Gatemen To Check Tickets

Athletic business manager Howard Lemons has announced that activities books will be checked at the gate before next Saturday's game, to prevent non-students from occupying the Oregon rooting section.

This action is being taken as the result of numerous student complaints about obvious non-students, "old men and kids," who have been gaining admission to games with student booklets.

Student Complaint

Said Lemons: "We want it understood that we are taking this action only because we have had many complaints from students. We don't like to do it, but it is a necessary step to assure Oregon students of getting the best possible seats. We want every student using his own book to get a seat, but we don't want non-students in student seats."

Lemons further cautioned that ASUO cards will not be considered sufficient identification, and that the only sure way to get into the stadium will be to use individual books, along with proper identification. Students should avoid loaning or selling their books to outsiders or to other students. Any such acts will result in the confiscation of the books.

Nine Guilty

Nine students used booklets from a previous term to gain admission to the Portland game last week. No action will be taken on these violations, since students had not been warned against this. However, the guilty students are known to the ticket office, through checks on the ticket numbers.

Y Petitions Sought

Petitions for house chairman of the YWCA are being accepted until Wednesday at the Y bungalow. Only sophomores or above are eligible for the cabinet position, Laura Olson, president, emphasized.

The house chairman will be in charge of all furnishings, maintenance, and supplies for the bungalow.

President Newburn Subs For Dean

Students entering Dean Paul B. Jacobson's 11 o'clock class in secondary education yesterday were greeted by University President H. K. Newburn, a former professor of education.

Due to heavy enrollment in the school of education, a professor on limited service because of a throat infection, and another scheduled to go to the hospital for a major operation, no one else could be found to take the class when Dean Jacobson was called out of town for two days.

Vets May Work And Draw Aid

Veterans attending school full time under the G.I. bill may work part-time and still draw full subsistence pay, according to the Veterans Administration.

The only income limitation applies to the amount of subsistence paid within combined ceilings. Actually a veteran may earn as much as he wishes on outside jobs, though it may reduce his VA checks.

Ceilings for combined earnings and subsistence are: $210 monthly for veterans without dependents; $270 with one dependent; and $290 with two or more dependents. If a veteran's earned income plus subsistence allowance exceeds the monthly ceiling, the VA must reduce its payments to an amount which will keep him within the limit.

Subsistence Amounts

Full subsistence amounts to $75 a month to a single student, $105 if he has one dependent, and $120 to a veteran with two or more dependents.

When a veteran enrolls, he must certify as to his expected income, so the VA can determine his subsistence. Material changes in earnings should be reported to the VA.

Radio Tryouts Held Wednesday At 4

Tryouts for the radio workshop presentation of the University radio studios will be held Wednesday at the studios at 4 p.m., Glenn Starlin, program director, announced yesterday.

Anyone interested is welcome to come, Starlin said. The radio workshop presents a half-hour play on station KOAC each Friday afternoon at 4. Tryouts will continue to be held each Wednesday.

Seniors Register For Civil Service

Seniors interested in positions with the federal government after graduation are urged by Karl W. Onthank, director of the graduate placement service, to register for civil service examinations to be held sometime in November.

These government positions come under two classifications: junior professional assistants and junior administrative assistants. A high degree of specialized training is not necessary for all positions, Onthank stated; applicants will be judged on their University record and their examination score. The government will train successful candidates in their particular line of work.

Formerly offered in the spring, these tests are now given in the fall to enable the government to compete with private employers. The delay necessary in scoring the tests given in the spring gave business a head start over federal agencies in securing promising graduates.

Voters Can Pick Up Applications Today

Applications for absentee ballots for voters registered in the city of Portland may be picked up at the Co-op today and Wednesday.

Campus Buzzes With Preparations For Homecoming

Homecoming preparations are shifting into high gear as Friday's grand opening of this year's festivities steadily nears.

Frosh men are preparing to guard the traditional bonfire; houses are combining paint and paper for their competitive signs; women are going all out for their new rooters' lids; dance fans can hear the two Homecoming bands play on KASH tonight; and credit will be extended to individual houses for Saturday night's dance tickets.

Because of the general shortage of money, particularly affecting veterans whose government checks will not come out until November 15, the Educational Activities Office will extend credit to campus living organizations for any number of tickets the house wishes to purchase for the homecoming dance.

