

The Weather

Eugene and vicinity, partly cloudy with rain today; moderate southerly winds; no temperature change.

OREGON DAILY EMERALD

Prove It
Oregon has a fighting football team. Prove that you're behind them. Attend tonight's rally.

VOLUME XLIX

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1947

NUMBER 29

Wages of Sin is Water

At a mid-week preview of today's noon-time festivities Skull and Dagger men administered a hair-growing treatment in a special portable bathtub in front of the Side. Whiskering high sheriff, Jack Schnaidt, and his henchmen report that the pictured treatment has been proven highly effective in the promotion of facial hair. (Photo by Kirk Braun.)

Beardless Sophomores Face Tubbing by Skull and Dagger

'Twas before the Whiskering, and in front of the Side, the tub was awaitin' those who didn't abide.

Five violators of the sophomore "no shave" edict will report in front of the Side for their dunking

Ross Yates Lists 4 New Features For Oregana

Seven new living organizations and an increased number of clubs will be represented in the 1948 Oregana Ross Yates, editor, said yesterday.

Featured in the book will be:

1. 16-page duo-tone section,
2. Full-color cover,
3. Three two-page color inserts, and
4. Second-color work in the living organization section.

The sports section and schools section will be enlarged over last year. And entirely new traditions section will be incorporated in the yearbook. This feature is under the direction of Howard Ramey, special features editor, and Mart Pond, assistant features editor.

Yates explained that a 16-page decrease on the over-all size of the book has been necessitated by an approximate 10 per cent price raise. The 1948 edition will contain 424 pages.

An earlier decision was made to give each living organization one instead of two pages as in former books. "Consequently, no aspect of campus life will suffer a cut because of the page decrease," Yates said.

Payment for Pictures

All social chairmen of living organizations who want their pictures in the Oregana, are asked to have the house representatives pay 75 cents to the dean of women by November 1.

Or Would You Rather Be A Pig?

If your name is Smith you're causing trouble. You and 57 other Smiths are worrying Howard Ramey and his Piggers Guide staff whose job it is to have accurate addresses and telephone numbers with each name in the student directory. To make matters worse, there are two Dons, Johns, Harolds, and Roberts among the 58 Smiths.

Another Piggers Guide obstacle is Robert Gordon Brown. There are two of him!

Despite Smiths, Browns, and other difficulties, Ramey said yesterday that the directory is rapidly developing and will soon be completed.

Eugene Rally Set for Tonight By Webfooters

Tonight at 7:15, Oregon students will twist and turn down Eugene's streets on their way to a new-type pre-game football rally, sponsored by the Webfooters, for Oregon's game with San Francisco university tomorrow.

The rally itself, to last approximately 20 minutes, will be staged in downtown Eugene, where the rally squad will lead Oregon fight songs and yells. Living organizations have been paired for the rally, with the men to meet the women and assemble for the serpentine between 12th and 13th on Alder at 7:15.

Police Escort

The University pep band, rally squad and a police motorcycle escort will lead the serpentine down Alder to Eleventh, down Eleventh to Oak, down Oak to Eighth, down Eighth to Willamette and up Willamette to Tenth.

This serpentine rally will serve as a test of Oregon spirit, and if it proves successful, the plan will be used in the future, according to Yell King Johnny Backlund.

Backlund again requested that all living organizations paint signs, men wear their rooter's lids and women carry pom poms.

Living organization pairings were listed on page eight of yesterday's Emerald. Alpha Gamma Delta and Kappa Sigma were omitted from the list.

Turnidge Gives Contest Rules

Rules for the Homecoming sign contest Friday, November 21, were released yesterday by Wally Turnidge, contest chairman.

All themes for signs must be turned in to Turnidge at the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity house by 4 p.m. next Monday. In submitting them each organization should also include an alternate theme in case of duplication.

A maximum limit of $20 has been set on this year's signs. An itemized budget must be turned in to Turnidge by November 20. All signs should be completed and up by 4:30 November 21 to be eligible for judging.

Cups will be presented for the best signs in both the men's and women's divisions.

