

Duck Poolmen Bow As Marks Broken

By ELWIN PAXSON

Two Northern Division records were shattered yesterday afternoon in the men's pool, as a talent-laden band of Washington swimmers virtually assured themselves of another conference crown by defeating the host Ducks 49-26.

In the opening event on the program, the squad composed of George Heaney, backstroke, Jack Powell, breaststroke, and Dick Campbell, free-style, set a new conference record in the 300-yard medley relay, churning the distance in 3:01. This barely eclipsed the old time established by Oregon in 1940, by .3 of a second.

In the 220 free-style immediately following, the great Pete Powlinson, All-American sprinter last year, stroked his way to a new North Pacific Coast record, bettering a former high mark set in 1934 by fellow Husky Jack Medica. His winning time was 2:12.5.

Vanatta Wins

The invaders piled up an overwhelming lead in the first four races, taking both first and second in all but the medley relay. Bill Vannatta, husky Hawaiian product, finally handed his team a top spot by edging out Jay Follrich if Washington in the 100 free-style, after the two opponents had matched stroke for stroke almost the entire distance.

Oregon's total was again given a sizeable boost in the 150 backstroke, when Earl Walters and Pete Hill teamed together to rack up both first and runner-up. Walters finished several yards in the lead, but Hill was forced to pour on the steam to slip away from the Husky contestant.

The Aquaducks were presented with an additional seven points in the 400-yard free-style relay, when the third Washington entrant was disqualified for diving into the pool before the preceding paddler had actually touched the end of the lane.

300-yard medley relay—won by Washington (Heaney, backstroke; Powell, breast-stroke; Campbell, freestyle. Time—3:01 (new Northern Division record. Old mark 3:01.3 made by Wetmore, Dallas, McDonald of Oregon in 1940).

220-yard freestyle—won by Poulison, Washington; Zema, Washington, second; Thompson, Oregon, third. Time—2:12.5 (new Pacific Coast Conference record. Old mark 2:13.3 made by Medica, Washington, 1934).

60-yard freestyle—won by Trager, Washington; Fellich, Washington, second; Moorhead, Oregon, third. Time—:30.5.

Diving

Fancy diving—won by Sawhill, Washington, 254.7; Newton, Washington, 247.9, second; McCullough, Oregon, 231.2, third.

100-yard freestyle—won by Vannatta, Oregon; Follrich, Washington, second; Dahlen, Oregon, third. Time—:56.

150-yard backstroke—won by Walters, Oregon; Hill, Oregon, second. Hartzog, Washington, third. Time—1:43.6.

Breast-stroke

200-yard breast-stroke—won by Powell, Washington; Eberharter, Washington, second; Amburn, Oregon, third. Time—2:40.1.

440-yard freestyle—won by McArthur, Washington; Zema, Washington; Moorhead, Oregon, third. Time—5:21.5.

400-yard relay—won by Washington (Trager, Heaney, Campbell, Poulison). Time—3:36.4. (New pool record. Old mark 3:42.2 made by Huestis, Mead, Robinson, Nelson, Oregon in 1942). Washington disqualified, Oregon awarded seven points.

Final score: Washington 49, Oregon 26.

Beavers Third In Ski Event

RENO, Nev., Feb. 20—(UP)—Three exchange students from Norway put the University of California ski team in a commanding lead today with their winning performances in the cross-country event during the first day of the ninth annual University of Nevada winter carnival.

The trio, Lief Somerseth, Terje Jacobsen, and Iver Liche, finished one-two-three in a rugged three-mile cross-country race run at Tamarack Flat above the 8,000-foot level of Mt. Rose. Somerseth's winning time was 18:51, considered fast because the 45 competitors had to climb mostly uphill during the run.

The finishers in order following Somerseth, were: Jacobsen, 20:1; Liche, 20:58; Dick Nedeker, U. of Utah, 20:59; J. Stangebie, Fresno State, 21:07; Steve Nedeker, U. of Utah, 21:24; B. Huckins, U. of Utah, 21:36; Phil Peoples, Oregon State, 22:02 and Barnes Berry, Nevada, 22:10.

Team standings after the end of the cross-country, the first event in a three-day program, were: California 100; Utah 94.2; Oregon State 86.67; Nevada 86.59. Fresno State 83.61; Stanford 79.92; Placer junior college 76.39; College of Pacific 69.52; Sacramento college 69.27.

Tomorrow morning the first section of the slalom race will be run on Slide mountain, above the Mt. Rose bowl. The downhill race will be run off in the afternoon.

Bears Win Seventh

Los Angeles, Feb. 20—(UP)—The University of California Golden Bears raced to their seventh consecutive Southern Division basketball victory tonight, weathering a determined second half drive by the USC Trojans for a 53 to 50 win.

