she" don't bother. Anyway, if you're crazy enough to give us gags like these, we might be crazy enough to pay you a few bucks for them.

* * *
 He: Give me a kiss and I'll buy you a Pepsi-Cola... or something.

She: Correction. Either you'll buy me a Pepsi... or nothing!

 He: When a man leans forward eagerly, lips parted, thirsting for loveliness, don't you know what to do?

She: Sure, give him a Pepsi-Cola.

 He ghost: I'm thirsty. Let's go haunt the Pepsi-Cola plant.

She ghost: That's the spirit!

$3.00 (three bucks) we pay for stuff like this, if printed. We are not ashamed of ourselves, either!

CUTE SAYINGS of KIDDIES

(age 16 to 19 plus)

A famous sage has said that people are funnier than anybody. If that's true, all you'd have to do would be listen to what the kiddies are saying, write it down, send it in, and we'd love it. It's true. It might be, for all we know, we haven't the slightest idea.

GET FUNNY... WIN MONEY... WRITE A TITLE

This is easier than taking candy away from a baby. And less squawking. Maybe you don't want to be rich, but just force yourself. You'll like it. And, if we like the title you write for this cartoon we'll force ourselves to give you $5. Or if you send us your own cartoon idea we'll up it to $10. For a cartoon that you draw yourself, we'll float a loan and send you $15 if we print it. Could you expect any more? Yes, you could expect.

cept. Chances are it would be things like these unless we get some sense.

"My George, who will just be 17 on next Guy Fawkes Day, had his appendix removed last month. When the doctor asked him what kind of stitching he'd like to have, George said, 'suture self, doctor'."

"Elmer Treestump says his girl Sagebrush, only 22¼, brings a bottle of Pepsi-Cola along on every date for protection. She tells everybody, 'that's my Pop!'"

$1 each for acceptable stuff like this.
