

Dr. Jacobson To Represent UO at Confab

Dr. Paul B. Jacobson, dean of the school of education, will leave Sunday to attend the Pacific Regional conference on UNESCO in San Francisco May 13-15.

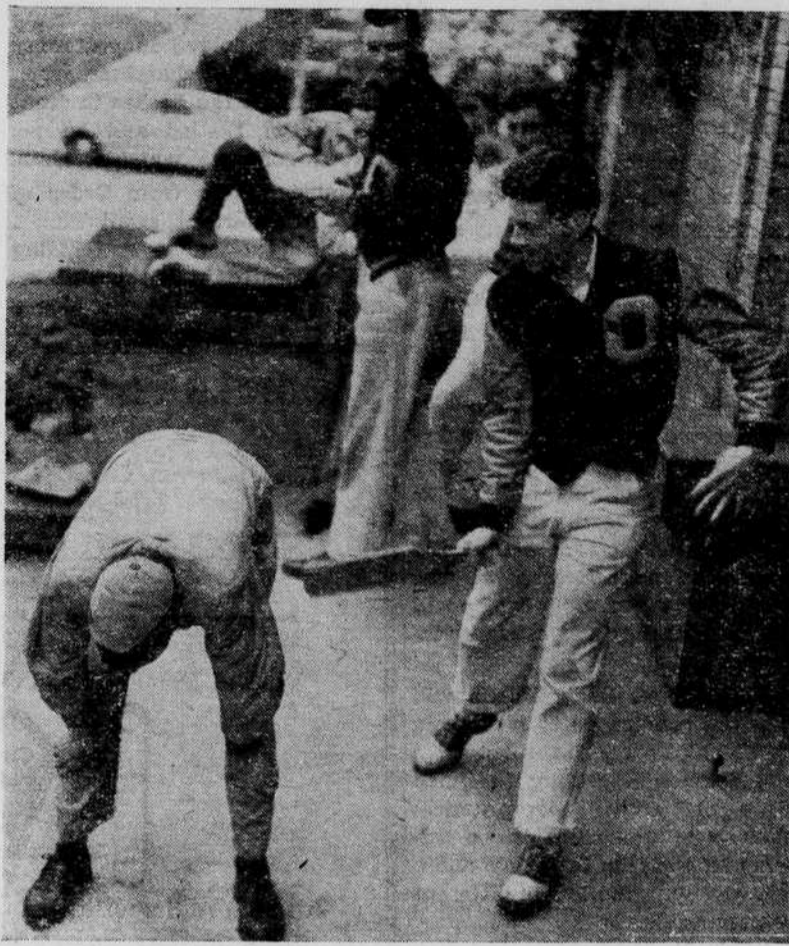

Dr. Jacobson, who is representing the University of Oregon and the American Association of School Administrators, will be one of the approximately 3,000 delegates at the conference. Delegates will come from Hawaii, Alaska, Arizona, California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon and Washington.

Theme of the conference, which will be the first major UN meeting on the west coast since 1945, will be "Meeting Crisis with Understanding," with a sub-theme "You Can Help." Chairman of the convening committee is Mrs. Henry P. Russell of San Francisco.

UNESCO, one of eight specialized agencies recognized by the general assembly of the United Nations, has 40 member nations at present and is organized to promote education, science and culture throughout the world.

Dr. Jacobson will travel south with the superintendent of schools from Corvallis and the two plan to spend two days visiting the University of California and the Stanford university campuses before the meeting convenes.