Last year the University of Oregon Ski club met with the Suskis of Oregon State and held an inter-club ski tournament. As the Staters had a larger and more influential organization they took care of all the arrangements necessary for holding the meet. They went up to Hoodoo and set the courses, supplied the judges, timekeepers and gatemen, and even went so far as to buy all the trophies. And when the appointed day came, what did the outnumbered Ducks do but win all the events and come home with all the awards.

This year it is the only fair thing for the Webfoots to plan and run the (what is now becoming an annual) affair, and that's just what they're doing. The date is set for March 7 and Saul Zaik, Ski club prexy, and his committees are well along in their preparations.

At the Thursday meeting of the Ski club, Bob Lions from the Obsidians spoke about their annual ski meet which is to be held February 29 at Hoodoo. Lions said that last year the Portland entries outnumbered by far the local talent so if anyone from Eugene is interested in entering the meet, entry blanks may be picked up at Hendershott's.

Next Wednesday and Thursday there will be a booth in the Co-op handling the sale of "Ski Oregon" license plates which will be sponsored by the Ski club. Tuesday's Emerald will have a special feature pertaining to the above sale.

Miss Dorothy Outzs and her ski classes will leave rugs and straw behind and take off for a weekend at Hoodoo where the practical part of skiing will be experienced. Good luck, girls!

Watch for the particulars on some excellent ski movies to be shown Tuesday night at the Woodrow Wilson junior high school. One of them displays the art of mountaineering on skis when roped together, which I would like to see executed.

It will be snowing most of the weekend and trails will have to be broken. Why does it have to snow . . . so long?

All-Stars Humble Frosh Cagers, 41-35

By GLENN GILLESPIE

A red-shirted band of Intramural All-Stars rolled over Oregon's Frosh cagers 41-35 last night in McArthur court, in a preliminary game before the Oregon-OSC varsity game.

The IM basketmakers, with only a short practice period under their belts, lorded it over the Yearlings throughout the contest. Running up a 17-7 lead at the first quarter mark, the All-Stars hit for numerous long shots to pile up a 26-13 edge at the half.

Demaret Quits Orleans Open

New Orleans, La., Feb 20—(UP) The sudden withdrawal of Jimmy Demaret, a red-hot battle over clubs, and a sparkling 67 shot by Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans today marked the second round of play in the $10,000 New Orleans open golf tournament.

The fine play of Haas, whose clubs were the center of one controversy, almost went unnoticed in the tourney's histrionic by-play, but it gave him the lead with a 36-hole total of 134. Tied for second were Bob Hamilton of Reynolds, Ky., and Norman Von Nida of Australia with 139's.

Demaret, of Ojai, Cal., the leading pro money winner of last season, surprised everyone when he picked up his ball on the eighth hole and glumly announced he was "going fishing." The flashy dresser refused to explain himself further. He shot one-over-par 72 yesterday and was doing poorly today.

Haas' clubs apparently didn't figure in Demaret's resignation, but they touched off a loud protest by Bobby Locke of South Africa, runner-up to Demaret for money-winning honors last year.

Junior Players Move to Cal

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 19—(UP) Eight junior college and high school football stars have, or soon will, enroll at University of California, Coach Lynn Waldorff said today.

Already enrolled are Dick Groger, all-city center from Washington high school in San Francisco; and quarterback Jim Green, 170, from San Francisco City College.

Jerry Ginzburg, high for the IM men with nine points, connected with three long, over-the-head two-handers in the first half to lead his squad. Hal Zurcher, playing a top game, hit first for the dream team with only 40 seconds gone. Ginzburg added a pair of baskets before Don Peterson canned a free throw for the Frosh. The Ducklings scored only four field goals in the first half.

The pace slowed in the third quarter, the Frosh scoring only four points, all on free throws, and the All Stars three, on a fielder and a gift toss.

Led by Will Urban, the Little Ducks shaved the IM lead to six points in the final stanza, but Jerry Switzer's left hand came to life for two beautiful pivot shots for the All-Stars.

Jim Vitti's team turned in a fair game, scoring mostly on long shots. They played a rough brand of ball that seemed to be new to the Frosh, controlling the all-important backboards most of the time. Glen Kelley, Bob Kehrli, and Switzer did a good job of tying up Urban and Bob Taggesell.

Urban led his team in scoring with an even 10 points, followed by Peterson with seven. Switzer canned four of those pivot shots to claim second high for the All-Stars. Kehrli and Darrell Hawes each scored seven for the Dream squad.

In an afternoon game, the Frosh overwhelmed St. Mary's of Eugene, 64-32.