The office will deal only with house managers or other persons authorized to buy for the organization. This representative should contact Gene Bailey in the Educational Activities office to secure tickets. Respective houses will be billed for the pasteboards on November 1.

Frosh Plan Big Blaze

The schedule for guarding the blaze Thursday, 8-10 Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon; 10-12 Phi Delta Theta, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Alpha Mu; 12-2 Beta Theta Pi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon; 2-4 Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Sigma; 4-6 Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa Psi, Lambda Chi Alpha; 6-7:30 Sigma Nu, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Aiken Reviews Game On Radio

Coach Jim Aiken told radio listeners last night that he was mighty glad the Webfoot team came out on top of the Oregon-usc tilt Saturday.

It wasn't the first time, he said, that a team was allowed another play after the final gun. He pointed to the Ohio State-Northwestern game in which Northwestern won after being given several more plays after the game's end.

The program on which Aiken and Scout Frank Zazula were interviewed by Harry Sackett is aired on stations KASH and KOAC each Monday at 8 p.m.

Players Named

Outstanding players in Saturday's game as named by Aiken were Norm Van Brocklin, who did a fine job of passing, Dick Wilkins, and Dan Garza "who played a fine defensive game."

He especially complimented Halfback George Bell who played by "sheer nerve" after receiving a very painful bruise on his hip.

Head Scout Frank Zazula declared that Washington State looked as good against the University of Washington Saturday as USC looked against Rice the week before.

He said the 10-0 score by which WSC defeated Washington was hardly indicative of their power. WSC has an excellent line and fine backs, he added.

Press Conference Housing Planned

Housing arrangements for high school students attending the Oregon high school press association conference on the campus November 5 and 6 are now being made. Inquiries have been sent to all living organizations as to how many delegates each can house.

About half the houses have replied, the journalism school reported Monday. Warren C. Price, associate professor of journalism, is in charge of arrangements.

The delegates will be entertained at a banquet at the Osburn hotel Friday night. Roy C. McCall, head of the University speech department, will speak. On Saturday morning, the delegates will attend conferences on different phases of newspaper work.

Applicants Sought

Petitions for the position of assistant varsity basketball manager, freshman manager, or freshman assistant may be turned in to Herm Lind in the physical education department after 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Veteran Actors Appear in Coming Production

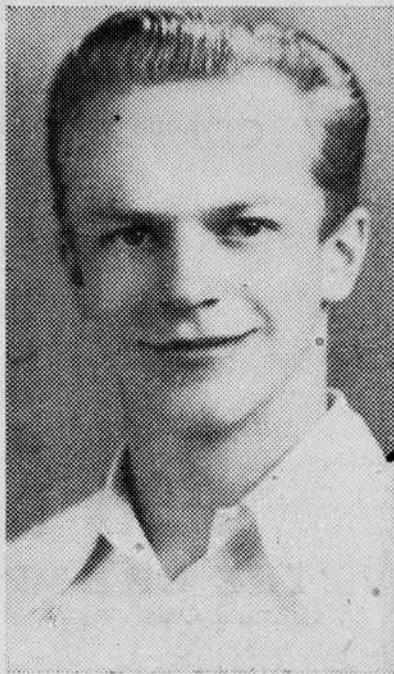

Best acting award for the year has been presented twice to both Lewis Vogler and Clifton James, who have the leading male and supporting roles, respectively, in "The Petrified Forest."

Tickets for the production, which opens Friday, and continues its eight-performance run on Saturday, and Tuesday through Saturday of the next week, may be purchased at the University theater box office in Johnson hall.

Vogler won his awards for the best actor in a leading role for his portrayal of Dion in Eugene O'Neill's "Great God Brown," presented by the theater in 1944, and the next year for the title role in "Liliom."

Plays Dearth

Dearth, in the 1946 production of "Dear Brutus" won James his first award as a leading man. The following year he captured the award for a supporting role as Uncle Chris in John Van Druten's "I Remember Mama."

The University theater acknowledges outstanding work by four persons in the theater each year. A statuette, designed and executed by Lorna Lewis, June '48 graduate, is presented to students for best performance by a man and woman in a leading role, best performance in a supporting role, and for the most noteworthy contribution to the theater outside the acting category.

Since the awards were first inaugurated in 1944, Vogler and James have been the only persons to receive it twice.

Hours of the box office are 10 to 12 a.m., and 1 to 5 p.m. In production days the office will remain open until past curtain time.
