

Finalists Chosen for Junior Weekend Queen

Students To Vote For Fete Ruler

Queen to Open Weekend Festivities At All-Campus Sing

Ten junior women, five of whom will rule in the Junior Weekend court May 7 to 9, were chosen as queen finalists last night in the eliminations held at Alumni hall, Gerlinger. The winning candidates include Patty Beaton, Mary Joy Hamm, Mary Handelin, Jean Herndon, Mary Lou Hill, Jean Huffman, Mary Lou Klepper, Sally Schilling, Donna Stageburg, and Nancy Swem.

Judges included Hank Kinsell, general chairman of the Weekend; Bill Russell, Eugene businessman and University alumnus, and Lyle Nelson, University director of information. Joanne Amorde replaced Sue Fernimen, queen of the 1947 Junior Weekend, who was unable to attend the judging.

Students will vote for the Weekend court from the finalists on April 21. Ballots will be counted by a group of Eugene businessmen, who will not reveal the name of the queen until just before the All-Campus Sing on Friday night of Junior Weekend, when she will be crowned.

Moms' Letters Due for Mails

Letters will be sent this week to each living organization and to all Mothers' clubs throughout the state, inviting mothers to the University for Mother's weekend, May 7, 8, and 9, according to Al Pietschman, promotion chairman.

Nancy Peterson, housing chairman, requested that mothers stay in the sororities and dormitories, although a small number of Eugene homes will be available to accommodate the mothers. May 4 has been set as the deadline for arranging housing. Students wishing further information concerning housing of mothers are asked to contact Miss Peterson at the Alpha Phi house.

The April 22 Emerald will be a special "Mother's Week-end" edition, Marilyn Turner, chairman of publicity, said. Special stickers to be used in sending this edition home to mothers will be distributed to the living organizations. Off-campus students may obtain these stickers at the Co-op.

Mary Stadelman, hospitality chairman, requested each living organization to be open for the mothers' visit Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Mothers are invited to the Junior Prom and seating arrangements will be made there for them.

All-Out Registration Drive Planned for University Today

Ad Meet To Open At 1 p.m.

University of Oregon's advertising conference will open at 1 p.m. today with Merle W. Manly, secretary-treasurer of Botsford, Constantine, and Gardner, advertising agency, opening the meeting with a discussion of agency work.

Frank Coffin, assistant director of radio station KGW, will continue the Friday afternoon session with radio as his topic of discussion.

Saturday's morning sessions will begin with a speech on newspaper work by J. B. Twiford, Portland Oregonian, at 9 a.m. At 10:30 a.m., Art Markewitz, vice-president of Bushong's, will tell the students of the technical field.

All Invited

All interested students, as well as advertising majors, are invited to attend, Dr. R. D. Millican, professor of advertising, said. The two-day sessions will be held in room 105, journalism building.

Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising honorary, will serve coffee or coke at 3 p.m., between the two discussions.

An informal dinner, honoring the speakers, will be held Friday evening at the Anchorage, at 6:30. It will be sponsored by Alpha Delta Sigma, men's advertising honorary. All interested students may attend.

The University advertising conference is sponsored by Alpha Delta Sigma and Gamma Alpha Chi.

Notice: Burglars Spare This Safe

It is a sad state of affairs when a man can't get into his own safe, but that's what happened to Charley Hastings of the University postoffice.

A student wanted some stamps early Thursday morning and Charley couldn't open the safe. "Needs graphite," he mumbled as he fought the lock. It took him a half hour to open the stubborn combination, Hastings said.

Booth For Registrants In Co-op

By LARRY LAU

Today has been set aside by campus service groups in a next-to-last-minute drive to increase student registrations for may primaries. A special booth has been set up in the Co-op and deputized students will be on hand from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to accommodate those who wish to make themselves eligible.

Registration deadline is April 20. Townspeople, office seekers and office holders continued to wag their heads in amazement this week as figures released by the county election board revealed that University registration is continuing to keep pace with general registration throughout the county.

Record Possible

Should campus registration top 2000, student votes, for the first time in county history, will comprise 5 per cent of the total.

