

He Had a Rough Evening

Roger Wiley, towering center for the Ducks, had a rough night against the Vandals, as they held him to a scant seven points. Big Rog controlled the backboards most of the time, however, although Idaho was checking closely.

IM Hoop Leagues Show Torrid Action by Quints

Monday's Schedule

3:50 Pi Kappa Alpha A vs. Phi Kappa Sigma A.
3:50 Kappa Sigma B vs. Theta Chi B.
4:35 Alpha Tau Omega B vs. Sigma Chi B.

By DAVE TAYLOR

Intramural basketball play yesterday afternoon saw white hot action in both leagues. In the A league tilts, French hall edged out a 20-19 triumph from McChesney hall, and the Sig Eps walloped Phi Kappa Psi 34-13. Meanwhile "B" league action saw the Fijis manhandle French hall 26-8, and Cherney hall overpower Phi Sigma Kappa 36-16.

French Wins

French hall staved off a hard-fought, but vain drive to post a bitterly contested 21-19 victory over Delta Tau Delta. With just two minutes left to play, the Deltas tied the count at 19 all, but Hallman Darrell Hawes dropped in the deciding two points with a pair of foul shots. Hawes also was high man for the Frenchman with eight points.

Cherney Comes Back

A determined Cherney hall crew showed all the elements of true fighters as it came from behind to steal a 20-19 triumph from McChesney hall after the latter had led throughout the game. With a scant ten seconds left, little Rick Trommliz sank a free throw to break the 19-19 deadlock. Chuck Humble was high for Cherney hall with seven points.

Sig Eps Hot

In the final "A" game of the afternoon, Sigma Phi Epsilon rolled over a hapless Phi Kappa Psi gang to an easy 34-13 win. The victors combined lightning speed and scoring punch to swamp the Phi Psis by the wide margin. Jim Northram led the Sig Eps scorers with nine counters.

"B" League

In "B" league competition, Phi Gamma Delta flattened French hall like a Sherman tank rolling over a snow man and came up with a 26-8 victory. A pair of hotshot point-makers, Jim Snow and Dick Hawes, who canned eight points apiece, led the Fiji assault.

An avalanche of baskets falling from every angle, corner, and side dropped on the Phi Kaps as every man on the Cherney ball squad participated in the 36-16 rout. Jim Anthony's eight points was tops for the vets dorm lads.

Handball

Handball action entered its semi-final round as Sigma Alpha Mu shut out the Legal Eagles by a 3-0 count.

Baby Ducks Meet Preps In Swimfest

With backstroker Stan Hargraves slated to return to action after a seige with a severe cold, the frosh swimmers will be at full strength for their aqua battle with Salem high this afternoon at 2 p.m.

The Ducklings are odds-on favorites in the Dads' Day clash, on the basis of their past performances, although Salem's team strength remains an unknown factor.

Pacing the freestyle sprinters will be Louis Santos, Bud Brown, and Warren Braucher, all of whom turned in sparkling times in the two previous meets. Stroking the longer 220 and 440 distances will be Tommy Nakota and Braucher.

Art Bayly will shoulder the breaststroke chores, while Stan Hargraves and Al Dahlquist will represent the yearlings in the backstroke, one of their strongest events.

In the diving, Jim Stanley, an out-of-state product who has been improving steadily since the season began, should rack up first place points against his Viking opponents.

Button Captures Skate Pennant

DAVOS, Switzerland, Feb. 13—(UP)—Dick Button, 18-year-old skating marvel from Englewood, N. J., in one of the most brilliant performances ever seen on European ice, today became the first American ever to win the men's world figure skating championship, while Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa made a good start in defense of her women's crown.

The handsome young Olympic champion turned in a near-flawless exhibition in the free skating events to overcome the narrow lead which defending champion Hans Gerschwiler of Switzerland had assumed in yesterday's compulsory figures and thus made it a clean sweep of the "big three" figure skating titles.

Grid Policy Battle Cools But More Action Looms

Pros May Take Action Against Ed

CHICAGO, Feb. 13—(UP)Jonas H. Ingram, commissioner of the All-America football conference, said tonight that no disciplinary action is planned "at present" against Ed McKeever, Chicago Rocket coach whose recent "white paper" upset the Pacific coast conference.

Ingram said he probably would hear more about the affair tomorrow when the first executive session of the AAC annual meeting gets under way.

The newly hired Rocket coach left his post at the University of San Francisco with a published parting shot against the University's use of ineligible football players who withheld information about their previous scholastic experience. He also charged that "something would have to be done" about the $70-$50-$40 salaries which had been paid the players.

Anthony J. Morabito, a member of the conference executive board and principal owner of the San Francisco Forty-Niners, has said he will bring the matter before the club owners for possible censure of McKeever. Ingram has the power to expel anyone from the conference for conduct detrimental to the league.

Fighting Front Quiet After Furious Feud

San Francisco, Feb. 13—(UP)—The University of San Francisco vs. Ed (Tex) McKeever feud faded today just as quickly as it flared earlier in the week and all was quiet on the battle front as Don athletic officials prepared to mend the broken pieces of their grid policy.

Following the two days of sensational charges and countercharges on athletic subsidization and eligibility, officials on the USF campus today had little to say.

Father Jerome Sullivan, athletic moderator, yesterday wrote an open letter to McKeever charging the former USF coach, now head coach of the professional Chicago Rockets, with counseling five USF football players to "keep their past records quiet."

McKeever denied the charge, along with another one issued by Charles Harney, chairman of the athletic board of control, that the school athletic files had been rifled of correspondence with other colleges regarding playing dates and tips on good young high school stars who might be prospects to matriculate to USF.

Meanwhile local observers pointed out that McKeever, even while coaching here, had troubles with his "football family."
