

Ratio . . . One Working, Eleven Advising

Judges Select Vogue Finalists

Seven "Miss Vogue" finalists were picked by a panel of four judges Monday evening, Maryann Thielen, president of Theta Sigma Phi, announced yesterday.

Those reaching the finals were Bev Pitman, Pi Beta Phi; Jane Hull, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Joyce Hansen, Hendricks hall; Isabel Young, Delta Gamma; Betty Cox, Alpha Omicron Pi; Gloria Harrington, Alpha hall, and Ruby Bienert, Alpha Delta Pi.

Announcement of the selection of "Miss Vogue" will be made at the Theta Sigma Phi silver tea Thursday from 4 to 5:45 p.m.

Candidates for "Miss Vogue" will model their clothes, which will be representative of various phases of campus life. Jerry Arnold, women's director of radio station KUGN, will comment on the styles as they are shown.

Miss Arnold has two regular radio programs, Town Crier and Fashion Flashes, in which she discusses current fashion trends. She was formerly manager of a ladies' dress shop in Eugene, before serving in the Mediterranean theater and Africa with the Red Cross during the war.

Among awards to be given "Miss Vogue" are a free portrait by the Nolph Photographic salon and a full-page picture in the 1948 Oregon.

University women, faculty wives, and high school seniors are invited to attend the silver tea. Campus clothes will be in order, according to Miss Thielen.

'Y' Board Plans Dinner

The YMCA advisory board will hold a dinner at 6 p.m. tonight at the faculty club. They will also attend the open meeting at Gerlinger hall at 7:30 p.m.

Flash! ASUO Cards Honored at Stanford

Oregon student body cards will be honored at the Stanford-Oregon game this weekend at Palo Alto, according to a wire just received from Stanford. It was announced earlier that Oregon students attending the game would have to purchase general admission tickets at the gate.

It was emphasized that the regular pink student body cards, not the yellow activity booklets, will be required to enter the game. A copy of the pink cards has been airmailed to Stanford, and officials will honor only the pink card.

DC-6 Planes Grounded

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—(UP)—American airlines and National airlines announced tonight that they were suspending all DC-6 planes in service, effective at midnight. The suspension was pending an investigation of the fire which caused a forced landing at Gallup, New Mexico yesterday.

Pep Rally Set For Thursday

A pep assembly for the Oregon-Stanford football game this Saturday at Palo Alto will be staged Thursday at 11 a.m. in McArthur court.

Yell King Johnny Backlund has requested that all students who do not have classes at that hour attend the assembly. Those who are planning to leave for Palo Alto Thursday are especially urged to attend, and leave for the game from the assembly.

This pep assembly, planned mainly as a starting point for those leaving for the game, is the first of its kind held this year. The program will include entertainment planned by Webfooteer Jeannine Macaulay and songs and yells led by the yell king.

Chi Omega will present a skit on "The Dark Town Poker Club," a trio from Alpha Gamma Delta will sing, and Denny Martin will present the Whiffenpoof song. Plans for a combo are still tentative.

Oregon Recalls First 'Alumni Day'

(Editor's note: This is the first of three articles which will appear in the Emerald on the history of Homecoming at the University of Oregon.)

By FLETCHER and KOHLMEIER
Another chapter in the history of Oregon Homecomings will be added to the annals when alums and students unite to "Return, Recall, Recapture Oregon spirit" as another Homecoming is celebrated on the Oregon campus November 22 and 23.

The tradition of Homecoming dates back to 1914. Those were the days when Hugo Bezdek was whipping one of his great football teams into shape. The Oregon Daily Emerald was just getting into its stride with a four-page, thrice-a-week publication.

No one seems quite certain whose was the pioneering spirit behind the "Alumni Day," as it was then called, but it was likely instigated by the student body president, Tom Boylan, now a Portland business man. He sent letters to about 400 graduates "in the Willamette valley and places not too far away inviting them to 'come home.'"

Oregon had a big football game slated with Whitman college for the afternoon of October 10 and that seemed a good time to have the grads come back. Special plans were made by sororities and fraternities to entertain their alums.

