

Ladies Week Violators Bagged By 'O' Women; Result--Wet!!

By DONNA KLETZING

The Order of the O men turned out in force to meet the new Order of the O women yesterday in front of the Side, both, incidentally, getting hit from above, below, and around, with water bags.

The men mingled with the spectators instead of appearing as violators, but the craftiness of the women picked out the men and the waterbagging began. The activity girls appeared to be out of practice with their swinging arms and the bags consistently missed their targets. Finally Barbara Borrevick began hitting from below with buckets of water.

Wayne Bartholomy should be crowned the King of Chintze according to Kay Schneider, Mortar Board ball chairman. He showed up when it was almost over. A minor riot started when he appeared, but more of the women were hit than the Big Chintz.

Bob Wallace retreated to the backroom of the University Sport Shop when the overpowering Order of the O girls started after him. His boss "protected little Bob by locking him in the storeroom. He apparently didn't want him to get wet," was the comment by Miss Sneider.

Jake Leicht was hit squarely on the head with a full bucket of water; Robin Arkley got it sitting down; Roger Wiley put up a good fight but lost in the end; and Ross Yates and Marv Rasmussen, to mention just a few, took their share. The women took vengeance on Ed Crobat after his Junior Weekend lists, and Al Peitschman came prepared with a cellophane covering.

The fellows did not give up, however, and the Sigma Chi hose was put into use against the O Women and the curious bystanders. Chairman Schneider said "Fair warning" to the Sigma Chis. The hose incident seemed to put a fiendish idea into the O Men's heads, however, and the dunking party ended with both the defense and the opposition getting drenched.

If the spirit of the water bagging is extended to the Mortar Board Ball, those attending "Ladies Night" at Mac Court tonight will see a crowded dance floor, said Miss Sneider.

ISA Postpones Elections

ISA elections were postponed until June 3 last night after an ISA nominating assembly decided that the previous May 27 date followed the ASUO elections too closely. Nominations for ISA positions will be open until midnight Monday. Petitions may be submitted to ISA. President Joe Conroy at Sherry Ross hall.

Student Pastor To Speak Sunday

Rev. Lloyd Jacobsen, student pastor of the Portland Lutheran Student Association, will be the guest speaker at the University Lutheran student Sunday supper meeting.

Rev. Jacobsen's topic will be "Our Social Responsibility: War and Peace."

Originally the student pastor at the University of California at Berkeley and formerly a navy chaplain, Rev. Jacobsen is vitally interested in student affairs and their relation to lasting peace.

Music for the evening will be a piano solo by Joan Triolo, a trio consisting of Donna and Cleo Stageburg, and Janet Kelsey will sing.

Service Group Meeting Slated

Alpha Phi Omega preparatory group will install officers Sunday at 2:30 at Westminster house. Virgil Tucker will replace Bob Stephensen as president of the group which is petitioning for campus recognition.

Herbert Kariel will be installed as vice president. Al Ruedy and Harry Lamley will assume duties of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Special Kwama Meeting

There will be a special Kwama meeting at 12:30 p. m. today at the Alpha Gamma Delta house. Billiejean Riethmiller, Kwama president, announced that attendance is mandatory.

The new officers will direct the group until November.

Aspiring to charter membership in the national service fraternity, the group has completed projects of service to the campus and to the community. It assisted during Homecoming and Junior weekend and the high school basketball tourney.
