

Sing Features Queen's Coronation

Something Different

See the Junior Weekend Preview show today at 2 p.m. at the YMCA.

Daily OREGON EMERALD

VOLUME XLIX

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1948

NUMBER 129

Song Fest Has Varied Program

Governor John Hall To Place Crown On Weekend Queen

After her coronation by Governor John H. Hall, the Junior Weekend queen and her court will witness the all-campus sing from a special box to be set up in McArthur court.

Twenty men and women's houses will compete in the sing. Master of ceremonies will be Stan Williamson, ASUO president.

During the evening 27 seniors will receive diplomas for having their names in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for 1947-48.

Balcony Level

Besides the queen's box, which will be balcony level and reached by golden stairs, decorations will include a book on the stage with each page having the name of the number to be sung. Williamson will turn the pages.

A symphonic group will perform half way through the program. When results are tabulated, the two winning houses will sing again.

Groups will be judged 20 per cent each on tonal quality, (including harmony and intonation) interpretation, and diction, and 10 per cent each on musical arrangement, appearance, and the ability to follow the leader.

Judges Listed

Judges will be H. Johann Eschbach, Melvin Geist, and Tom O'Brien.

All participants should be at McArthur court at 7:30 tonight, Jordis Benke, co-chairman of the sing, said.

The first half hour of the program will be broadcast.

Others working on the sing are Ann Gillenwaters and Barbara Stevenson, decorations; Alex Murphy, general assistant; Anne Woodworth, programs; and Barry Mountain and Frank Rauch, publicity.

Phi Betes Receive Members

Scholastic Group Gets Twenty-One Seniors To Wear Coveted Key

Twenty-one University seniors were pledged yesterday to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary fraternity of liberal arts and sciences, according to Miss Mary Findly, secretary of the organization.

Included in the twenty were Martha Smithe, medical school; Frederick Howatt, mathematics; Ralph Isenase, history; Sylvia Killam, music; Bjorg Hansen, foreign language; Edith Mays, foreign language; Frederick Weber, business; Donald O'Connell, psychology; Ross Yates, journalism; Eugene Zumwalt, English.

Jane Ellsworth, journalism; John Yeager, business; Margaret Holm, English; Beverly Howard, music; Carl Pride, mathematics; Barbara Wyckoff, mathematics; Harriet Heimburger, physics; Phyllis Falk, liberal arts; Robert Frazier, journalism; Robert Pittinger, medical school, and Robert Mass, medical school.

Nan P. Humphrey, sophomore in (Please turn to page three)

Campus Lunch Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the all-campus luncheon, to be Saturday noon on the old campus, will be sold to guests and non-living organization students at a booth to be set up at the picnic site at 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

The admission is 45 cents.

Tickets for the all-campus sing and the Junior Prom will be sold today in the Co-op. They are 70 cents and $2.60 respectively.

Prom tickets are also being sold in men's living organizations.

The Sunlight Serenade, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, is open to everyone free of charge. Punch and cookies will be served at the event, to be in the orchard behind the music school.

Burglar Enters Phi Gam House

Another campus robbery occurred early Thursday morning at the Phi Gamma Delta house, resulting in a loss of about $125.

According to reports the house was entered sometime between 3 a.m. and 5 a.m. by either the fire escape or the front door.

Police Chief Jones said that because of the lack of evidence in such cases they were extremely hard to work on. He said that in studying the previous cases it has been found that they usually occur between the first and seventh of each month and between the hours of 1:30 a.m. and 5:30 a.m.

One Will Be Crowned Tonight

Governor John Hall will crown one of the above coeds "queen of Storybook Wonderland" Junior Weekend tonight at the All-Campus Sing at 8 p.m. She will rule over all the events of the Weekend. From left to right are: Donna Stageberg, Mary Handelin, Mary Lou Hill, Nancy Swem, and Mary Joy Hamm.

Sigma Pi Sigma, Physics Honorary To Install Chapter Monday Night

Installation of the local chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma, national physics honorary, will take place Monday. Dr. Marsh White, professor of physics at Pennsylvania State college and president of the national organization, will officiate at the ceremony.

Following the installation Dr. White will give the address of the evening entitled "Physicists in War and Peace." He will speak beginning at 8 p.m. in room 207 Chapman hall.

Members of the physics department will hold an open house from 9 to 11 p.m. in Deady hall. Various physical phenomena, including the methods for detection of cosmic rays and radio activity, a high voltage Tesla coil, fluorescence of minerals, a radio frequency oscillator, and an oscillograph will be demonstrated. The public is invited to attend this open house.

Charter members of Sigma Pi

Sigma, to be initiated Monday are Dr. A. E. Caswell, head of the physics department; Dr. W. V. Norris, professor of physics; Dr. E. P. Cooper, associate professor of physics;

No Rain Saturday; Thank You, Jupe!

Prayers for no rain Junior Weekend have evidently been answered! According to word received from the weather bureau last night, the forecast for today and tomorrow is partly cloudy.

Showers? "In the mountains, says the weatherman, but we'll hope that they stay away from Eugene."

Sunshine? "Of course, there'll be sunshine even if it is cloudy," he said.

Outdoor lovers and Trudi Chernis may rest easily. The picnic and float parade of "Story Book Wonderland" will not be rained out.

Dr. G. Ebbighausen, associate professor of physics.

Dr. F. W. Paul, associate professor of physics; L. A. Webb, instructor in physics; P. A. Goldberg, instructor in physics; E. L. Johnson, graduate assistant in physics; D. J. Donahue, graduate assistant in physics; E. B. Neher, graduate assistant in physics; W. E. Lotz Jr., graduate assistant in physics; C. E. Sanford, graduate assistant in physics; E. D. Clayton, graduate assistant in physics.

R. S. Paul, research assistant in physics; R. S. Wright, sophomore in liberal arts; R. D. Brown, junior in geography and geology; H. E. Heimberger, senior in physics; T. P. Ashford, graduate student in physics.

Thelma Chaney, senior in mathematics; D. W. Berreman, sophomore in liberal arts; Carl Pride, graduate assistant in mathematics; G. S. Dixon; F. W. Ward; R. D. Williams, research fellow in chemistry.

Concert Slated For Monday

Earl Robinson, American composer, will present a program of musical selections for the Eugene public Monday evening. Robinson, who was scheduled to appear last month, is being sponsored by the Evans Carlson chapter of the Progressive Citizens of America.

Robinson is the composer of "Ballad for Americans," "The Lonesome Train," and "The House I Live In." He has also composed the scores for movies.

Admission to the "Ballad for Americans" party will be 75 cents plus tax and it will be held at the Hampton building, second floor hall A, 610 Willamette street. It will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Eugene Attorney To Speak Sunday

John Luvaas, Eugene attorney, will speak on "In Our Community" at the Lutheran Student association Sunday evening supper meeting in the YWCA this week.

Ed Heide, newly elected president of the group, will lead the devotions and Dale Peterson will give a vocal solo.