

The Weather

Cloudy Saturday with occasional light showers, clearing Saturday night and Sunday.

The Editor comments on the department grades released Thursday. See editorial page.

WORLD HEADLINES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. Defense Secretary James Forrestal today disclosed appointment of an inter-service committee to study merging the reserves, national guard and ROTC units of the three armed forces. The move would remove control of the guard from the 48 state governors. The committee has been at work for several weeks but because of the nature of its study it was kept secret.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 7. Argentina charged today that Russia's veto of United Nations membership applications was illegal, and warned that little nations are not pledged to "perpetual slavery to the veto." Meanwhile the United States, charging Russia with "abuse of the veto" in barring majority-approved nations from United Nations membership, suggested tonight that the veto be banned in membership cases.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. The president's food conservation committee today abandoned poultryless Thursdays in favor of a new grain saving program, but it appealed to consumers to keep Thursdays "eggless."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7. Film producer Cecil B. DeMille today readily admitted the presence of some Communists in Hollywood but DeMille told members of the Commonwealth club that "not one major producer . . . would tolerate outright communist propaganda on the screen." The producer denied that Communists control motion pictures and said their influence in films was "subtle and indirect."

Speakers Head For Tournament

The University Symposium team will travel to Portland today to enter in the Willamette Valley Forensic Institute practice tournament.

This contest, to be held at Portland university, is the first Oregon forensic meeting of the year. All colleges in the area are expected to attend.

The debate topic this year is: "Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should Be Established."

The team has been divided into upper and lower division students. Warren Miller and Ralph Teters, and Nancy Petersen and Boyd Petersen make up the two upper division sections and Dorothy Orr and Jim Danielson, and Bruce Nelson and Gordon Cook will be the lower division participants.

In addition to the debate contest, other members of the team will enter in the extemporaneous and impromptu speaking tournaments. Those entered include Viola Duncley, Elizabeth Misner, and Don Tykeson.

Advisors for the group this year are speech professors E.R. Nichols, John Baird and Kirt Montgomery.

Pictures Scheduled

Webfooters and rally squad pictures for the Oregonians will be taken at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in front of the library, Yell King Johnny Backlund has announced.

Modeling new ROTC uniforms are, from left to right, William E. Putnam and Stanley P. Marshall, displaying the senior cadet officer uniforms; and David E. Mortimore, Harold F. Weeks, and Phil L. Green modeling the uniforms of a junior cadet non-commissioned officer, freshman private, and bandsman, respectively.

Maerdian Announces Arrival Of 750 New ROTC Uniforms

By HENRY KAMIN

Over 750 students now enrolled in the reserve officers' training corps at the University are now receiving their new officer-type dress uniforms, Colonel Frank R. Maerdian, professor of military science and tactics has announced.

Typical of the many postwar department of the army improvements designed to increase the scope, effectiveness, and prestige of the reserve officers' training corps, the new dress uniform replaces the traditional olive drab woolen uniform with its distinguishing blue blouse lapels.

Band to Travel To San Francisco

The University 60-piece band, under the direction of John Stehn, will travel to California for the Stanford-Oregon football game next week.

Leaving the campus at 8 a.m. Thursday, the band will make five stops enroute to hold combination parades and street concerts in Roseburg, Grants Pass, Central Point, Ashland and Medford. These street performances were made possible through the cooperation of the local alumni associations in each town.

The troupe will arrive in San Francisco at 4 p.m. Friday in time to participate in an alumni rally that night.

Six minutes of the half at the Saturday game will be allotted the Oregon band, when they will perform as they do at home games, Stehn said.

In charge of the performances along the way is Les Anderson, alumni secretary. Dick Williams, educational activities manager, made arrangements for the trip.

The band has never traveled farther than Portland and Seattle previously.

Robbins to Tell Of British Plight

Edwin C. Robbins, instructor of economics, will be the featured speaker at Westminster house Sunday evening.

The regular coffee hour will start at 6 p.m., followed by Robbins' speech on "Britain's Economic Crisis" at 6:30. The public is invited.

Bus Space Offered Palo Alto Tourists

Space on a chartered Trailways bus is available for students planning to make the trek to Palo Alto for the November 15 football game with Stanford, Marilyn Turner announced yesterday.

Reservations for seats on the bus may be made by contacting Miss Turner at the Pi Beta Phi house. Fare will be $14.68 for the round trip to Palo Alto, via Oakland.

The bus will leave the campus at 6 a.m. November 14 and return November 16.

