

Sammies Free Amazons from Zoo

Two major undefeated volleyball powers, the Alpha Phi Amazons and the Sigma Alpha Mu Dwarfs, will play off a fiery challenge game, Saturday at 11 a.m. at Gerlinger hall. The Phi's challenged the Sammies to the contest with the stipulation that the victors enjoying orange crush at the expense of the vanquished. Captain Barbara Kafoury has placed the rugged Phi's on training table under the observation of manager, Shorty Potter. Naming their battle garb as plaid shirts and jeans, the Alpha Phi juggernaut has issued the statement, "We are out to win!"

Some of the Phi athletes under this rigorous training program who will see action in Saturday's game are Boots Jackson, Thweetie Strickland, Maggie Wells, Joanne Frydenlund, Marigale Lund, Maryanne Hansen, Gerry Fraser, and a host of other promising volleyball artists.

Jack Hecht will captain the Sigma Alpha Mu crew in action, and plans to substitute freely in hopes of meeting the grueling pace set by the Alpha Phi's. Herb Black, Sammie trainer, announced, "This is where conditioning pays off." Probable starters will be Don Londer, Jerry Barde, Ed Artzt, Sam Benton, Lee Benveniste, and Vic Menashe.

Mid-terms Mar Park Attendance

Attendance at Skinner's Butte and Hendricks Park in Eugene during October dropped far below that of September, the park and recreation bureau announced recently.

During September, a total of 4430 persons visited Skinner's Butte, but only about 2000 attended last month. Compared with 3600 in September, the attendance at Hendricks Park was 1400 in October.

Reasoning from this tidbit of news, the campus coffee drinkers offer the opinion that mid-terms are responsible for turning the September socialite into an attic hermit.

US Eastern Policy Discussed Tonight

"The American Far Eastern Policy" will be discussed tonight by Dr. Paul C. Dull, associate professor of political science, before the One World Club at 8 p.m. in the YMCA.

Dr. Dull was with the marines in Japan and served with the OWI on sending broadcasts to the Far East.

Club members should be present at 7:45 for discussions of the CARE packages and this term's social event.

Noise Parade Drawing Today

Representatives of all living organizations must be on hand for the drawing of partners for the Homecoming noise parade at the meeting today in room 207 Chapman hall, according to Ed Anderson, noise parade chairman. Roll call of organizations will be taken at 4 p.m.

Reserves to Meet Tonight in 107 PE

Lt. Commander Jane Blogg from the Seattle Wave procurement office, 13th naval district, will be in charge of a meeting of Wave reserves, to be held in 107 PE building at 7:30 tonight.

The purpose of this meeting will be to activate a Wave reserve unit in Eugene. Lt. Com. Blogg will take up any questions concerning veteran status and Wave status. All ex-Waves are asked to attend the meeting as well as Wave reserves.

Oregana Contracts Need Signatures

Campus clubs and honoraries must have contracts for yearbook space signed by the end of this week, the Oregana business staff announced Tuesday. They also requested that living organizations pay for their space by November 15.

For students who have not ordered the 1948 Oregana, Olga Yevtich, business manager, said that orders can now be placed in the activities office in McArthur court.

THE National Institute of Diaper Services vetoed a "new look" longer diaper. Apparently diaper men feel that mothers would not welcome an unnecessary change.

It is incredible that the Taft-Reuther presidential slate boomed by a Chicago public relations firm could ever materialize. They're on opposite sides of the fence, and how can you shake hands through pickets?

George Meany of the Plumbers was one of the chief leaders in beating John L. Lewis's anti-Taft-Hartley law policy at the A. F. of L. convention. It must've been a pipe.

Koicho Kido, wartime Hirohito adviser, offered a 150,000-word war crimes trial defense. It all boiled down to two—so sorry.

The Citizens Food Committee suggestion for half-size loaves of bread went stale. The bakers didn't want to play both ends against the middle.
