

Duck Nine Trips Oregon State, 3-2; Washington Staves Off Vandals, 5-3

Idaho Rally Fizzles In Last Inning

MOSCOW, Ida., May 17—(UP) Bob Jorgensen, University of Washington hurler, struck out pinch-hitter Don Hunt with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to enable the Huskies to clinch a 5-3 baseball win over the University of Idaho here.

With the winning run on base, the strike-out was a heart-breaker to the Vandals who staged a strong rally in the closing inning. Washington made all five of its tallies in the first two innings.

Jorgensen Goes Route

Jorgensen went the route for the Huskies yielding six hits. However, he walked nine men and had to rely on sharp fielding work by his teammates to keep the game on ice.

Fred Klink pitched the first five innings for Idaho before being removed for a pinch hitter. Arnold Beebe went the next three, allow-

Oregon Loses Mentor . . . .

Heldt Resigns as Frosh Coach

Oregon's freshman football and basketball coach, Carl Heldt, announced his resignation from these posts Saturday.

Athletic director Leo Harris accepted the resignation, and at the same time commended Heldt for his work with the grid and hoop teams last fall and winter.

Heldt came to Oregon in the fall of 1947 from the head football and assistant basketball coaching position at La Porte, Indiana, high school. He was the first freshman coach at the University since 1942.

Excellent Record

He came to Oregon with an excellent record as coach and player. As a tackle at Purdue University he earned three letters, and was captain of the team in his last year. When he graduated he was awarded the Big Ten medal for outstanding scholarship and athletic participation.

Heldt played tackle for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the professional National league for two seasons and then took his first coaching job in 1937 at Lehigh line coach, and then frosh basketball coach at Washington university, where he was assistant line coach for a year. He then returned to Purdue and was awarded his masters degree in physical education.

After three years at Peru, Indiana high, where he was head football and track coach, he moved to St. Louis, where he served as ball coach at Washington university.

In 1942 he enlisted in the Navy and served until 1946, when he was discharged as Lt. Commander, to take the post at La Porte. Heldt is married.

Last fall his frosh gridders won one game, tied one, and lost three. The Duckling hoop team was winner in 17 of 22 games.

Golfers Have Bad Weekend

By KEN JOHNSON

Excuses seem to be in order for the performances of the Oregon golf team last weekend. The Webfoots received an 11½ to 6½ shelling from the Portland Pilots Friday and lost a close 15½ to 11½ match to OSC in their Northern Division finale.

Playing without the services of Lou Stafford and Rod Taylor who were unable to make the trip, the Ducks tripped up on the Eastmoreland course in Portland and lost three out of five matches. With Stafford not playing, Tom Marlowe, Portland's ace divoteer, was practically assured a victory and the absence of Rod Taylor hurt. Marlowe defeated Dom Provost 3 to 0 by shooting a two-under-par 70, capturing medalist honors.

Beavers Spring Upset

But the truly unexpected came when the underdog Beavers clipped the Ducks' tail feathers. Again the Webfoots were short-handed because of an arm infection suffered by Provost, regular second man.

Dead-to-the-pin approaches, ordinarily accomplished with great ease by the Oregon linksters, were running long on the fast Corvallis Country club greens and as a result (Please turn to page six)

Beaver Court Team Blanks Racketmen for Second Time

By JOHN BARTON

Oregon's tennis team dropped its second match of the year to Oregon State's netmen Saturday on the Duck courts, 7-0.

Nick Reed and Fred Howard won the only set of the day for Oregon in their number two doubles match against the Beavers.

Beavers Bill Huestead and Erwin Douglas bowed to Reed and Howard 10-8, in the second set of the doubles match. State won the other sets, 6-2 and 6-1.

Bowman Number One

Only one Oregon man, Bert Bowman, retained his original position on the Duck squad, which was changed considerably for the OSC match.

Bowman was downed by Hugh Findly of OSC, 6-1 and 6-2, in the number one singles. Dave Van Zandt, who cracked the team for the number two spot, went down to Beaver Jack Carrothers by 6-3 and 6-2 counts.

Rick Trommlitz, playing number three for the Aggie match, was defeated 6-4 and 6-4 by Erwin Douglas, and number four man Saal Lesser bowed to Bill Huestead 6-2 and 6-3.

Duck Newcomer

Another newcomer on the Duck ladder, Bud Carpenter, lost two straight to Beaver Wes Bringham, 6-1 and 6-4, in the number five singles.

In the number one doubles match, Lesser and Bowman were beaten by Findlay and Carrothers two straight, 6-4 and 6-0.

The second set in the number two doubles match, lone Oregon victory of the day, went the long route, 10-8, before Howard and Reed finally built up the two game edge to win.

Next action for the Ducks will be at Pullman, for the Northern division playoffs, starting on Friday of this week. Going on previous play this season, the Ducks should end up in the number four position, with Idaho behind them.

All Runs Scored At Beginning

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 17. Oregon pushed in three runs in the first inning to defeat Oregon State, 3 to 2, and even their northern division coast conference series at one game each.

All of the scoring was taken care of in the opening inning, as Oregon State tallied its two runs.

The Ducks took full advantage of walks by Beaver pitcher Fred Siri to win. Johnny Koenz opened with a hit, Walt Kirsch walked, and Pat Wohlers sacrificed to advance them.

Bartle Bats in Pair

Dick Bartle then singled to score the first two runs. The final Oregon marker came in as Siri walked the next three batters. The Webfoots batted around in the initial inning, with Don Bedford replacing Siri.

Oregon State's scoring came on two walks, a single, and a sacrifice off Whitey Lokan, the winning pitcher.

Meet Friday

The two teams will renew their rivalry next Friday night in Eugene, when the Ducks and Beavers clash at 8:15 at the civic stadium. The final game of the Civil War series will be held Saturday in Corvallis.

The win for Oregon still gives them a slim chance of overtaking the first place Washington State team. The Cougars have only Idaho left on their schedule.

Score:

Oregon .....300 000 000 3 8 1
Oregon State .....200 000 000 2 7 0
Batteries: Oregon: Lokan and Burgher; Oregon State: Siri, Bedford (1) and Roelandt.