Kaufman, Hart Comedy Opens on Guild Stage This Evening at Eight

With Clifton James in the leading role of Sheridan Whitesides, "The Man Who Came to Dinner" will open on the University theater guild stage in Johnson hall at 8 tonight.

The play, a crackling satire of modern manners and the chief literary figures of the times, is dedicated by Authors George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart to "Alexander Woolcott—for reasons which are nobody's business." The script is an unashamed broadside aimed at the vitriolic "Town Cryer."

In addition to James, Geraldine Hettinger, Don Smith, Bob Over, Jane Cordiner, Walter Payne, Patricia White, Ron Phillips, Emelie Jackull, Diane Barnhart, Jeanette Grant, Sally Nicol, Charles Boice, Elton Allen, Virginia Woods, William Alley, James Sorum, Marie DiLoreto, Lavern Taylor, and Dick Monnie will appear in the drama.

The play, originally scheduled for October 24, 25, 29, 30, 31, and November 1, will be performed two additional nights, November 7 and 8, Marge Ramey, business manager, announced yesterday. A sell-out within three days after general admission sales opened indicated that box office records will be broken, Mrs. Ramey said.

Tickets are now on sale at the box office in Johnson hall from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. On dates when the show will be played, the office will remain open from 1 p.m. until curtain time.

Chapter Selects Junior Delegate

Hans Wold, junior in journalism, will represent the local chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, at its national convention in Washington, D. C., Nov. 11, 12, and 13.

Sigma Delta Chi is the largest professional journalistic group. Delegates to its conventions come from all undergraduate chapters.

Last year's convention was held at the Hotel Stevens in Chicago. The Oregon chapter was not represented at the convention.

Prominent speakers will give addresses, national officers will be elected, and policy determined at the Washington meeting.

Local chapter president is Ross Yates. Lyle Nelson is adviser.

French Republic In Fast Tailspin Wright Asserts

By DIANA DYE

"France is in the midst of the first tail spin since liberation," declared Dr. Gordon Wright, first speaker of the 1947-48 University lecture series, when he spoke to a capacity crowd in Chapman hall last night on the "Anatomy of the Fourth French Republic."

When the Vichy government crumbled and the French government was reorganized after the close of the war, hopes in France for a new republic were high, he said. Everyone was tired of the negative compromise of the Third republic and 94 per cent of the people voted against revision of this republic.

Wanted Clean Slate

The people wanted to start with a clean slate and hoped for a finer, more solid government with solidarity shown in the political parties, according to Dr. Wright.

By 1947, this enthusiasm had been replaced by doubt for many reasons, he said. It might have been the rise of the communists; it might have been DeGaulle; it might have been the failure of the democratic leaders to make the government effective; and it may have been the sheer cussedness of the people, he speculated.

The basic fact, added the speaker, was that the republic was factious and built underground. In reality it had to be built on deep divisions. There was a choice of ignoring the divisions, of one-half building the republic and forcing the rest to follow, or a compromise solution in the middle, he reiterated. The compromise was the only

(Please turn to page three)

Truman Calls for Special Session

WASHINGTON, (UP)—President Truman Thursday called congress into special session November 17 to combat "alarming and continuing" high prices and the crisis in western Europe.

The president said the increased cost of living "is causing hardship to millions of American families and endangering the prosperity and welfare of the entire nation."

It is also necessary for this government to take adequate steps to meet the crisis in western Europe," he added in a new and broadened appeal for emergency foreign relief.

The president then announced that he would tell the nation in a broadcast at 10 p.m. EST today about these "two compelling reasons" for convening a special session—the 26th in the country's history. His decision to put congress back to work seven weeks ahead of its regular session schedule was handed to republican and democratic leaders of the senate and house at an hour-long emergency conference yesterday afternoon. Previously, he had talked it over with his cabinet for two and a half hours.

PRES. HARRY TRUMAN

He said the foreign aid—particularly for France and Italy—could not wait until January.

"It now appears," Truman told his news conference, "that the minimum needs of France can be met with present funds only until about the end of December, and that it will enter the new year without funds to pay for essential imports."

"Italy's needs are even more immediate, for Italy will require substantial assistance before the end of this year."