

Writing Critic Will Address Newman Club

Highlighting the Newman club program for church night, Friday, will be Rev. Harold C. Gardiner, S.J., Ph.D., noted literary critic. Father Gardiner will discuss "Great Books and the Catholic Tradition." The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in room 207, Chapman hall. A dance will be held in Gerlinger annex at 9 p.m. following the lecture.

Father Gardiner, the literary editor of American Liberal Catholic weekly, is the author of "Tenets for Readers and Reviewers." He is making an overnight stop at Eugene while traveling to San Francisco for his Western speaking tour.

Ph.D. from Cambridge

Father Gardiner studied at Woodstock college in Belgium and at Cambridge university where he received his Ph.D. He was professor of English and the classics at Canisius college.

The dance, under the direction of George Yost, sophomore in liberal arts, will be a record affair. Campus clothes will be worn. Refreshments will be served.

Catholic students and their guests are cordially invited to the Church night program, Fran Maula, president, announced.

Religious Week Head Named

Dave Seaman, director of Wesley foundation, and Warren Webster, junior in liberal arts, have been named co-chairmen of Religious Evaluation week, October 10 to 14.

They said the week is set aside annually for religious emphasis or evaluation. Eight speakers have been scheduled for the four-day session.

Committee Host

Chairman Seaman and Webster announced the following committee heads for the week: Clell Conrad, forums and seminars; Lou Weston, morning worship; Ed Heide, Sunday meeting in McArthur court.

Ella Mae Kelly, classroom engagements; Shirley Fossen, hospitality; Helen Sherman, publicity; Velma Snellstrom, programs; Art Johnson, finance; Pat Williams and Bob Kingsbury, firesides and dinners; Gloria Seaman, breakfasts.

Churches Prepare For Open House

University religious council's annual church night is in its last stages of preparation before the open houses tomorrow night.

Several local religious groups, including Wesley house, Westminster house, Plymouth house, Canterbury club, Newman club, the Baptist, Christian and Lutheran churches will take part. Most of these organizations have definite entertainment scheduled.

Student attendance will not be limited to one church, but rather all houses will be open to those interested. Location of various organization, entertainment planned and time will appear in tomorrow's Emerald.

The healthfulness of life in the country in the old days is seriously questioned by a physician who is currently treating a victim of square dancing.

September Exhibit Will Feature Oregon Centennial As Theme

The Oregon Centennial is the theme of the September exhibit now being shown in the circulation room of the University of Oregon library.

Among articles featured are facsimiles of early newspapers and an original copy of the first edition of the Oregon Spectator, dated February 5, 1846. This was the first paper published west of the Missouri.

A photostatic copy of the 14 pages of the Act of Congress, August 14, 1848, inaugurating the Oregon territory, is also on display, along with some letters of Medorum Crawford, an early settler.

In one letter Crawford tells of the discovery of gold in the Willamette and Rogue river valleys. This letter carries the date June 25, 1850.

Several photographs of frontier life complete the exhibit.

National YMCA Elects UO Grad

Bjorg Hansen, president of the YWCA last year, was elected to the National Administrative committee of the student YWCA at the national Intercollegiate Christian council and United Student Christian council conferences at Green Lake, Wis., this month.

Her sister, Lou Hansen, was elected National Student YWCA chairman. She presided in the absence of the president at the last NICC meeting. Both girls will attend the Union Theological school.

Psych Test Today

All Freshmen and transfer students who missed the Ohio psychological placement examination should plan to attend the make-up test given today at 1:30 in Room 3 of Fenton Hall. English and mathematics make-up tests are given every day at 1 o'clock in Room 213 of the counselling center.

At the annual summer conference at Seebeck, Billie Jean Reithmiller was elected finance chairman and Mrs. Paul Ellis of the YWCA advisory board was elected one of three adult members of the regional executive committee.

Tyler Relates Summer Work

Dr. Leona E. Tyler, of the Psychology department, reports a very closely scheduled summer. She taught during the summer session at the University of British Columbia at Vancouver, B. C. Following this, she spent several weeks traveling through Jasper National Park, the Canadian Rockies, and concluding her trip at Lake Louise.

Also, during the summer, Dr. Tyler acted as a consultant for the Veteran's Administration in a series of institutes on the use of psychological tests in counseling. She served at Seattle, Washington, Helena, Montana, and at Boise, Idaho.

Dr. Tyler is now back at the U. of O. for her duties here.

WAA Plans Trip

The WAA outing club will sponsor a bike trip to Fernridge Dam next Saturday after the Oregon-Michigan football game broadcast.

All girls are invited and are asked to bring 40 cents for food. Jeans will be in order for the affair.

Emerald Manager Has Pins To Plant

"I have 11 pins to plant," moans Virg Tucker, Emerald business manager.

Before the grand rush begins, ladies, Tucker explains that he has received 14 Emerald pins, awarded to veterans of two years' work on the University publication. So far only three students have claimed their pins—two boys and one girl.

"I insist on more girls," Tucker quips, adding that if the other 11 workers fail to claim their pins in his office, he will plant them elsewhere.
