UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, MAY, 5, 1948

NUMBER 127

Governor Hall to Crown 'Wonderland' Royalty

Ruler, Court to View All-Campus Sing After Climbing 'Dem Golden Stairs'

The honorable John H. Hall, governor of Oregon, will be on hand Friday evening at 8 p.m. to personally crown Oregon's Junior Weekend queen, according to information received by Lyle Nelson, University director of information.

The governor will come to Eugene after a speaking engagement at Milwaukie at 4 p.m. and will be a guest of the Oregon Club at a downtown dinner before the coronation. After the festivities he will leave for another speaking engagement at Roseburg.

Coronation at Sing

The queen will be crowned just before the All-Campus Sing. A platform, of balcony level, reached by golden stairs, will be set up in the south west corner of McArthur court. The queen and her court are to view the sing from this special box.

The court will attend all the events of Junior Weekend, including the picnic, prom, parade, and sunlight serenade. Finalists for queen include Mary Joy Hamm, Nancy Swem, Mary Handelin, Mary Lou Hill, and Donna Stageberg.

Dresses Alike

Pastel dotted swiss gowns with tucked gibbon girl yokes will be worn by the queen and four princesses. A maroon velvet mantle with a white satin lining and a jeweled crown for the queen have been ordered according to Beth Basler, chairman of the coronation committee. The princesses will carry nosegays of sweet peas and gardenias.

Coronation committee members include Miss Basler, Ann Woodworth, Marie Lombard, and Cornelia Hoppe.

Life's UO Shots May Rate Cover

University of Oregon on the cover of Life? Quite likely.

Hank Walker, from Life's Chicago office, and Martin McNeil, from Life's San Francisco office, will be on campus Wednesday and Thursday to record three general type shots as a part of their series on the Stassen campaign in Oregon.

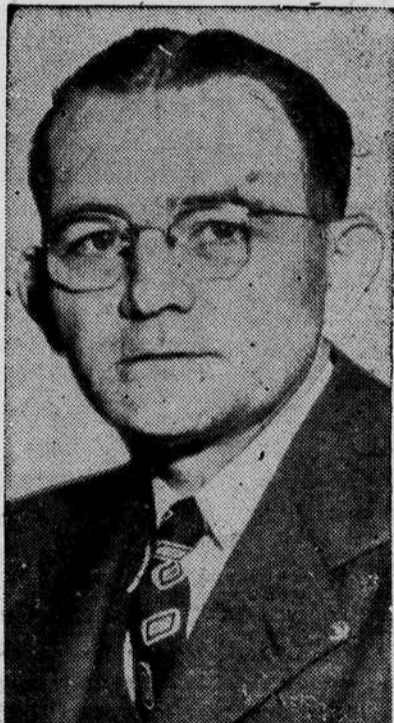

High registration of Webfoots for the primary elections, plus Stassen's popularity on campus decided them on using the University for their student pictures.

The Lifemen hope to get several pictures of a group of coeds mailing out Stassen literature, another group of students crowding a registration booth, and a third group of an automobile caravan bearing Stassen banners.

The first group will be taken sometime Wednesday. The second group will be taken around the Co-op between 10 and 11 a.m. Thursday morning, and the Stassen caravan is slated for Thursday afternoon.

Wesley House Seeks

A meeting of student Wesleyans who wish to work on "The Pioneer," annual Wesley house publication, will be held Thursday evening at 6:30 p.m. at the house, according to Dorothy Christianson, editor. All types of writing and publication skills are needed.

All-campus sing tickets, which are 70 cents, will be needed by all students desiring to attend. The event is in McArthur court 8 p.m. Friday.

The prom will take place Saturday night in the court.

Weekend to Be Previewed At Side Today

"Lots of talent and something different" are promised for this afternoon at 3 at the Side. A show previewing Junior Weekend will be introduced by master of ceremonies Denny Marvin and his assistants, Rod Bright, Bob Nelson, and Dick Perin.

Co-chairmen of the show, Bill Seal and Bev Miller, said Tuesday that Marvin and his "clowns" are "a cinch to see that the crowd is well entertained."

New Talent

Several groups of talent, new to the campus, are promised. A quartet, Bob Kingsbury, Ted Corbett, Millard Kenny, and Denny Marvin, will make their first all-campus appearance.

A favorite with his blues progressions, Robbin Gilbert will sing "Somebody's Got to Go" and will accompany several other performers.

The show will include a feature by Jim Crakes and Ed Peterson—two boys with one piano.

Local Groups Feature

Stan Smith and Newt Thornton, the "wild, wild women" singers, are also promised by the committee members.

The Alpha Gamma Delta trio, Marie Peery, Helen Thorburn, and Mary Lou Timmons, will contribute their talent to the show this afternoon. Another vocal group composed of Fred Van Horn, "Doc" Payne, "Nails" Scroggin, Paul Huntzinger, and Bill Seal are also included in the program. This is their first campus performance.

Tom Dewey to Present World Peace Program

Doors to Open at 7:30 for Students; International Affairs Speech Subject

By DON SMITH

Thomas E. Dewey will speak on international affairs tonight at 8:30 in McArthur court. He will also outline the program which he believes will win the peace. Igloo doors will open at 7:30 p.m. to admit students and townspeople to the speech, sponsored by the University assembly committee.

A "leisurely afternoon" has been planned for Dewey. He will tour the campus in the late afternoon, meeting faculty members and students. Escorting him will be Warren C. Price, chairman of the assembly committee; Lyle M. Nelson, information director; and Dick Williams, educational activities manager.

Eugene is one of the 90 Oregon communities in which Dewey will speak before the May 21 primary.

Dewey Follows Stassen

It has been Dewey's strategy to follow the path made by the Minnesotan several weeks ago, tell the people where he stands, and then let them decide between the two candidates.

Stassen will re-enter the Oregon campaign on May 17 when he arrives at Baker.

More than 12 delegates' votes at the Republican convention in Philadelphia are at stake in the primary. The Oregon campaign will be a show of strength for the two Republican hopefuls.

Controlled Communism

Dewey feels that Communist influence in the United States is at its lowest ebb in history, and is opposed to the Stassen theory that the party should be outlawed.

He believes the Communists can best be controlled and curbed by keeping their activities in the open. Dewey has been opposed by Communists frequently in his long public career.

Radio stations KUGN and KASH will broadcast the Dewey speech locally tonight. KORE will carry the lecture on a statewide program.

In charge of the informal reception for the governor at the Faculty club following the speech will be Dr. Carlisle Moore, assistant professor of English.

Library Contest Entries Asked

Students planning to enter their libraries in the student library contest should get their applications in soon, according to Miss Bernice Rise, circulation librarian and readers' consultant of the library. The deadline for entries is May 6.

Miss Rise said that 47 entries have been made. She is expecting several more next week.

The contest is in three categories; student undergraduate special libraries, student undergraduate general libraries, and graduate student general libraries with specialized fields. The contest is open to all students wishing to participate.

Exam Cheating Brings Suspension

Two men students were suspended from the University this week for cheating in examinations, Vergil S. Fogdall, associate director of student affairs, reported yesterday.

The suspension was made on the basis of evidence supplied by the professor of the class and in accord with provisions of the discipline code, he said.

Dorm Council to Meet

Interdorm council will meet at 6:45 p.m. in the Susan Campbell recreation room. The meeting was originally scheduled at Hendricks hall. Members are asked to note the place of meeting.