Dull Analyzes U.S. Attitude In Far East

By JUNE McCONNELL

Democracy, properly instituted and practiced, is a means of solving some of the dilemmas of the world, Dr. Paul S. Dull, assistant professor of political science, said in a discussion of American Far Eastern policies at the One World club meeting Wednesday evening.

"If civilization is to survive, we must start solving some of the dilemmas that now confront us," Dull emphasized. "We pursue a policy of blocking Russia in Japan, Korea, China, the Philippines, and the dependencies of southeast Asia."

In the short-range maneuvering in these countries, he explained, "we more often than not throw our support to internal policies and factions that result in alienating the mass of people from belief in democracy, and throw them on the side of the Russians."

Thus to block Russia now we are endangering, if we have not already.

(Continued from page one)

Language Majors To Meet Monday

Freshmen and sophomores in the college of liberal arts planning to major in foreign languages will meet briefly at 7 p.m. Monday, David M. Dougherty, head of the department of foreign languages, announced yesterday.

A similar meeting for juniors and seniors majoring in foreign languages is scheduled for November 17 at 7 p.m. instead of November 6 as previously announced, he said.

'Vogue' Coeds to Strut

"Miss Vogue" candidates will meet the judges at 6:30 p.m. Monday in alumni hall, Maryann Thielen, president of the local chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, announced yesterday.

Name of this year's "Miss Vogue" will be revealed at the women's national professional journalism fraternity's silver tea Thursday afternoon from 4 to 5:45 p.m.

Qualifications for the selection include general appearance, poise, grooming, good taste, and attractiveness, Miss Thielen said.

At the Monday judging the candidates are to wear heels and short silks according to Nancy Peterson and Trudi Chernis, contest chairmen. The contestants will model their own clothes, which will be representative of the various phases of campus life, at the silver tea.

"Miss Vogue" will receive a full-page picture in the 1948 Oregonian, Ross Yates, Oregonian editor has promised. Winner of last year's contest was Harriet Vanatta of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Proceeds from the silver tea will be used to promote closer relations between University women in journalism and the professional field of women journalists.

All University women, wives of students and faculty members, and high school seniors have been invited to attend. Campus clothes will be in order for the guests, Miss Thielen said.

University Students Rank High

College Who's Who Lists Top Scholars On Oregon Campus

Twenty-five University of Oregon students are listed in the 1947-48 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, according to information received by the university this week.

Included in the publication are: Maryann Thielen who is president of the interdorm council, president of Theta Sigma Phi, and associate editor of the Emerald; Ross Yates currently serving as president of Sigma Delta Chi and editor of the Oregonian; Howard Lemons former ISA president, first vice-president of the ASUO, and member of the Friars.

Barbara Johns member of Mortar Board and now AWS president; Marty Pond who is now heading the campus WSSF drive; Harry Glickman member of Friars, past editor of Old Oregon and past president of Sigma Delta Chi; Bob Chapman present business manager of the Emerald and former sports editor of the Emerald.

Many More

Nancy Bedingfield now serving as president of the heads of houses organization and former campus social chairman; Nila Desinger member of Mortar Board and present campus social chairman.

Helen Hicks last year's Junior Prom chairman and president of Mortar Board; Bob Frazier editor of the Emerald and member of Friars; Bert Moore current editor of Old Oregon; Laura Olson president of Phi Theta Upsilon and last year sophomore representative on the executive council; Barbara Williams the president of Panhellenic.

Still They Come

Stan Williamson this year's ASUO president, varsity basketball guard, and member of Friars; Bobbie Fulmer the former president of Phi Theta Upsilon, second vice president of ASUO and member of Mortar Board; Tom Hazzard last year's yell king, president of the religious council and past chairman of WSSF.

Jeanne Simmonds current secretary-treasurer of the ASUO, Mortar Board member and associate editor of the Emerald; Jake Leicht track star and All-American football player in 1945; Bjorg Hansen now president of YWCA and Mortar Board member; Barbara Borrevik member of Mortar Board and president of WAA.

Ed Dick current Order of "O" president and forward on the basketball team; Bill Yates managing editor of the Emerald; Bob Wallace this year's senior class president, member of Friars, and former Dad's Day chairman; and Geneva Davis, former head of the campus Red Cross.

Swimming Films Due

Swimmers' and Amphibians' attention is called to three movies to be shown Monday night at 7:30 in room 207 Chapman hall.

The three films are entitled "Swimming and Diving Aces," "Springboard," and "Learn to Swim."