

Flying Wheel Invades House

Professor and Mrs. C.L. Huffaker were in a dazed condition Saturday morning as they surveyed Mrs. Huffaker's collection of valuable glass cruets, smashed and cracked by a runaway wheel which crashed into their Fairmount blvd. home Friday night. The wheel, rolling off a car driven by Gordon R. Nelson, 965 Twentieth ave., ruined a collection of cruets which Mrs. Huffaker had collected over a period of 10 years.

Bounced Five Feet

Nelson was driving north on Fairmount at the time the wheel came off. It rolled down the hill, across the Huffaker lawn, and bounced five or six feet off the ground through the Huffaker's sunporch window.

Many of the most valuable cut glass articles were on top of a cabinet in the sunporch. The wheel hit the back of this cabinet leaving a carpet of broken glass on the floor.

About 15 of the most valuable of her 135 cruets were smashed, Mrs. Huffaker said. Many others were cracked and chipped.

The amount of damage hasn't been determined yet, Mrs. Huffaker declared Saturday morning. "The trouble is, many of the broken cruets are rare ones which no amount of money will replace," she said. The collection was covered by insurance.

Freshmen Ray Bailey and Graham Missbach.

In the medley relay, Earl Walters will handle the backstroke laps, Harmon the breaststroke laps, and Vannatta the crawl. The freshmen, though outclassed in this event, are not to be slighted, with Bailey, Bruce, Moorehead, and Bob Warnke carrying duties.

Walters and Pete Hill rate the nod as varsity standouts in the backstroke. Walters should cop the event with Hill close behind. The frosh will pit Moorehead and Paul Dahlquist against these two.

Kirellis has withheld his lineups for the four-man relay until meet time, since last minute changes may be necessary.

Navy to Stimulate History Program

Names of all naval reserve officers studying or teaching history is currently being compiled by the Department of the Navy. Included in the list are all reserve officers who are now undergraduate students in history contemplating continuing historical studies, have graduate school training in historical research, teach or have taught history in universities, colleges, or secondary schools, or write or have written on historical subjects in or out of the Navy.

The desire to stimulate the study of naval history, the need for a complete list of those in the navy qualified to man the naval history program and the necessity of the names of those who assisted in any way during World War II in preparing the administrative narratives of the major naval commands are the purposes of the program.

In sending the information, the officer's name, rank, file number, address, college education and historical field of special interest, present occupation, and a brief of his naval assignments should be included. The information is to be sent to Director of Naval History, 1224 Navy Department EXOS, Washington 25, D.C.

Bridge Tournament Calls Undergrads

Plans for the 1948 national intercollegiate bridge tournament were announced recently by Nelson B. Jones, director of Faunce House, Brown university, and chairman of the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament committee. Invitations have been sent to officials of 318 colleges and universities.

Only undergraduates are eligible to play in the duplicate contract bridge event for the title and trophy. A preliminary round will be played by mail in February, and the sixteen highest-ranking pairs will meet for the face-to-face finals at the Drake hotel in Chicago on April 23 and 24.

The event is supported by the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament so that there is no cost to the competing colleges or the players. Purpose of the tournament is to develop contract bridge as an intercollegiate sport in which men and women can compete on an equal basis.

A team from the University of California won last year's contest, which was entered by 1,008 students representing 126 colleges in 39 states.

Alumni Names Officers

Drama Competition Hunts New Talent

To bring out new authors and to introduce their work to community and professional theaters, the thirteenth annual competition for awards in dramatic writing was recently announced by the dramatists' alliance of Stanford university.

The contests are open to all persons writing in dramatic forms, whatever their training, experience, or residence. Awards for 1948 are: the Maxwell Anderson award of $100 for verse drama of full length or one act (masques and libretti barred) and the Miles Anderson award of $100 sponsored by Peninsula Players of San Mateo, California, for full length comedies or tragedies dealing with domestic life in the western hemisphere.

The Stephen Vincent Benet award of $50 and presentation over station KVSM for radio drama of twenty minutes length, whether serious or comic; the Henry David Gray award of $75 for clear-cut discussion of theatrical topics in any period, but specifically for constructive articles on problems of production and acting.

For information about registration papers, fees, and special services, address Dramatists' Alliance, Box 200 Z, Stanford university, Palo Alto, Cal. The contest closes February 15, 1948.

Webster Speaks Tonight

Dr. Vance H. Webster, pastor of the First Baptist church, will speak on "A Man After Mine Own Heart," at the Intersociety Christian fellowship meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the dining room of John Straub hall.

In addition to his regular ministry, Dr. Webster has been a member of the executive committee on the board of American Baptist Home Missions society and was president of the Oregon State Baptist convention from 1945-46.

Nominees Named At Alum Meeting

Gordon Wilson, '25, and Harold Warner, '13, both of Portland, are nominees for the 1948 presidency of the Oregon alumni association. They were nominated at a general meeting of the alumni association held Saturday in Johnson hall. The office of vice-president will be filled by Mrs. Ruth Stewart Caldwell, '23, of Cottage Grove, or Mrs. Constance Cartwright Small, '16, of Salem.

Ballots mailed in the next issue of Old Oregon, alumni magazine, will decide the officers who will assume their duties January 1, 1948.

Three out of five World War II veterans are under 30 years of age, according to a new Veterans Administration tabulation.