Number one target for Webfoot votes will be the $20,000 bond issue which, if passed, will restore water to the millrace. Secondary objective will be the two man race for the Republican nomination for the presidency between Harold L. Stassen and Thomas E. Dewey. President Harry S. Truman is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

Number three target will be the five-man gubernatorial race. John H. Hall, seeking to retain his office, is being opposed by Glenn Ackerman, Douglas McKay and John Peyton on the Republican slate. Lew Wallace is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

Cordon Opposed

Oregon's senior senator, Guy Cordon, is being opposed for re-election by two Democrats from Lane county, Manley J. Wilson and Louis A. Wood. Opposing Harris Ellsworth, Republican, for re-election as congressional representative from the 4th district is Robert L. Parsons, Republican, and Elmer B. Sahlstrom and William F. Tauton, both Democrats.

Incumbent secretary of state, Earl T. Newby, is being opposed for re-election by George H. Flagg, Republican, and Byron A. Carney and A. M. Silverman, both Democrats. George Neuner, present attorney-general, is being opposed by Stanley Jones, Republican, and William B. Murray, Democrat.

Voters will find numerous bond issues to improve roads, drainage, increase fire-fighting equipment and build new substations, and to annex additional territory to the city of Eugene. The county-manager plan, one of the most controversial issues to come before the electorate in many years, will also be on the ballot.

Anita Holmes, Barb Heywood To Receive Journalism Awards

Anita Holmes and Barbara Heywood will be introduced as the outstanding freshman and sophomore women in journalism at Theta Sigma Phi's Matrix Table this evening.

Miss Holmes, freshman, has done outstanding work on the Emerald and Old Oregon during the year and is an honor roll student. Miss Heywood has worked on the Emerald for two years and was recently appointed associate editor.

Last year's winners were Phyllis Kohlmeier and Helen Sherman, outstanding freshmen women, and June Goetze and Bobolee Brophy, outstanding sophomore women.

Matrix Table, sponsored annually by the women's national professional journalism fraternity, will begin at 6 p.m. in the Persian room and east dining room of the Eugene hotel.

Helen Ross, mystery story writer and head of the creative writing department at the University of Washington, will be the featured speaker. Honored guest will be Lucille Saunders McDonald, University alumna and editor of the Sunday section of the Seattle Times.

Claire Lewis, junior in music, and Wayne Sherwood, senior in music, will sing semi-classical songs as the musical portion of the program.

Ten pledges to Theta Sigma Phi will be tapped during the evening.

Don McNeil Gets '48-49 SDX Gavel

Don McNeil, junior in journalism, was elected yesterday to the 1948-49 presidency of Sigma Delta Chi, national men's journalism fraternity, at a luncheon meeting at the Del Rey cafe.

McNeil assumes his gavel-wielding duties from Ross Yates, senior in journalism. Another junior in journalism, Larry Lau, was elected vice-president of the organization.

John Benneth, junior in journalism was re-elected secretary, and Warren Mack, junior in journalism, was elected treasurer.

Scouts to Stage Circus in Mac Court Saturday

The 1948 Boy Scout Circus for the Oregon Trail council will be held Saturday night in McArthur court, Roger Bales, council executive, said. The demonstration of Scout skills and activities will begin at 7:30. Seats are not reserved.

Scout units from all central-western Oregon will merge early Saturday to perfect routines and polish for the bi-annual affair.

Indian Dances

Featured on the program will be Indian war dances performed by a full-blooded Indian and Scouts under the direction of Dean McCorkle. The dances will be performed in full costume.

All phases of Scouting are to be represented in the two and one half hour pageant. Cub scouts will entertain with animal acts and circus ringmasters. Scouts will demonstrate numerous skills such as wall scaling, fire by friction, bridge building and first aid. Senior Scouts will fly model airplanes, perform wig-wag flag signalling and show a rescue at sea using the breeches buoy.

The eight-man chariot race has, in past circuses, provided numerous thrills and spills. Teams from each contesting troop will pull two-wheeled chariots around the arena in the fashion of ancient Roman entertainment.

Alpha Phi Omega club, campus preparatory group for the national service fraternity, is cooperating with local Scout officials in staging the show and selling tickets. Ted Baker and Gene Gould are heads of the club's community projects committee.

A committee from Oregon State college's Delta Eta chapter of the fraternity will also send a committee to assist in supervising and administration of the circus.

Tickets are on sale with members of Alpha Phi Omega club at 50c per couple. Townspeople may purchase family tickets at J. C. Penney's or from Boy Scouts. Proceeds will pay for summer Scouting at Camp Luckey Boy on the McKenzie river.
