Sain Outduels Feller, 1-0, in Series

BRAVES FIELD, Boston—(AP)—The underdog Boston Braves, behind Johnny Sain, won the first game of the world series yesterday by beating the Cleveland Indians and their ace, Bob Feller, 1 to 0.

Feller pitched a world series classic—a brilliant two-hitter—but Sain blanked the American league champions with four safe blows.

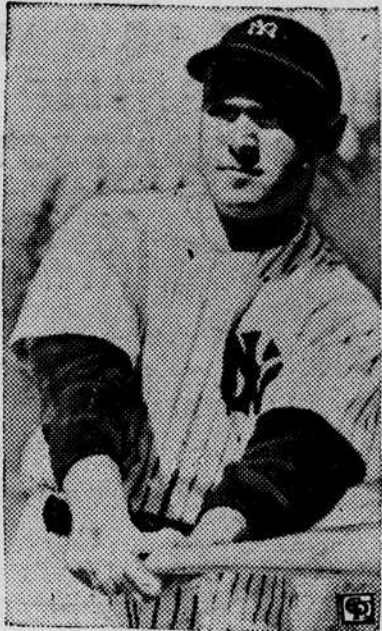

Tommy Holmes, Braves' right-fielder, sent the National leaguers out in front in the big playoff by singling cleanly over third base in the eighth inning to score Phil Masi, a pinch runner, from second. The only other hit off Cleveland's great fireballer was a single by Marvin Rickert in the fifth.

A partisan crowd of 40,135 sent up a roar that must have raised ripples on the nearby Charles river when Holmes, a left-handed batter, crossed up the Cleveland's defense by hacking an outside pitch to left. Before the Indians could collect the ball, Holmes slid into second and another pinch runner, Sibbi Sisti, reached third.

That was the only thing approaching a score in the tingling contest. Six Indians reached base on Sain, two of them on errors by third baseman Bob Elliott. Five of them reached second, but not a one spiked third as the tall, tough righthander bore down to strike out six men.

Jubilant at Sain's magnificent performance, Manager Bill Southworth announced he would fire his second ace, southpaw Warren Spahn at the Tribe in today's second tussle. Spahn won 15 games this season, but has been below his best for several weeks.

Bob Lemon, the former outfielder who won 20 games in Cleveland's pennant drive, was Boudreau's choice to try to tie it up and send the two clubs into the third battle at Cleveland on Thursday all even.

Feller, a magnificent figure in defeat, brought on his own downfall when he issued his second walk of the game to catcher Bill Salkeld to open the fatal eighth. Masi went in to run for his fellow backstop, and reached the middle bag on a perfect sacrifice by Mike McCormick. Eddie Stanky, a dangerous hitter in the clutches was purposely passed and Sisti was put in to run for him.

When Sain lined viciously to right for the second out it looked as though Bullet Bob might pull through safely. As he started to pitch to Holmes he whirled and snapped a throw to Manager Lou Boudreau which very nearly got Masi as he slid desperately back.

Cost of Women Soars to 26 Rugs

That women are more valuable than men was demonstrated at the Side yesterday afternoon at the AWS auction when the Pi Kappa Alphas succeeded in purchasing the "hashing" services of the Alpha Phi sophomore class for a sum of $26.00. The girls will serve one night at dinner.

In contrast, the Phi Gamma Deltas, who put on a show with an orange speckled bird and a song of the same title, netted $21.75 for the AWS treasury. The Fijis will entertain at dinner at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Mike Mitchell, resplendent in a black derby hat, and flashing a nondescript cane at prospective bidders, served as auctioneer.

A large crowd surged forth into the street blocking traffic at the height of the auction. Closest bidding for inanimate objects was attracted by a red umbrella and a gold bracelet.

Other lost and found articles auctioned at the annual sale were books, pens, billfolds, scarves, purses, raincoats, class notes, pencils, jewelry, and a floor lamp. ### Hollis Returns From Midwest Inspection Trip

John Orlando Hollis, dean of the law school at the University, returned to the campus Tuesday afternoon from a trip on which he traveled to two midwestern universities to examine their law departments.

First stopping off in Palo Alto for the Stanford-Oregon football game, Dean Hollis, then flew east to Chicago and Champaign-Urbana, where the University of Illinois is located. There, Dean Hollis spent much of his time looking over the law school and law library. He also took the opportunity to inspect the student union building at Illinois university to learn its methods of operation.

Visits Michigan Plant

Having satisfied his interests there, Dean Hollis turned north to Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan. Here, he went through the law library and school, which is considered one of the finest legal plants in the United States due to a large sum of money put at the law school's disposal by one interested in advancing its purposes.

Dean Hollis also had the chance to talk with Professor Aigler who, besides being on the law faculty, is the faculty-athletic representative in the big nine.

Poll Reveals 50 Per Cent Favor Lottery Distribution For 1500 OSC Game Tickets; No 'First Come'

by BETTY LAGOMARSINO and VERN HAMMOND

A lottery method of distributing the 1500 OSC game tickets was favored by 50 per cent of the students interviewed in an Emerald poll yesterday.

"First come, first served" placed, with a 25 per cent vote. The seniors questioned unanimously favored distribution on the basis of seniority, rolling up 15 per cent of the total opinions. Ten percent of the interviewees spoke for proportionately dividing the tickets among the living organizations.

All but one of the persons questioned want to see the game—but again only one admitted willingness to pay "scalpers" prices for a ticket.

Although the lottery plan won, few of its supporters were sure of how it should be conducted, except that "it must be fair and not stacked." One girl suggested using "every tenth number among the student body cards."

Few Worried

Several of the students weren't worried about missing the game. "I can always get a ticket from my buddy at State," one man put it.

One pessimist said "Well, we can all pray for rain and then so many couldn't go anyway."

ASUO president Bob Allen believes that the lottery is the least complicated and the most fair method practicable. "The first come way is definitely out," he added, and stressed that if a lottery is used it will be completely fair.

Proportion Plan

Marilyn Turner, business manager of Old Oregon, favored distributing the tickets to the living organizations in proportion to the number from each house wishing to attend. She emphasized that no student should be allowed more than one ticket.
