

Courses Trend To High Plane, Says Johnson

"We on the threshold of a renaissance in graduate education," Dr. Eldon O. Johnson, dean of the University of Oregon college of liberal arts and graduate school, told a meeting of graduate students Tuesday evening.

Dr. Johnson said that the renaissance is due to the fact that graduate schools are reappraising their objectives, revising curricula, and realizing more definitely that from the graduate schools go the nation's teachers and college professors.

Deutsche Cancels Meet

The Deutsche Gessellschaft will not hold its scheduled meeting tonight because of the concert. The next meeting date will be announced early next term.

now is to prepare the graduate student for teaching on the college and high school level, he said. The days of specialization on technique rather than on thought and culture and the thought that all graduate schools are havens for intellectual introverts will go when the graduate school ceases to be an appendage to the undergraduate school, Dr. Johnson said.

The graduate school of the University of Oregon is among the more progressive in the nation due because students have excellent opportunities for close relationships with faculty members, he declared. The compactness of the graduate school and the fact that the deanships of the college of liberal arts and the graduate school have been combined have helped in providing funds and faculty adapted to the needs of the graduate school, he said.

Dr. Johnson spoke to the graduate students at a meeting of the graduate student organization. Dr. Johnson endorsed the graduate student organization as a means of discovering graduate student opinion.

The U. S. Air Force offers you

$336 a month one year after graduation

THAT'S what you can earn after completing one year of pilot training and winning your wings in the Air Force.

It is a good deal from the start. While you're an Aviation Cadet you draw $75 per month, plus food, quarters, uniforms, medical and dental care. After successfully finishing the course, you are commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Air Force Reserve, and assigned to active duty with the Air Force at $336 a month (including flight pay), with excellent chances for further increases as promotions come through.

In addition, you get an extra $500 for each year of active duty, and will be given a chance to compete for a commission in the Regular Air Force if you are interested in a service career.

This opportunity, which cannot be duplicated anywhere else at any price, equips men for well-paid, responsible positions throughout the aviation industry, at high pay from the beginning. It is open to you if you're single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or pass an examination measuring the equivalent). Ask for details at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or write to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

U. S. ARMY AND U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

NOTE: If you were awaiting assignment or taking training when the Aviation Cadet program was cut back in 1944-45, you can re-qualify simply by passing the physical examination, provided you meet the other requirements listed above. Write for information to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.
