Kwamato Offer Freshmen Help

A freshman counselling service is being inaugurated in all independent women's houses this year by Kwama, sophomore women's honorary. Purpose of the service is to acquaint new students with activities and school functions, in order to promote interest in them, said Emily West, chairman. Two Kwamas will visit each dormitory and co-op every two weeks to explain new opportunities in the activity field that have appeared. Sororities are not included in the plan, due to arrangements made in each house for freshmen to become familiar with activities. Houses on their list include Hendricks, Susan Campbell, Gamma, Alpha and Zeta halls, and Ann Judson, Highland, Rebec and University co-operative houses.
