

Onthank Lists Job Openings Offered Seniors

Calls for men graduating during the current year are being received every day in the graduate placement office, according to Karl W. Onthank, director.

These employers wish to get in touch with prospective graduates long before graduation. Accordingly, seniors should register at once with the office.

"The best positions ordinarily go to those who file their credentials early and so come immediately to the attention of employers," said Onthank yesterday.

Below is a brief summary of positions currently being offered:

1. San Francisco department store: Young man for merchandising and store administration. 2. Eastern insurance company; mathematics graduate for actuarial work.

3. Los Angeles roofing manufacturer: two men to learn the business, in either sales or administration. 4. Accounting and office machinery concerns: salesmen in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland branches.

5. Portland produce concern: young graduate for trainee as prospective cold storage plant superintendent. 6. International banking concern: single men for overseas service training. 7. International petroleum corporation: men for March foreign service training program. 8. Major automobile manufacturer: men for training class, starting in January. Will have representative on campus soon.

Typists Wanted

Students interested in sending letters to alumni county directors have been asked to contact Paul Johnston at the Delt house.

Several people are needed to type the letters that are to be sent to the county directors, informing them about the annual homecoming weekend. Johnston may be reached by calling 940.

Radio Schedule

ute musical program, "Something For You," featuring the singing of Eleanor Culver is scheduled on KOAC only.

The first production of the University radio workshop, "Gardenias: Ten Cents," will start on KOAC this afternoon at 4:30.

The production, which is directed by Paul Ryman, depicts the life of the lower classes struggling for a living by peddling gardenias in the heart of New York's gay white way. This is done without the blessing of the police department. The peddlers' problems reach a perplexing climax when plagued by a couple of young hoodlums who try to cut in on the small profits by organizing a "union" and charging dues.

Players Listed

Featured in the play are Bob Croissant, Gordon Burbee, Marty Weitzner, Carol Jo Driskell, and Anne McGeorge. Norman Lamb is the announcer.

Included in the cast are Charles Hucka, Irving Steinback, Paul Wexler, Ray Des Lierres, Marlys Sinclair, Milt Rieter, Jay Ryersie, Marge Trushon, and Don Collins. On sound effects are Steve Button and Bob Reinhart.

The dramatic talent of 10-year-old Richard Gale, who lives next door to the studio, is also included in the production. Richard, according to Ryman, "just stuck his nose in once while we were rehearsing. We needed a kid so we grabbed him."

Short On Dough? Try WAA Fun Nite

"Fellas! Want a date that doesn't put a dent in your pocket-book?" asks Bep McCourry, WAA president.

"If you do, grab yourself a girl and come to the first Co-Recreational Fun Night tonight," she continues. "Here are the vital statistics:

"Time: Tonight, 7:30-11.

"Place: Gerlinger hall.

"Girl: You get her!

"Tennis shoes: You'll need them too."

There will be badminton (you bring the rackets), volleyball, ping-pong, swimming, square dancing, ballroom dancing, and table games, according to Miss McCourry. Refreshments will also be available.

Homecoming Sign Judges Announced

Judges for this year's Homecoming sign contest have been announced by Tom McLaughlin, chairman.

They are Bob Hanrahan, professor of art; Mrs. Paul Means, English instructor; Mrs. Hally Huntington, UO alumnus and resident of Eugene; Donald M. DuShane, director of student affairs; and Miss Patty Beaton, art student.

This list is not complete, but the full roster will be released soon, McLaughlin stated.

"Sign ideas are coming in all along," he said, "but I would like all house sign chairmen who have not yet done so to turn their themes in to me at the Chi Psi Lodge."

VA Counsellors To Give Advice

The Veterans Administration will extend its personal counseling service to ex-GIs of this area every other Thursday, effective October 7, at the VA's guidance center in Emerald hall. The service is to be conducted by Herbert Schnare, counselor from the Portland regional office.

Ex-service men may request personal counseling by writing to the VA, either in Eugene or Portland. Veterans are advised not to report for counseling until they are notified of a definite appointment.

Consultations are made without charge, are private, and strictly "off the record," according to Donald Schworer, campus representative. They are available to any veteran with a personal problem or emotional conflict.

Y W Meeting Tues.

The first open membership meeting of the YWCA will be held Tuesday noon at the bungalow when Dr. Frank Williston, a Religious Evaluation Week speaker, will conduct an informal discussion on his work in China.

A professor of far east at the University of Washington, Dr. Williston spent some time in China with UNNRA about two years ago.

All members of the YWCA are invited to attend and are asked to bring their own lunches.
