

Jumping Jack

When Idaho's Vandals square off against the Washington State Cougars tonight the main Vandal hope rests with center Jack Phoenix. Big Jack will be assigned the task of checking equally tall Cougar Vince Hansen, a rugged man on the backboards. The Cougars have previously taken Idaho's measure twice this season.

Would you like to spend a week at Sun Valley during spring vacation for a personal cost of only $33.86½? If you're not wrecked by the end of finals, and happen to have seven friends in a receptive mood, one of whom owns a car, this opportunity is looking you stright in the eye.

Assuming that a positive decision has been reached by you and your chums, the skis are piled on some poor guy's car, the eight of you pile in and the process of gasoline consumption begins.

Twenty-three hours, forty-five dollars, and nine cartons of cigarettes later your little band decides to avoid considerable delay by detouring Pendleton—a town known for roundups.

On arriving at the resort your first problem is to find some sturdy lodge about 100 yards from the base of the ski tows, with accommodations ready for eight at a low price.

The next morning silent thanks are given to the gentleman who took a twenty-dollar bribe and secured for you a two-room shack, seventeen miles from nowhere.

Thus situated, your gang settles down to doing what they came for—skiing. The weather is glorious and your future is bright until on Thursday when someone happens to be shaking the snow from his wallet and notices a definite lack of currency therein. That evening back at the shack the sum total comes to much less than enough to get you home.

Lopsided, racehorse games were the order of the afternoon in the intramural basketball circles as victors completely overwhelmed their opponents by wide margins. However, the exception to the rule in this case was Lambda Chi Alpha's 9 to 6 victory over SAE, a contest which was protested and will be re-scheduled. Other results were; DU wolloped Merrick hall 41 to 13; ATO cut down Phi Sigma Kappa 40 to 15; Beta Theta Pi annihilated Omega hall 37 to 11; and Sigma Nu overpowered Villard hall 29 to 9.

Timer's Mistake

A "red herring" by the timers in the SAE - Lambda Chi Alpha tilt cost the Lambda Chis a hard earned 9 to 6 victory. The man in charge of the time failed to stop the clock during time taken for foul shots, thus causing the usual playing time to be considerably shortened. A re-scheduling of the contest has been set for Monday, February 16.

DU Wins Again

In the afternoon's curtain riser-Delta Upsilon continued its winning ways by rolling over Merrick hall 41 to 13. A big 17 points by Herb Tainer and 11 more by Ken Johnson contributed greatly to the DU cause. The blue and gold team flashed a smoothly clicking offense which showed a definite improvement over its previous games.

ATO Triumphs

With every man on the team participating in the scoring, Alpha Tau Omega glided to an easy 40 to 15 triumph over Phi Sigma Kappa. Bill Berger's 12 points was tops in the individual scoring department, but he was closely followed by Don Eastburn with ten, Lloyd Zimmerman with nine, and George Huggins with seven. ATO's dominance of the play under the backboard was the decisive factor of the contest.

Betas Win Easily

Sparked by the brilliant floor play of Art Milne, Beta Theta Pi romped over Omega hall 37 to 11. Milne, who is the drive wheel in the Beta's machine, was a bulwark of power under the bucket and constantly set up the plays for guard John Miller to drop in 14 points toward the win.

Sigma Nu Classy

Sigma Nu outclassed a valiant, but undermanned Villard hall quintet to walk off with a 29 - 9 win. Harold Zurcher led the Sigma Nu attack with twelve big counters. The Hallmen never quit fighting 'til the final gun although the outcome of the event was obvious before the action got underway.

Handball

Kappa Sigma was handed a forfeit win over Phi Sigma Kappa when the later failed to show up at the game.

Ducklings Beat Preps

Salem Next Frosh Foe

In their second maple clash in as many days, the Oregon Frosh cagers will unfurl their basketball wares tonight at Salem, when they engage the Capitol city Viking prep squad at 8 p. m. in the Salem high plant.

Duckling coach Carl Heldt will call on a probable starting lineup consisting of Bob Taggesell and Ernie Wilde at forwards, Rod Slade at center, and Leroy Coleman and Jack Keller at guards.

The Vikings have been running through their Big Six league competition with ease, having whipped Eugene, Corvallis, Springfield, Bend, and Albany thus far. Other victories include two over the Willamette university Frosh. Coach Harold Hauk is scheduled to start Carlos Houck and Keith Farnum at forwards, Jack Miller at center.

Youngsters Win, 64-49

University of Oregon's freshman hoopsters, employing a new lineup from the past, rolled over the Oregon City high school quintet last night, 64 to 49, on the Pioneer's floor.

The Ducklings blasted out 20 points in the fourth quarter to put the game on ice, after leading by only four points, 44 to 40, at the close of the third stanza. Coach Carl Heldt shifted lanky Rod Slade to forward, and used ex-guard Don Peterson in the center slot in the game against the prepsters.

The strategy proved successful, as Peterson led all scorers with 20 points for his evening's work, while Spiess of the Pioneers was second high scorer with 19 points.

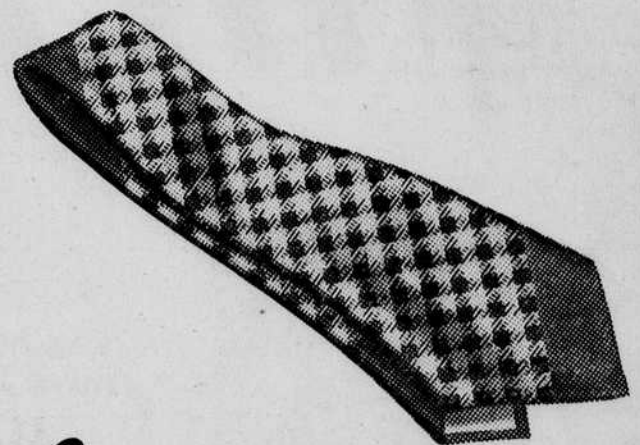

Starting slowly, but building up momentum, the Webfoot lads led
