

Program to Air Eat-Less Plan

President Truman's food-conservation program will be the subject of an editorial conference on the 4 p.m. Monday University radio workshop program over station KOAC.

Three members of the school of journalism, including Marvin Meyers and Kay Richardson, will hold a "city room" discussion of the conservation program, reading clippings from newspapers and from the teletypes. The program will be produced by Virginia Avery.

Campus recital for Monday's broadcast will feature two pianists, Wilma Jeanne Wilson and Wallace Hornibrook, from the school of music. Miss Wilson will play Beethoven's Sonata number 1, while Hornibrook's selections will be Schumann's "Des Abends" and Dohnanyi's "Rhapsody in C-Major." John Tasnady of the radio staff will direct the musical program.

Concluding the broadcast will be "World in Review," a quarter-hour discussion of world affairs by Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the business administration school.

Howard to Speak On Military Topic

The Wesley House Sunday evening forum this week will cover "Christian Attitudes Toward Compulsory Military Training." Dr. Charles Howard, law school professor, will speak and lead the discussion period.

A buffet supper will start at 5:30 p.m., followed by the forum at 6:30 p.m. All students are invited to attend.

Lewis Award Renewed

Reactivation of the Ion Lewis scholarship in architecture was announced this week by Sidney W. Little, dean of the school of architecture and allied arts.

The scholarships are available to advanced students in architecture in the University, and are supported by a trust fund established by the late Ion Lewis of Portland. The scholarship committee stated that reactivation would not take place until the summer of 1948.

PREFABS

Prefabricated houses made of straw have for the first time been exported from Sweden and are now being erected in Belgium.
