Musty Emerald Volumes Reveal Annual Mother Day Celebration

By BETTY LAGOMARSINO

For 28 years Mother's day has been a special spring term event at the University of Oregon. And 28 musty bound volumes of past Emeralds tell its history.

The year 1920 saw the first official campus observation in honor of Oregon mothers. The April 22 issue of the Emerald said:

"Plans for making Mother's Day an annual campus day at the University in which mothers of all students will be invited were completed in student council meeting

Wednesday night and a committee was selected to carry out the program for this year."

That first program listed a tea, a "Jitney Dance" (the forebearer of today's Nickel Hop) and evening vesper services at Villard hall as the outstanding events.

Flowers were worn by all students in honor of the Mothers, and wayward sons were tempted to the tea with the lure of "lots of" cookies.

Twenty-one years ago Mother's day and Junior Weekend were combined to make the biggest single occasion of the college year. In those days a canoe fete on the millrace was the main attraction of the holiday. Today the millrace is dry, and so the parade is held on wheels rather than water.

The combining of these two events has given the students an opportunity to show their mothers a sample of the better side of college life.

Candidate to Speak Tonight

Douglas McKay, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor will be the main speaker tonight at the University Young Republican meeting at 7 p.m. in room 3, Fenton hall.

McKay, a Salem businessman, lic schools and is a graduate of A native Oregonian, McKay was born in Portland, educated in pub- of the American Automobile asso- Oregon State college where he was elected president of the freshman class, president of the student body and later president of the Alumni association.

A former mayor of Salem, he has also served as president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce; state president of the Automobile Dealers' association; and state director of the American automobile association.

Three candidates for the Republican nomination for state treasurer will also speak at tonight's meeting: Sigfried Unander, Portland, Howard Belton, Canby, and Ormond Bean, Portland will talk to the group. All interested students are invited to attend tonight's meeting which is being sponsored by the University Young Republican club with the Lane county Republican federation cooperating.

Dean S.W. Little Heads W.C.A.A.

Dean S. W. Little of the school of art and architecture was recently elected president of the Western College Art association while attending the organization's annual conference at Palo Alto, California, April 17.

Dr. Edward Farmer of Stanford university was elected secretary at the one-day conference which was attended by representatives of Washington, Oregon, and California art schools.

Discussions centered around staff teaching loads and general problems of enrollment, Little reported. Next year's conference is scheduled to be held at the University of Oregon with the program to deal with advanced degrees in art.

While in California, Little visited the art department at San Jose state college.
