

One Point Sinks Ducks Again!

Stolen Ball In Last Secs Costs Game

Pullman, Wash., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Forward Ed Gayda stole the ball, raced down the floor and sank a last-second field goal tonight to give Washington State another one-point victory over Oregon, 60 to 59, in a scorching Pacific coast conference basketball game.

The Cougars, runners-up to Oregon State in Northern Division standings, edged the Ducks 66-65 in an overtime thriller here last night.

Oregon battled desperately to protect a three-point margin going into the final 30 seconds tonight, but Vince Hanson, the Cougars' great center, narrowed the gap with a two-point shot just 10 seconds before the final horn.

Hanson's fifth foul was called on him in the scramble after the score. He left the game and the Ducks chose to toss in the ball and play keep-away in the last few seconds.

But they reckoned without Gayda, who makes ball-stealing a specialty. He grabbed the ball from Duck guard Stan Williamson, steamed down the court and sank the two-hander which won the game as 5800 delirious fans raised the roof of Bohler gymnasium.

Oregon took an early lead and ran up a 14-3 advantage before WSC caught fire and evened the score 34-all by halftime. The Cougars went ahead 47-43 after the intermission but the Ducks soon regained the lead which they held till the final seconds.

Hanson was high man with 19 points while pivotman Roger Wiley led Oregon scoring with 14 points.

Freshmen Set Swim Record

Idaho's Phoenix Out Because of Bad Grades

Moscow, Ida., Feb. 4.—(UP)—University of Idaho's basketball hopes plummeted to an all-time low here today when University officials ruled ace center Jack Phoenix ineligible from further athletic competition because of grades.

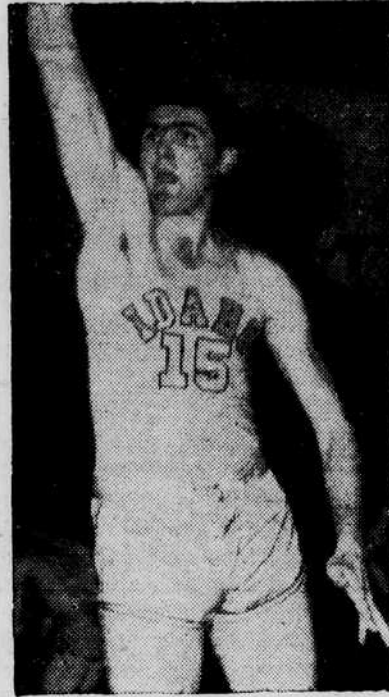

The 6 foot-9 inch pivotman rated as one of the leading scorers in the Pacific coast conference although his team has won only one Northern Division conference game so far this season.

Phoenix had scored 220 points for the Vandals before being ruled off the courts today.

The ineligibility ruling followed a gloomy doctor's report that second-string guard Bob Linck would be lost for the season because of an ankle injury suffered while bobsledding.

Coach Chuck Finley did not immediately indicate whom he would nominate as starting center although his choice was expected to be Jay Gano who has been doing most of the relief chores at the position.

Idaho faces Oregon in a two-

game series here Friday and Saturday nights.

Will Urban Leads Frosh By Scoring 74 Points

Coach Hank Kuchera's Eugene high Axemen provided the Oregon Frosh cage team plenty of game competition yesterday afternoon in Mac court, when the two squads battled each other in extra-long scrimmage game. The Ducklings ran over their younger prep foes with ease in eight quarters of action. Both coaches substituted freely, with one five playing one quarter and a fresh quintet the next.

Will Urban carried the scoring load for the Orecons.

Coach Carl Heldt has scheduled a light workout tomorrow, in final preparation for Friday night's game with the OSC Rooks at Corvallis.

Urban still holds a slim lead in little Duck scoring totals. The big forward has put in 74 points for a 9.2 per-game average. Don Peterson, who scored 32 points last weekend against Oregon City and Salem, is second with a 67-point total. As a unit, the Frosh have accumulated 405 counters for a 50.6 average, while holding their opposition to 336 markers, a 42 per-game average.

Scoring totals:

Ducklings Take All Firsts Except Medley Relay

Oregon's sparkling freshman swimming team defeated West Linn high school yesterday, 41 to 24, and set a new frosh record in the 160 yard relay, in a meet held in the Men's pool.

Oregon took every event except the medley relay. In this event the Ducklings highly touted squad got off to a bad start which they failed to overcome.

Louis Santos of the Oregon squad was high point man for the meet, with two first places and a leg on the record-shattering relay team to his credit. He turned in a good performance especially in the 100 yard free style, which he raced in the time of :56.8.

The new record was established

The Oregon frosh take on another prep outfit tonight in the Men's pool. Klamath Falls will meet the Ducklings at 7:00 p.m. in a meet which will feature the attempt by the frosh to break the medley relay record, and again lower their newly-set mark in the 160 relay.
