

Forbes to Speak To History Club

John Ripley Forbes, director of the Oregon museum in Portland, who has built a coast-to-coast chain of free children's museums will speak on museum and show movies at the regular meeting of the natural history society to be held at 207 Chapman hall, at 8 p.m. Thursday.

After he was graduated from Bowdoin college, Forbes began organizing a project for children only and caused a new trend and enthusiasms in museums for children. After much activity in this field, he spent all of his free time on the first Hornaday foundation project.

He has organized and reorganized many museums, his last effort being in Portland where he is organizing and gaining public interest in a big museum of science and industry.

The public is invited to attend the Thursday lecture.

Spanish Club Sees Hat Dance Routine

At a meeting of the Spanish club on January 22, Miss Margaret Moran, girls' physical education instructor, and Miss Cassie Hyde, junior in foreign language, gave a demonstration to the club members of the Mexican hat dance, "Jarabe Tapatio."

After the demonstration the members were instructed how to do the dance, and in the next meeting planned for February 5, Thursday, at 7 p.m. in the sunporch of Gerlinger hall, more details and further instruction of the dance will be given.

All students interested in Spanish are invited to attend the meetings.

The number of college students this year is estimated at nearly 2,250,000, 60 per cent more than in 1940 and four times as many as in 1920.

Agricultural experts say that "lots of clean, warm drinking water" will prevent a drop in winter milk production.

YWCA Arranges Religion Discussion

Student religious views will be discussed with the YWCA religious discussion group today at 4 p.m., according to Chairman Beryl Howard.

Lois Greenwood, executive director of the YWCA, is leading the discussion. Her remarks will be based upon answers made to questionnaires that the members filled out last week.

The group is meeting at the Y at 3:50 and then going to the home of Mrs. Paul Ellis, 1442 East Thirteenth. The religious discussion group is open to all women students. It meets at 4 p.m. each Tuesday.

Chairman Requests Membership Data

Y membership chairmen have been requested to turn in their cards and money to the YWCA immediately, according to membership chairman Nila Desinger.

The drive officially ended January 12, and membership totals cannot be determined until this material has been returned.

"Any women who were not contacted during the drive, may join the Y by coming to the YWCA office," Miss Desinger said.

Membership is one dollar and entitles one to participate in all Y activities and to vote in Y elections.

'Smarty Party' Invites 75 Girls

Mortar Board will honor freshman women who earned GPA's of 3.00 or better at the annual Smarty party, between 7 and 8 p.m. tonight. Short silks will be in order for this affair, to be held in alumni hall, Gerlinger.

President Helen Hicks announced that 75 girls are qualified to attend. Phi Theta will assist in serving.

Hunter to Give Speech

Don Hunter of the audio-visual department will speak to Alpha Kappa Delta at 4 p.m. in 107 Oregon. The subject of his talk will be audio-visual aids as related to sociology.

In Florida, it is illegal to give a member of your family or a friend a manicure, hair-do or shampoo. The state beauty culture law prohibits unregistered persons from practicing beauty culture with or without pay.
