Wiley Tops Scorers in Friday Practice As Cagers Prepare for Opening Tilt

With big center Roger Wiley showing flashes of prewar form, the varsity basketball candidates held stiff 20-minute scrimmage sessions last Friday in preparation for the opening game with

University of British Columbia November 28.

Yesterday, with head coach John Warren out of town, assistant Don Kirsch took over the squad, and ran them through their exercises, and finished off with a 15-minute practice game.

In Friday's session, the squad was divided into four teams. The A team defeated the B quint 31-24, while the C group downed the D squad 34-26. All men participating ran through the 20-minute games with no stops.

On the A team were Stan Williamson, Reedy Berg, Wiley, Marv Rasmussen, and Jim Bartelt. Wiley hit 8 out of 15 field shots, and added a free toss for a total of 17 points. Most of his buckets were made on tip-ins and pivot shots. Berg scored six, Williamson four, and Rasmussen and Bartelt two.

On the opposing B team were Al Popick, Bob Lavey, Bob Amacher, Lynn Hamilton, and Archie Gacek. Hamilton caged five baskets for 10 points, while Lavey scored five, Gacek four, Amacher three, and Popick two.

In the second 20-minute contest, 6'5" Bob Don paced the winning C squad with 12 points. Kenning C squared hit four shots from the field for eight, Al Reible and Bill Green scored six, and Dick Unis two.

Scoring was pretty evenly divided on the D quint, with Don Kimball, and Freddie Wilson scoring six; Roger Mockford, Jerry Sherwood, and Hawes four, and Bob Charlton two.

Ducks Outlast Cougars 12-6

Webfoots Stop Belated Last Quarter Drive

By FRED TAYLOR

Oregon's Webfoots scored in the first and third quarters, and then hung on grimly in the face of a resurging Cougar eleven and bitter-cold weather, to defeat Washington State 12-6, in a conference clock Saturday in Pullman.

It was the fourth straight victory for the rejuvenated Eugene club, and put Oregon in a tie for third place in the coast race with California and UCLA, with a league record of three triumphs against one defeat. The season's record, including non-conference battles, stands at five victories and three losses.

Dan Garza was Oregon's fair-haired boy of the gridiron in the blustery-weather tilt that saw a minor blizzard hamper third period activities. Garza crossed the goal line twice to give the Webfoots their only tallies.

Garza Displays Abilities

Appropriately enough, both of the All-Coast candidate's scores came as a result of his gridiron strong points—pass catching and defensive charging. The first touchdowns came midway in the opening period, when Garza clamped onto an aerial from Norm Van Brocklin.

Dangerous Dan's second tally came after the Cougars had been forced deep into their own territory on a Van Brocklin kick. Halfback Don Paul went back to punt just as he booted the oval Garza, followed by three other Oregon linemen, crashed through the defense. The sticky-fingered end knocked down the ball, scooped it up, and raced across the goal line.

In the light of the terrible playing conditions Oregon's two touchdown margin at the start of the fourth quarter, seemed sufficient, but the 12 points proved just barely enough. Washington State, instead of conceding defeat, struck back for one score in the last period, and came within 14 yards of a second.

WSC Passes Click

A potent passing combination of Russ Miller and Jerry Williams almost proved disastrous to Oregon hopes. Miller alternated running the pigskin and throwing strikes to Williams, and pushed the ball to the Oregon seven. From there Williams took a short pass behind the scrimmage line and powered his way into paydirt for six points.

Twice more before the final gun the Staters threatened to upset the invaders. Again the red-hot passing combination did the work, with Williams making a spectacular leaping catch on Duck 13. But the Oregon defensive machine stiffened, and held the Cougars, taking the ball on downs.

Oregon couldn't get out of the hole and Van Brocklin punted with the ball being returned to the 34.

Point-Maker

Thorn in Washington State's side all Saturday afternoon was Duck flankman Dan Garza, who nabbed one pass for a score, and then blocked a kick to tally the second touchdown. These points provided the margin of victory for Oregon.

Sig Eps Maintain Unbeaten Record in Broomball League

After the brooms were all broken and the fights had quieted down to a mild roar, a look at the scoreboard revealed that for the second week in a row the Sig Eps had succeeded in trouncing their adversaries in broomball. This time the D Z Daredevils and the Pirates of Phi Kappa Psi were the defeated ones, losing 5-3, and 8-0 respectively.

In the first broomball contest at the local rink Friday night the D Z's led by Nancy Horeline, put up a determined struggle but were still two goals down at the final whistle. Bud Barnum was the wheel behind the All Stars scoring as he pushed through three tallies.

In the finale the Phi Psis were handicapped by a lack of skating ability as they were whitewashed 8-0. Their determined broom swinging kept the score from going even higher and the stellar performance of goalie Bob Reed also aided the Pirates greatly. Vic Selman and Cal Smith provided the offense for the Phi Psis while Rog Newton was the cog in the Sig Eps sextet as he scored five tallies. Bud Smith, Wayne Roeker, and Dick Runyard also tallied for the victors.

