The University counseling center now has a machine which knows all the answers. But don't get any ideas about borrowing it. Six men were required to help carry it up to the second floor of Emerald hall where the center is located.

This electrical test-scoring machine was used this fall to grade placement examinations of entering students, and will be used in the future for tests given by the counseling center and for mid-term and final examinations, said J. Spencer Carlson, director of the counseling center.

By means of electrical currents, the scoring machine adds right answers and subtracts wrong ones, registering the score in a matter of Johnny, gave him the inevitable speech. It began in best popular-novel form: "This is the hardest thing I will probably ever be called upon to do, John, but we feel—I feel, that is—that it would be better if we thought things over and didn't go steady any more. After all, I mean, one of the most broadening aspects of college life is the variety of people one is able to meet. And we can still be very good friends, you know."

In the next three weeks he felt that he had died a thousand deaths." But he evidently had a thousand and one lives, for he is still kicking around here. You've probably met him. He looks quite normal.

Papers from other schools and testing centers will also be scored here, Mr. Carlson reported, and the machine will greatly speed up the general testing program. The only other machine of its kind in the state is located at the testing center in Corvallis.

GET NEXT TO...

Johnny Long's "JUST LIKE THAT"—
from the Signature diskerie.

Johnny Long (Duke University—Sigma Nu) comes up with a danceable, bright bounce. It's a Long original! If you should ask Johnny how he came to write it, he'll light up a Camel and say: "Experience! I know from experience what music suits my band best—just as I learned from experience that Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T'."

Try Camels on your "T-Zone"—"T" for taste, "T" for throat. See for yourself why, with Johnny Long and millions of other smokers, Camels are the "choice of experience."
