Girls Plan Taboos For Week

Women's Honoraries To Enforce Rules Set For Ladies' Week

Members of Mortar Board took over the ASUO Executive Council yesterday with Helen Hicks, Mortar Board president, presiding in Stan Williamson's place to decree "Ladies Week" and rules enforceable for all men students today.

The rules are:

1. All men wear knickers.
2. No men to wear shoes on old campus.
3. No cigar smoking on old campus.
4. No walking on the sidewalks.
5. No one to say "hello," particularly on Hello Walk.
6. All freshman men to wear green hair ribbons.

The councilwomen also recommended that women walk on the outside, drive cars, and that they can smoke while walking but that men should not. Women are advised to shun the violators and cancel invitations to the Mortar Board Ball if their dates are offenders.

The regulations will be enforced by women's honoraries with punishment scheduled to be held tomorrow from 12:30 to 1 p. m. in front of the College Side. For turnabout enforcement, members of Mortar Board, Phi Theta Upsilon, WAA cabinet, YWCA cabinet, and committee chairman for the dance will don Order of the O sweaters. Kwamas will wear Skull and Dagger sweaters and ten members of Phi Theta Upsilon will wear Druid's scarves.

Free 'Cigs' For Friday Dancers

The American Tobacco company will give away free to every student of the University who attends the Mortar Board ball, May 21, a package of Lucky Strike cigarettes. George Kaye, division manager, announced this week that this is part of a nationwide publicity campaign and there are no strings attached to the offering.

Tickets will be on sale at the Co-op for the annual all-campus dance until Thursday noon, Sally Mueller, ticket chairman, said yesterday. House sales will end today and she advised all house representatives to give their money to Jackie Barbee at the YWCA today. The price is $1.50 a couple.

Billie Jean Riethmiller, Kwama president, recommended that all freshman women attend the dance for the Kwamas will tap new members in intermission. The recipients of Kwama scholarships will be announced at the same time.

Gretchen Fraser, 1948 Olympic skiing champion, who will be introduced in intermission, and Sally Mueller, intermission chairman, said that other entertainment has been planned.

New members of the senior women's national honorary will be guests of honor at the dance.

Proceeds from the dance go toward the Mortar Board scholarship fund.

Mortar Boards Prepare to Enforce New Law

Mortar Board members try on lettermen's sweaters that they will wear today. Members of the women's honoraries will enforce rules for "Ladies Week."

Registering Plan Halts Tie-ups

A change in enrollment for next fall term, "as a means to end registration lines and enrollment tie-ups," was announced yesterday by Registrar Curtis E. Avery. The University will revert to an appointment system procedure which will give each student a special time on which to pick up registration material.

Students will be given special cards, which may be picked up in the main corridor of Emerald hall beginning Thursday. They are to be filled out and upon return checked by a clerk at the hall for completeness, Avery stated.

On the basis of the card, the student's eligibility for registration will be determined and during the summer he will be given an appointment for freshman week of fall term to pick up his registration material. It is especially important that the appointment notices be kept to insure getting material with less trouble, he said.

With the new procedure, Avery

Students Urged To Pick Up Oreganas

Oreganas will be distributed today from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 5 in the southwest of McArthur court. Students are requested to pick up their books as soon as possible to facilitate clearing up of business. The year book was first distributed last Thursday.

Voting Precincts Ready for Ballots

Voting precincts where the University's 2124 registered voters may cast their ballots in the Oregon primary elections on Friday, May 21, were reported to the University yesterday. University living organizations have now been divided into six precincts, covering the entire campus area.

All voting places will remain open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Friday.

Voters in precinct 20 will vote in the residence at 618 E. 11th st. Houses included in this precinct are Beta Theta Pi, Chi Psi, Gamma

ISA Announces Platform Points

A seven-point platform was announced Tuesday by the Independent Students' association, in behalf of their slate of candidates, which is headed by Bob Henderson, Yeomen, and Helen Nickum, University house.

The platform follows:

1. Political parties to hold open, direct primaries.
2. Intramurals managed by students (meetings of the athletic managers of all halls) to organize a program whereby the weaker teams not be pitted against the strong teams until the finals.
3. Student body and class constitutions to be published, and at least one copy of the ASUO constitution to be placed in each living organization. In conjunction with this, student executive meetings should be completely covered by the Emerald.
4. Revival of the 11 o'clock assemblies to provide:
  - a. an opportunity for exchange assemblies,
  - b. opportunity for presentation and discussion of student problems,
  - c. education through lectures,
  - d. entertainment and development of student talent through rallies, and
  - e. the students with a better chance to know their student officers, coaches, teams and faculty.
5. Presentation of a budget of the year's educational activities and of a platform to the students via the student body meetings and the Emerald.
6. Working with the Administration, Mr. DuShane, and the faculty to institute a better student counseling and orientation program. This orientation could be handled by the sophomore class, even to the publication of a student handbook similar to those published by other schools.
7. Backing of the new Rally Administration Board.

The candidates for No. 1, and No. 2 positions are Bob Henderson and Helen Nickum.

Ad Group Elects Prexy

EARL WALTERS

Earl Walters, junior in advertising was installed as the new president of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national advertising fraternity, at a business meeting Tuesday night in the journalism building.

Immediately after the gavel was turned over to Earl for the coming year by the outgoing president, Don Persinger, Tom McLoughlin was installed as the new vice-president, and Al Ruedy as secretary-treasurer.

Earl, a member of Beta Theta Pi, and captain of the swimming team last season, has already started preparations for next year.

Tom, a member of Chi Psi, has been day manager on the Emerald and has been active in advertising work.

The office of secretary-treasurer next year will be held by Al Ruedy, a junior in advertising, a member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity, and day manager on the Emerald.

USAParty Establishes Principles

Financial Backing Presents Problem To New Organization

Financial problems plagued the United Students' association yesterday afternoon in their first formal meeting, at which the group also drew up a "declaration of principles."

Further problems of the new political party will be ironed out in an open meeting at 4 p. m. today in room 105 Commerce. All interested persons are invited to attend today's meeting, USA President Warren Miller said.

House contributions, the common means of soliciting political funds, are not possible for the USA because the organization represents itself as a group of individual students rather than as a bloc of houses. The 25 students who attended the meeting were urged to solicit contributions from interested parties.

The "declaration of principles," drawn up by the group yesterday, follows:

"We want as candidates thinking people who will accept responsibility, who will act for no single organization or group but who will be responsible to all University students.

"We want candidates as individuals not as organization representatives. We will not tolerate pressure group control of our candidates; they will be elected to act on their own initiative.

Our candidates were chosen on the basis of the broadest possible representation of all segments of the University and for their individual capabilities.

"We appeal to support from the individual, not from the house or organization. Our policies are established in open meetings. We are motivated by a desire for responsible student government, responsible to the students who elect the officers, and respected by the faculty and administration.

"We want to provide efficient student government for all of the students. We are tired of a party for party's sake; we want a party for the University's sake.

"We intend to be a permanent group, offering each year a slate of candidates picked upon their merit and without regard to their social affiliations."

ASUO Meeting In Igloo at 7:30

Nominees for the number one and two ASUO positions will speak tonight at the nominating assembly at 7:30 in McArthur court. Nominations for all ASUO positions will be accepted tonight by President Stan Williamson.

Doors will open at 6:30 to admit students. Williamson has requested all persons to be nominated to sit near the front of the court to expedite proceedings.

Three campus political parties—Affiliated Students' association, Independent Students' association, and the newly formed United Students' association—have already met in party caucus and selected their candidates.

Positions open include ASUO number one and two; senior, junior, and sophomore representatives on the executive council; class positions.
