

Language Majors Meet

Language majors will meet November 20, in room 20 Friendly hall from 7 until 8 o'clock. Purpose of the meeting, according to David M. Dougherty, head of the department, will be to discuss problems affecting the majors, possible openings in various fields for language majors after graduation and opportunities to receive honors in the department. Staff members representing the various languages will be present, Dougherty said.

Eminent Alums Answer Calls To Return Home

Announcement of plans of graduates to return to the campus for this year's Homecoming program are arriving in Dean Karl W. Onthank's office this week.

Among those planning to attend is Don Davis, who is now Pacific coast manager for the Armstrong Cork Co. Davis plans to interview men for positions with the company while on the campus.

Several graduates now located on the east coast will also attend the festivities as indicated by Ken Youel, class of '23 and former Emerald editor, who is now in charge of General Motors public relations office in New York City.

Youel, as well as a former student body prexy, John MacGregor, head of the New York alumni club, will also return for the weekend. MacGregor, who was one of the originators of the student union movement before his graduation in 1923, is now assistant dean of the law school at New York university and a practicing attorney. He is national president of Alpha Tau Omega.

Col. Ted Gillenwaters, who graduated in '25 and who organized training for meteorological units at the beginning of the war will be on campus for the celebration. E. E. Brosius and his wife from New York City are also planning to attend. Brosius is a member of Georgeson and Co., a nationwide stock market concern.

AWS Co-Chairman Named for Bazaar

Renee Cowell and Joan O'Neil were chosen cochairmen of the AWS bazaar at AWS cabinet meeting Wednesday. The bazaar will be held sometime before Christmas to raise funds to fill boxes for needy Eugene families.

No definite plans have been made for the bazaar as yet. All campus organizations and townspeople will be asked to participate.

The AWS Campus Life program was also discussed. Plans to enlarge the program to include interested upperclassmen were made.

According to a yet to be repealed statute of the Oregon by-laws the speed limit for motor vehicles is 12 miles per hour.
