

House Selection For Men's Sing Due on Friday

All-Campus Sing chairmen for living organizations must submit the name of the selection they intend to sing by Friday, according to Jordis Benke and Jerry O'Leary, chairman of the Junior Weekend event.

Men's houses are asked to report to O'Leary at the Beta Theta Pi house, and women's groups may contact Miss Benke at the Pi Beta Phi house.

A minimum of 16 voices is required in each group, and no professional musician or faculty instructor may be chosen for leader. Houses may sing any type of song except fraternal selections.

Preliminary judging will be held April 28 and 29 in McArthur court. The winners of this contest will be featured in the All-Campus Sing during Junior Weekend and the final winners selected from this group.

The large number of living organizations now on campus necessitated holding the first preliminary judging last year. Previously all living groups had sung in the finals on Junior Weekend.

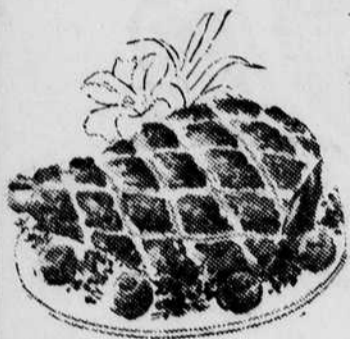

Any student wishing to work on sub-committees for the All-Campus sing may turn in petitions to Miss Benke or O'Leary until Friday. Sub-committees open to publicity, decorations, tickets, and invitations.

Interviews Slated By Goodrich Men

Representatives of the B. F. Goodrich co., Seattle, will be on the campus today to interview men who desire to enter the distribution field as a career, according to Karl Onthank, dean of personnel administration. A general meeting will be held at 9 this morning in Room 6, Friendly hall at which appointments may be made for interviews later.

Representatives will be C. A. Klumb, wholesale supervisor, and P. R. Wineman, district manager of industrial products sales division. They will interview applicants for sales engineers also.

Those qualifying will be given an initial training period of six-months duration. A fixed salary will be received during training and an assignment will be given after completion of training.

Leap Year Baby to Play Lead In Romance Play, 'Dover Road'

By PAT KING

Although you'd never guess it to look at her, Grace Hoffman is only five years old! Born on February 29, she celebrates her birthday only every four years.

This year she had the added distinction of celebrating her birthday on Sunday the twenty-ninth which occurs only three times a century.

Second Year

A sophomore in drama, Grace has her first major role in the University theater as Anne in "The Dover Road," to be presented March 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, and 11 under the direction of Ottilie T. Seybolt. As Anne, she is a likeable, but sheltered, young woman who is swept off her feet by Leonard (Dick Rayburn) and then realizes her mistake under the tutelage of Mr. Latimer (Bob Over).

It is in Mr. Latimer's country home off the Dover road that she and Leonard are subtly held to allow them to reconsider their rash elopement.

Good to Relax

"Being a light comedy, the play will be a good means of relaxation from exam studies," offered the attractive dark-haired Grace. "It also has some good philosophy for would-be rash elopers from college," she added.

A Portland girl, Grace attended Grant high school, where she participated in many plays. She has also played in Civic Theater productions including "Little Women," "Pride and Prejudice," and

Booth Tarkington's "The Fighting Littles." She first became familiar to campus audiences in a small role in "I Remember Mama."

Walls Tumbled

Under the heading of embarrassing moments, Grace submitted a worthy entry by relating the time she slammed a door too hard in a play and the one side of the set came crashing down over her.

Other members of the cast include Don Smith as Dominic, Louise Clouston and Sue Fernimen as Eustacia, Gerald Lundy as Nicolas and Doreen Pitcher as the first maid.

Box office in Johnson hall is now open from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. It will remain open till curtain time on days of performance.

Trial Scheduled For Press Cases

The annual moot trial of the seminar students in law of the press will be staged Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. before "Judge" W. C. Price in 105 journalism building. The trial is open to the public.

Using an actual case of a generation ago, Snyder vs. the New York Press, the re-trial will be conducted on the basis of facts in which a woman sued a newspaper for libel after publication of a report about being served a subpoena when in the bathtub.

Only differences in the trial will be in the modernization of the circumstances and in the name of the newspaper being sued, the Eugene Republican-Grist. A six-man jury of lower-division journalism students will hear the case.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are Les Schlangen, George Skorney, Hsu Kai Yu and Susan McCarrel. Counsel for the defense are Jack L. Billings, Gene Bird, Eugene Killebrew and Lis Gilmore.

Two things every college man should know!

1. This is a poet. Is naturally granted poetic license. But not in passing exams, where it would help. Would have fared better in 18th century. Today horrible fate awaits as radio jingle writer.

2. These are "Manhattan" pajamas. Many people wax poetic over them. They're tailored for real bedtime comfort... plenty of arm and leg room to eliminate binding and creeping. See the exclusive "Manhattan" patterns today.
