dent budgets. But house librarians would have to search far to find a better guide to put beside the radio or record shelf.

Platter lines: No longer being overlooked is a little number labeled "Four Leaf-Clover," currently at the number 7 spot on Your Hit Parade. "Clover" was first written in 1919 for the 88th Infantry Division, whose shoulder patch was a four leaf clover. After the war it was filed away with the other "also-rans" to Cohan and Berlin hits; and its future seemed to be cobwebs unlimited.

Arthur Godfrey (the bad boy discjockey" who rips up commercials that irritate him) and the Joe Mooney Quartet of Broadway's nitespot row picked up "Clover" late last year and began plugging it. Now the best available discs are by Godfrey, Alvino Rey, and by the Mooney combo, when you can get them.

Alvino Rey set his offering of "Clover" to a strong, rhythmic tempo, spotlighting solos by the piano, string basses, his own electric guitar. His chorus used the Mooney "good party gang" style with every member of the band joining in. It's good, very good, and will give the Mooney original a hard run for the Parade's top spot.

We don't rate Godfrey in the same class with Rey and Mooney. His voice is not strong enough to bring down the house as Cyril Smith could. To clinch our choice, we pick Rey's old-timer flipover of "Spanish Cavalier" above Godfrey's "Thousand Islands Song."

WORLD HEADLINES

LONDON, Feb. 13. A foreign office spokesman today admitted the truth of a Russian charge that the Soviet Union in July, 1945, proposed to Great Britain a joint allied examination of captured German foreign office records. But the spokesman said the Russian proposal was based on inaccurate reports that Britain had received a vast quantity of such documents. Actually, he said, only a few microfilms of documents had reached London and the examination of them was in the early stage.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 13. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., Ohio, said tonight the new deal program for the last 15 years has destroyed freedom of thought and cannot be termed "liberal."

He described himself as a "true liberal," a person "who believes in freedom of thought, and who must be willing to give attentive consideration to new proposals whether he finally agrees with them or not."

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 13. Secretary of State George C. Marshall tonight hailed proposals for a Western European political union as "our great hope" and warned that an adequate and successful Marshall plan for Europe is the world's last chance to avoid communist domination. Marshall delivered the address by radio to the National Farm institute here. The address to the Farm Institute was another of his series appealing for sound legislation to carry out his European recovery program. Advised that the Senate Foreign Relations committee had tentatively approved the 51-months European recovery program with initial spending limited to $5,300,000,000 the first year, Marshall said he did not want to comment immediately. He said he would like to look over the full committee report first.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, U. S. political advisor in Germany, refuses to confirm or deny reports that the Russians have tendered peace feelers to him on the possibility of ending the "cold war," a state department spokesman said tonight. Murphy, according to the reports, was approached by a Russian diplomat in Berlin recently and, in effect, was reported to have sought the terms on which the United States would bargain on the major outstanding issues between the two countries.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13. The story of the Wright brothers, who invented the airplane, will become the subject of a motion picture which Warner Bros. today said it waited 12 years to make. The studio has owned the rights to the screen biography of Wilbur and Orville Wright for more than a decade but agreed when it obtained Orville Wright's consent not to make the picture until after his death.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13—A tornado struck in Mississippi, an ice storm swept up the Ohio valley into eastern states, and floods in five states left thousands homeless today as the nation began its second straight month of severe wintry weather. Deaths attributed directly or indirectly to the weather since Wednesday jumped to 45 tonight, with most of them in the storm-lashed East and South.
