

Miss Bernice Rise Organizes Literary Club

A new club for persons with literary interests is being formed under the sponsorship of Miss Bernice Rise, circulation librarian and reading consultant of the library.

Patterned after the general extension division's lecture series on "Great Books," the club will sponsor lectures and discussions of books which have had great impact upon modern thought. These lectures will be by members of the faculty and other interested persons.

Acting chairman of the new organization is Charles R. Hansard, president of McChesney hall and chairman of the book buying committee of the house librarians. He will also act as moderator for the initial discussions.

Wednesday at 4 p.m. an organizational meeting will be held in the browsing room of the library. All those interested in promoting a program of this sort should attend, and Miss Rise expressed the hope that all living organizations would be represented.

New Camera Club Invites Students

An appeal for new members was made Monday by Dave Cole, president of the newly organized Camera club. Cole asked that those interested in joining attend the meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 in the women's lounge at Gerlinger hall. He also outlined the purposes of the club and plans for the year.

The club was formed by and for students interested in learning various aspects of photography. Meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays of each month in the women's lounge at Gerlinger.

Tentatively slated for the year is a university-wide photograph contest; a salon at which work of the group will be exhibited and field trips. It is hoped that lecturers may be obtained throughout the year to explain various photographic functions.

Instrumental in organizing the group, which is only two meetings old, has been V. S. Fogdall, assistant dean of men. Adviser is W. S. Hayden, associate professor of architecture.

Ski Movie Showing Set for Wednesday

Two ski movies, "Classic of Skiing—Norway" and "Ski in the Valley of the Saints," will be shown Wednesday night at 7:30, in 207 Chapman hall.

BA Professor Writes Article

"Sensitivity of Income Payments in Oregon," one of a series of articles by Orin K. Burrell, professor of business administration in the University of Oregon, will appear in the January issue of the Oregon Business Review.

The articles are part of a study being made by faculty members of the university for the legislative interim committee for the study of highway, road, and street needs, revenue, and taxation.

Burrell is also author of an article scheduled to appear soon in Commercial and Financial Chronicle, a weekly magazine of investment and finance. Title of the dissertation is "The Market Effect of the Payment of a Large Accrued Dividend—A Study in Economic Behavior."

Books, Supplies Billing Explained

In contradiction to the statement in last week's Emerald that all books and supplies purchased at the Co-op must be signed by a department head, a corrected explanation has been made. Mrs. Gerda Brown, executive assistant in charge of vet's billing stated that only books and supplies authorized by the faculty must bear a departmental signature in addition to their own.