Ernest Vosper, a yell leader, was put in charge of the activities. Under his direction a "pajama pa-

Phi Beta Kappa Taps Fall Term Members For National Honorary

Six outstanding University students, known traditionally as the Senior Six, were elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa yesterday. The 1947 fall term members of the national scholastic fraternity are: Thelma Mae Chaney, mathematics; Charlotte Bradford Hughes, English; Robert O. Payne, English; Marion Elzie Hill, chemistry; Betty Rhea Stewart, psychology; Ellen Wallace Sutherland, music.

Chosen for outstanding grades, leadership, and character, the Senior Six tops the senior classes' scholastic activity list. Phi Beta Kappa belongs in the liberal arts field and members are selected for their exceptional achievement in a well rounded liberal arts program.

The Weather

Eugene and vicinity: Cloudy with occasional rain; somewhat warmer.

Two Carnegie Delegates Visit University

Two representatives of the Carnegie Corporation of New York arrived in Eugene by plane yesterday to confer with deans of schools and members of the administration concerning University affairs.

The officials, Devereux C. Josephs and Charles Dollard, president and vice-president, respectively, of the corporation, will leave for New York today.

During recent years the corporation's program has included grants chiefly in library service, the arts and educational and scientific research. These grants have been administered through colleges, universities, national organizations, and professional and learned societies and associations.

Josephs was graduated from Harvard in 1915, and was financial vice-president and then president of the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America. He was appointed trustee of the Carnegie Corporation of New York in 1944 and has been president since 1945. He is also trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Dollard won the legion of merit while serving as a lieutenant colonel in the army information and education division during World War II. Before the war he was connected with the University of Wisconsin.

Josephs and Dollard are the guests of Pres. and Mrs. Harry K. Newburn during their visit to the campus.

Neilson to Speak at 4

Howard Neilson, graduate assistant in the mathematics department, will speak at a mathematics seminar in Emerald hall, room 258, at 4 p.m. today. His subject is a note on the linear diophantine equation.

Other members of Phi Beta Kappa will be elected in the spring.

Jessup New President

At the fraternity's meeting yesterday, Dr. Betram Jessop, assistant professor of philosophy, was elected president of Oregon Alpha of Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. E.C.A. Lesch, professor of English was chosen vice-president, and Miss Elizabeth Findly, reference librarian, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Additions to the executive and membership committees were also selected at the meeting. W.S. Baldinger, associate professor of art, was elected to the executive committee. R.B. Dean, assistant professor of chemistry, was selected to a two year term on the membership committee.

Membership Committee

Paul Givin, assistant professor of mathematics, and H.S. Hoyman, professor of health education, were chosen for three year periods on the membership committee.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary. Oregon Alpha was started in 1923 after much debate for several years on the campus. It was the only chapter in Oregon until a chapter was formed at Reed college in 1938.

Founding of YM Marked at UO

In remembrance of the 75th anniversary of student Christian organizations November 12, the Tuesday cabinet meeting of the YWCA held a discussion of backgrounds of Christian organizations.

The first minutes and constitution of the University group, formed in 1894, were read by Bobbie Fulmer, vice-president.

"Christian organizations were first started in the middle of the 19th century in Germany, England, and Switzerland," according to Anne Woodworth, YWCA treasurer. "England was the first to have an interdenominational organization," added Miss Woodworth.

England First

She also stated that England was the first to realize the need of young women away from home for a Christian organization and to form such groups.

The United States followed soon after, and a YWCA was formed in 1866 in Boston. The student Y began in 1873 as a movement to make students feel at home in college and to promote Bible study and prayer.

The YWCA cabinet is attending a lecture by Ed Espy, national executive secretary of the student YMCA, at 4 today. Espy is also speaking in an open meeting at 7:30 at Gerlinger hall tonight as part of the anniversary celebration and to install Jack Merner as executive director of the University student YMCA.

rade" and rally were drummed up for the night before the big game.

Traditions Beegin

On Saturday morning the freshman-sophomore "mix," a tug-of-war, (the forerunner of Homecoming and Junior Weekend freshman traditions) was the attraction.

Inspired by the spirit of returning rooters, Oregon romped over Whitman with a score of 29 to 3. After the game, an informal dance honored the "homecomers."

The idea was received with enthusiasm. Some 100 graduates came "home to Oregon." Leland G. Henricks, editor of the Emerald, wrote an editorial commending the celebration and voicing the hope that it would become a tradition.
