BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 10. Haj Amin El Husseini, exiled grand mufti of Jerusalem, said today that the Arabs would fight anybody they had to in order to prevent a Jewish state in Palestine. He intimated that the Arab states would even go to the length of opposing any international force sent to Palestine by the United Nations after the British withdrew, and that American middle-eastern oil interests would suffer.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10. The California toll bridge authority today took the first step toward construction of two additional highway crossings of San Francisco bay, at a cost of at least $239,000,000. The authority endorsed both a plan of the state public works department for a second span paralleling the present San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge, and a southern crossing along a line recommended by a joint army-navy board.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. President Truman told congress today that the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program has momentarily staved off communist domination and economic collapse in Greece, but he said the overall situation in the key Balkan state remains unimproved. The president submitted his first quarterly report on the near-eastern aid program which congress voted after his historic "stop-communism" speech last March.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. Secretary of State George C. Marshall asked congress today to take the "calculated risk" of halting Russian communism in Europe with American dollars, food and material—$2,597,000,000 worth until June 30 plus perhaps $18,500,000,000 over the four succeeding years. The gray-haired soldierly secretary submitted that estimate to a joint session of the senate and house foreign affairs committees in his first formal presentation of the European recovery program he conceived last spring as a barrier to the westward surge of communism.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10. Gov. John H. Hall said tonight that he would reply soon to a letter written him by five Portland ministers which expressed hope that the appointment of a new liquor commission would not lead to a relaxation of the Knox law. The Knox law regulates the sale of alcoholic beverages in Oregon.

The University of North Dakota has completed a plant for experimentation with two of the state's natural resources—sodium sulphate and lignite coal.

Dull To Attend Relations Meet

Dr. Paul S. Dull, assistant professor of political science, has been invited to attend the Pacific Northwest division of the Institute of Pacific Relations to be held at the Olympic hotel in Seattle, November 14 to 16.

In addition to being a delegate to the 10th annual conference to be held in cooperation with the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, Dr. Dull will act as the rapporteur for the Round Table A discussion on Japan. Southeast Asia will be the topic of Round Table B according to Dull.

The entire conference is planned as a sequel to the International conference of the Institute held last month in Stratford-Upon-Avon, Dull said, and several delegates will attend the Seattle meeting that attended the England conference.

Delegates in Seattle this coming weekend, will be able to exchange views on critical matters in the Far East with recognized authorities from various parts of the country, Dull explained.

Students Sponsor Church Discussion

A Catholic inquiry class for University students will be sponsored by the Newman club. The first meeting will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the parlor of Sacred Heart hospital.

These meetings will consist of explanations of Catholic belief and practices followed by a question period. All are welcome, and there is no obligation to attend all the sessions. Meetings on Thursday as well as Wednesday are being considered.

The subject for the first inquiry class will be "The Catholic Church and the Bible."

spiker Chuck Larson, and were edged by 15-9 count. The much-aroused Minturn team scored seven points in consecutive order but could not close the gap that the Delt men had built up on a brilliant net and serving game.

The second game of the series was more exciting as the lead changed on serves almost every time. The teams tied four times. The Minturn team opened up with six fast tallies but could not handle the "hot" serves of the Delt men and as the game progressed the fine net game of the winners saw the losers bow 15-11. Santos of Minturn was one of the outstanding spikers and with his play the Minturn sextet were hard to stop on surges.
