CHICAGO, Oct. 30. American League club owners were summoned today for a meeting which may determine whether Commissioner A.B. (Happy) Chandler or Leslie O'Connor and the club he runs, the Chicago White Sox, remain in baseball. William Harbridge, president of the league, called the meeting for Cleveland tomorrow amid indications that the case had developed into a last ditch fight between Chandler and the man who was known as baseball's legal brains during the long tenure of the late Judge Kenneth Mountain Landis.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., today rejected a Democratic plea to put a "non-partisan cooperation" tag on the special session of congress. The chairman of the senate Republican policy committee and top-ranking contender for the 1948 GOP presidential nomination scoffed at the idea of a bi-partisan approach to the domestic features of President Truman's twin program on high prices at home and emergency aid for Europe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. The government today charged 17 leading investment banking firms and the investment bankers association with conspiring to eliminate competition in the sale of new stocks and bonds. The bankers said the charge was "utter nonsense" and that the justice department was "politically motivated" in attacking Wall street.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. The heavy cruisers USS Los Angeles and USS Bremerton will be laid away in the "mothball" fleet because the navy hasn't the personnel to run them, Vice Admiral George D. Murray, comdr. of the first task fleet said today. The deactivation will take place in San Francisco, where both ships will arrive November 15.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. Two CIO longshoremen's union locals today condemned the house un-American activities committee as an "ill disguised instrument for native Fascists," and termed Chairman Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R., N.M.) a "Quisling." The resolutions were adopted last night by 9,500 members of locals 10 and 6 of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union.

SHEMYA, Aleutian Islands, Oct. 30. Globe girdling Clifford Evans and George Truman tonight were ready for a dawn take-off on the first leg of their perilous 1,700 mile journey along the Aleutian island chain to Anchorage, Alaska. Winds as high as 50 miles-an-hour lashed the Aleutians today delaying the take-off of the Piper cub flyers, but the storm center passed to the eastward of Adak and winds were calming tonight.

FRANKFORT, Germany, Oct. 30.—Establishment of a central political government in the non-soviet zones of Germany will be favored by British as well as American occupational authorities should the forthcoming big four conference in London fail to consolidate Germany as a unit at least economically. It is generally assumed that the French would agree, especially as administration of their zone as a separate unit is a growing strain.

LIVERMORE, Cal., Oct. 30.—Fifty-five college pilots will compete here Saturday in the first annual Pacific coast intercollegiate air meet.

Former military combat flyers top the entrants from five western colleges who will match skill at six events ranging from dive bombing and balloon-busting to spot-landing competitions. California, Stanford, UCLA, San Jose State and Washington will be represented.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30. Millionaire plane designer Howard Hughes tonight announced he would launch his giant 200-ton flying boat Saturday morning at Los Angeles harbor. The $23,000,000 flying boat will be floated from its graving dock at Terminal island to undergo dockside tests for several hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—One of the nation's leading professors of medicine today averred as how Americans might as well cooperate with the president's food saving program because thousands die each year from overeating. Dr. Paul Dudley White, professor of medicine at Harvard Medical school, said at a press conference of the American heart association, that the big trouble with Americans is not malnutrition.

Campus Clothes Ordered

Nila Dessinger, AWS social chairman, announced that campus clothes will be in order for women at the Oregon-Idaho game to be played Saturday, November 1, at Hayward Field, Eugene.

Dr. Tyler Writes Psychology Book

"The Psychology of Human Differences" is the title of the book written by Dr. Leona Tyler, assistant professor of psychology, for use as a text in her classes at the University. Published by Appleton-

Century this month, the book is on sale at the Co-op for $3.75.

Dr. Tyler has taught at Oregon since 1940 and has been working on the book, her first, for two years. The text deals with differences between various groups, such as races, social classes, and sexes; factors of individual differences—physical, hereditary; and other relative subjects.