Colonel Watt of the R.O.T.C. department refereed both games and did an excellent job.

This Friday the All Stars and the Skyhawks will tangle with two tough millrace clubs, the Gamma Phi Gremlins and the Loggers of Phi Psi Lodge. The Gamma Phi game will be at six and the one with the highly touted Chi Psis at seven.

Oregon Has 'Sacred Seventeen'...

Stanford Coach Rates Michigan Over USC

By UNITED PRESS

If Michigan and the University of Southern California meet in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day, as now appears probable, the Wolverines will win in a walk, says Marchie Schwartz, head coach of the Stanford Indians.

Schwartz is qualified to speak on the subject because his teams have met—and been defeated—by both clubs. Michigan walloped the Indians 49-13; USC won, 14-0.

USC Lacks Speed

"USC probably will put up a fine battle," says Marchie, "but they do not compare with the Michigan squad. The Trojans haven't a passer to compare with Bob Chappuis of the Wolverines. The Michigan ends are too fast for the Trojan defense. And on top of all that, while the Trojan backs are good, they are not in the speed category with the ball carriers from Michigan."

Schwartz, speaking to the Northern California Football Writers' regular Monday luncheon, said the best tackle he saw on the Trojans' squad during Saturday's battle was not John Ferraro, but a lad named Swope.

"The Trojans have a fine running back in Don Doll; Verl Lillywhite is good; and Jim Powers, a sophomore, can pass and run exceptionally well. But this array won't stack up with the speed that the Michigan backfield showed us in our game earlier in the season."

Schwartz singled out end Paul Cleary of USC as a bonafide candidate for All-Coast and All-American honors. "He can do everything—and do it well," said Marchie.

Other comments of the day:

Art Litchman, University of Oregon—"We have a 17-man football team—the 'Sacred Seventeen,' we call 'em. And we'll be winning for our fifth consecutive win against Stanford."

Lynn Waldorf, California—"Don Seaver, our fifth string right tackle was the best lineman on the field against Washington. Loss of Johnny Graves, who is out for the season, is a serious blow to the Bears because he was an inspirational leader. Montana is bound to give us trouble."

Portland Babes Defeat Duckling Gridders, 15-0

By ELWIN PAXSON

A spiritless Oregon frosh football squad lost their second game in four starts Saturday on the University practice field, as the Portland university Babes filled the air with passes after finding Oregon's defense filled with holes, to fashion a 15-0 victory.

A small, thoroughly-chilled crowd saw the Ducklings stage two first-period drives to within the enemy 10-yard line, only to lack the necessary scoring punch and lose the ball on downs. A 30-yard pass from quarterback Earl Stelle to Doug Coghill, stellar left end, climaxed the first Frosh drive and gave them a first down on the 13. The attack bogged down and Portland booted safely out of danger.

A few minutes later, paced by the running of Dick Maudlin, hard-hitting Oregon scatback, the locals appeared on their way to paydirt, but the enemy defense stiffened.

Portland's first score came early in the third quarter. A series of three completed passes by Phil Pappalardo, versatile lefthand, gave the winners a first and ten on the Oregon 17. After the Ducklings successfully batted down two Pappalardo aerials, a brilliantly executed screen pass caught the losers flat-footed, and the entire Portland line mowed down the Oregon secondary enabling Bill Connell to go the distance untouched. Bab Costello's kick split the uprights to give the victors a 7-0 lead at halftime.

Portland made the score 9-0 in the third period when an alert lineman pounced on a blocked kick in the end-zone, after Oregon recovered Pappalardo's fumble on the 14, and Jim Hanns attempted to punt from his own 5.

Portland chalked up their final tally late in the fourth period, when an alert Babe secondary man intercepted an Oregon desperation heave on the Duckling's 14 and ran behind good interference to the 3. Two plays later, right-half Larry Wisbaum plunged into the end zone to give Portland their 15-point victory margin.

Sigma Kappa, DG, Delta Zeta Capture Girls V-Ball Tilts

By CORALIE THOMSON

Tri-Delts and Sigma Kappa played a close game in girls intramural volleyball last evening. The SK's built up an 18-10 lead at halftime on the non-rotation game with Jackie Tetz in the center-front position. In the second half rotation they continued to build their lead up and went on to win 36-15. Mary Day piled up 13 points for the SK octet.

The DGs walloped the Pi Phis via Barbara Borrevik's spiking 43-19 after holding a 26-1 advantage at halftime. Ruth Mihnos scored 13 for the Delta Gamma team.

In the outside gym the Delta Zeta team took the measure of the Gerlinger girls 51-22. Barbara Kirsch of the DZs was high point with 12 to her credit.
