

GMC Publicist To Address SDX Luncheon

Kenneth W. Youel, head of the New York relations office of the General Motors Corporation, will speak to a Sigma Delta Chi luncheon Thursday, December 11 at noon in College Side Inn. The luncheon will be open to all journalism students, particularly those interested in public relations as a career.

A graduate of the University of Oregon, Youel has been in the Northwest for the past week guiding the publicity destiny of the General Motors' "Train of Tomorrow," which recently visited Eugene. He has been chiefly responsible for the wide publicity given the train and for other favorable comments on its appearance in Oregon.

The train, of ultra-modern design complete with glass-enclosed observation domes, has been touring the United States since June. It will visit Seattle for a few days and then will go into California and from there through the southern states to Florida.

Mr. Youel will explain some of the aspects of the public relations business, opportunities in this field and qualifications for a position with an organization such as General Motors. He also will tell of some of his experiences in making arrangements for the visits of the "Train of Tomorrow."

Arrangements for the luncheon are being handled by Bill Yates, Emerald managing editor. All journalism students who would like to attend are asked to leave their names with the secretary in the dean's office not later than Wednesday night.

Night Staff

Bob Hemingway
Joyce Good
Jim White

Westminster Couple, Long Here To Take Leave of University

Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant prepare for one of the Westminster house weekly potluck suppers. The Bryants will leave the campus at the end of this term after 15 years at the University's "home away from home." (Photo by Kirk Braun)

By WALLY HUMPHRIES year old foundation adjacent to the campus. After fifteen and one-half years as the guiding forces of Westminster house on the Oregon campus, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bryant have recently handed in their resignation, effective the first of next year. Uncle Jim and Aunt Alchie, as the couple are affectionately called, have become traditional at the University, because of their magnificent work with the many students that have taken advantage of the facilities offered at the twenty-two

Plans Under Way For WAA Carnival

Plans are now rolling for the WAA Carnival which will take place on January 16. All campus living organizations are urged to start thinking of these for their booths now.

The following committee chairmen have been announced: Joan O'Neil, decorations; Marcia Summers, finance; Jordis Benke and Marguerite Johns, booths; Coralie Thomson, publicity; Carol Becker, posters; Mary Stadelman, properties; Betsy Moffitt, arrangements; Nancy Peterson, tickets; Jackie Tetz, clean up; Beth Basler, food; and Renee Cowell, dance.

A meeting will be held next week and living organizations will be given the necessary information. Co-chairmen for the event are Genevieve Siskey and Bep McCourry.

The Bryants came to Eugene in 1932, after several years of community work in Lynn county. Mrs. Bryant received her higher education at Albany college, now Lewis and Clark, and later taught school. She has never stopped learning, having taken several courses every year since they came to the University. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant's mutual interest in people, especially young people, made them decide to spend their lives in the service of others. The strong Christian character they both possess qualifies them to advise those in doubt.

Mrs. Bryant states the aims she held always before her as director of Westminster thus: "We have tried to make the house as home-like as we possibly could, welcoming all students regardless of race, creed, or color, to attend and participate in as many of the activities as they wish. Our greatest desire was to see that everyone could express himself freely in the forums and discussions, as long as he was honest in his opinions." The complete success of Westminster house, and the great respect the Bryant's former "children" have shown in their letters expressing their regrets that the amiable couple are going to leave, are fitting tributes to these two fine people. They will never be forgotten in the hearts of those who knew them.

Old Oregon Lists High Lights of Issue

Activities of the University's newest department, speech and drama, and a survey of the 1947 football season make up principal stories in the December Old Oregon, alumni magazine. These main articles were written by Wally Hunter, Emerald sports editor, and Susan McCarrell.

Bert Moore, magazine editor, said the magazine will be in the mail late next week. He reported that it will contain articles on Marie Rogndahl, successful singer from the class of '45, and John Day, class of '37, who is a Medford cattleman.

University Children to Occupy YW Nursery Monday Morning

A nursery sponsored by the YWCA service committee will open Monday under the direction of Velma Snellstrom. It will be available to all mothers connected with the University.

Without charge, mothers attending classes, working, or needing occasional help may leave their children from 8:45 a.m. to 12:15 a.m. in the "Y" nursery.

Service Begins Soon

From December 8 to 19 service will be available weekdays. It will open again January 5 and continue through winter and spring terms.

Dr. Joseph Harris of the Fairmount Presbyterian church has donated the use of the church's regular nursery room, equipped with kitchen and bathroom facilities. There is also a telephone available and fuel and janitor service will be furnished.

Cooperative Plan

The nursery is planned for children between the walking and the kindergarten stages. The whole system is based on a cooperative plan by which each mother puts in at least three hours during every two-week period. In this way there will be at least one mother and one volunteer from the "Y" present at all times.

There will be a short training period for each mother so that the nursery will have an established routine. Children will be divided according to age groups. Each morning a volunteer registered nurse attending the University will inspect the children to prevent the spreading of colds and communicable diseases.

Case Cards

Registration cards will be filled out for every child attending the nursery. Information will include the mother's and father's names, where they may be reached in case of emergency, and other data pertaining to the child.

A committee of mothers is being organized to decide on scheduled hours of work. Those interested in additional information call Velma Snellstrom at 5001. Mary Roome is in charge of girls working in the nursery.

Spanish Production To Show at 'State'

"La Barraca," a Spanish dialogue film produced in Mexico, will be shown Tuesday at the State theater. The four showings will be at 3:15, 5:15, 7:15, and 9:15 p.m.

Starring in the picture are Domingo Soler and Anita Blanch. The story is based on a novel by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, author of "Blood and Sand."

Sponsoring the film are the University, Eugene high school, University high school, and Springfield high school Spanish clubs. Tickets may be obtained from Spanish club members and professors of Romance languages.

Ohio police accused a hill-billy musician of passing $4500,000 worth of worthless checks in 20 years. That's paying the fiddler a lot.

REWARD

For information leading to rental of small house. Phone, 6522-J-3, or write:

C. A. Bowder
146A Rt. 1 Eugene

BOWLING

For Health, For Fun!

A Favorite Winter Sport!

Dorsey's U-BOWL
29 West 11th
Phone 4716

Learn How Prayer Can Heal You

A Free Lecture Entitled

"Christian Science: A Religion of Revelation, Reason and Demonstration"

By Ralph Castle, C.S., of San Francisco, California
Member of the Board of Lectureship of
The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist
in Boston Massachusetts

Tuesday, December 9, at 8 p.m.
in Woodrow Wilson Junior High School
650 Twelfth Avenue West

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
of Eugene, Oregon
Cordially Invites You to Attend

Old Oregon Lists High Lights of Issue

Activities of the University's newest department, speech and drama, and a survey of the 1947 football season make up principal stories in the December Old Oregon, alumni magazine. These main articles were written by Wally Hunter, Emerald sports editor, and Susan McCarrell.

Bert Moore, magazine editor, said the magazine will be in the mail late next week. He reported that it will contain articles on Marie Rogndahl, successful singer from the class of '45, and John Day, class of '37, who is a Medford cattleman.

Plan Those Meals

We offer the best

HOT BEEF PLATE

SALADS

Silex Coffee - Milk
A Complete Fountain

Be doubly assured your diet is balanced

RUSH INN

13th—on the campus

THE BEST IN "COFFEE ROW"

Let Us Check Your Car for that Vacation Trip at

WALDERS

Associated Service

11th and Hilyard