

Warren Parade Torches Start Eugene Fires

Crepe paper-streamered automobiles bearing torches, signs, and pictures of the G.O.P. candidates, escorted Earl Warren to a reception at the Osburn hotel Friday night, following the vice-presidential candidate's speech in McArthur court.

The torchlight parade also was responsible for three fires in downtown Eugene. Police announced that dead leaves were ignited by the burning oil-soaked rags used as torches at Oak st. and 7th ave. East, the court house, and by the Osburn. The three blazes were extinguished immediately.

All six Warren children were present at their father's address and at the Republican sponsored reception. Nina, 15; Dorothy, 17; and Bobby, 13 surprised the California governor last week by flying to Seattle to join him. The older boys, Earl Jr. and James, joined the party in Portland, and Virginia and Mrs. Warren had ac-

Wolverines No. 1

NEW YORK, Oct 18—(AP)—Michigan's unbeaten-untied Wolverines took over the No. 1 spot in college football ranks today in the weekly Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers.

Grabbing 74 of the 148 first place ballots, the Michigan powerhouse displaced North Carolina which led the pack last week. Despite a fourth straight victory over North Carolina state, North Carolina dropped to third place behind Michigan and Notre Dame.

The Irish, 44-13 winners over oft-beaten Nebraska, clung to second place on a splurge of runnerup votes. In the first place balloting Notre Dame had only 23 to 32 for North Caroline.

companied Warren throughout the trip.

Warren's Eugene speech was the windup to a month long campaign, during which the California governor toured the nation in a private 14-car train. He told the merits of the Republican party to 2000 persons in McArthur court.

After leaving Eugene, the "vice-presidential special" headed for Sacramento and home for the Warrens.

Chuck Bartle, traditions chairman, reminded other students to take warning and observe the rules of the week.

Frosh boys must wear rooters lids and tin or khaki pants; frosh girls must wear green ribbons in their hair. Moleskin pants or jeans are to be worn by sophomore boys.

No student is to walk on any lawns or smoke on the old campus. All students must say hello to everyone they meet on the walk between Villard and Fenton halls.

Lettermen will leave the names of offenders in the associate editor's basket at the Shack before 2:00 each afternoon. Students whose names are published will report to the Fenton hall steps at noon.

Fashion Foibles

They say a college coed is known by her roommate's wardrobe.

We knew a girl once who looked like an artist's model in anything from a 12 to a 16. She came to college with only one wool dress and a sample collection of accessories. By swapping that one dress for something in every other girl's closet, she succeeded in being considered one of the best-dressed girls on the campus though she bragged that she never wore her own clothes.

There should be rules in this borrowing game—

Never ask to borrow anything that the owner has not worn first herself. Never borrow anything that you cannot afford to replace. Then, if you damage it, replace it promptly. Expect to lend unhesitatingly to any girl from whom you borrow. Return borrowed items carefully laundered and dresses pressed. Return everything you borrow promptly with a word of appreciation for its use. Try to wear your own clothes always.

If you make a habit of wearing your own clothes, your roommates will find it a pleasure to let you have some small accessory once in a while that makes your costume smart, or even a wrap that you need in an emergency. There are times when even a lady must borrow, but no one objects if she borrows like a lady.—M. F.

I.V.F.C. Meeting | At Straub Tonight

A delegation of students from Oregon State college will conduct the regular weekly meeting of the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship at 7 tonight in the dining room of John Straub hall.

Tonight's exchange meeting is informal, according to Bob Driesner, publicity chairman, and an open invitation has been extended to all.

I. V. C. F. is a world-wide interdenominational organization designed especially for the needs of college students.
