

Scholarship Blanks Due October 20

Application blanks for the Rhodes scholarship can be obtained from Dr. Paul Means in the religion department and must be returned by October 20. The Rhodes scholarship is tenable at the University of Oxford and is a two-year appointment.

The local faculty committee on International affairs and scholarships will choose candidates for the state elimination which will be held later in the month.

To be eligible, a candidate must be a male citizen of the United States, with at least five year's domicile, and unmarried, must be between the ages of 19 and 25, and must have at least a junior standing.

Selections Planned

Final selections will be made on the basis of four groups of qualities which Mr. Rhodes mentioned. They are (1) literary and scholastic ability and attainments, (2) qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship, (3) exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates, and (4) physical vigour, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

Thirty-two scholarships are assigned to the United States annually.

Sign Committee Meets

The Homecoming sign committee will meet in the alumni office today at 4 p.m.

"Houses should get their homecoming signs up as soon as possible," said Tom McLaughlin, chairman of the sign committee, yesterday.

Judging will be between 6 and 6:30 p.m. Friday. A complete and revised list of judges will appear tomorrow.

Signs will be rated on originality and appropriateness to this year's theme, "A New Look at Oregon."

Ladies' Lids Pushed

Women's rooters' lids will be on sale for the rest of this week so that every coed may have one for the Oregon-WSC clash Saturday at 2 p.m.

"We want each house to go 100 per cent for rooters' lids," says chairman Alex Murphy of the rally board. "All women are requested to wear their lids green side out. The mass effect of having every member of the women's rooting section wearing a green lid would be colorful and help to promote spirit."

Lids may be purchased from representatives in each house or by contacting Anne Case at the Pi Beta Phi house, phone 947.

KASH Offers Dance Sample

"For the benefit of those of you who are anxious to give a listen to the bands you will hear at the Homecoming dance, and for you who are anxious to learn all about this year's celebration, tune in on station KASH at 10 tonight," announces Bob Don, Homecoming general chairman.

Records of the Dick Day and Benny Carter orks who will perform Saturday night will be played, and Don himself will be interviewed on the program.

Coed Promising Pianist, But Normal Teen-ager

by GRETCHEN GRONDAHL
"I feel like an old-timer even though I am just a freshman," laughs, Madeleine Adler, Oregon pianist, who will appear as guest soloist with the Portland Junior Symphony November 20.

Miss Adler elaborated upon this sentiment, unusual in a 17-year-old, by explaining that she has been on the University campus for three years already as a special music student. While she was completing a regular high school course in University high, she studied music under George Hopkins of the UO school of music. By special arrangement she has been housed at Zeta hall.

Won Competition

The blonde, blue-eyed young artist won the guest appearance by coming out on top in the 19th annual Portland Junior Symphony competition last spring. Competing against seven other outstanding Oregon pianists, she earned first place with her performance of the first movement of Edward Grieg's Piano Concerto in A Minor. She will play the complete work in her November concert, which will be presented in Portland's Civic Auditorium.

Obviously devoted to her music, Miss Adler tries to practice "at least three hours a day—sometimes more, sometimes less." In addition, she must now journey to Portland every week to rehearse with Jacques Gershkovitch, conductor of the symphony.

Her first actual rehearsal with the symphony, which this year celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary, will be November 3. Intensified practice in the week preceding the concert will call her to the Rose City nearly every day.

Likes Portland

"I'm crazy about tall buildings—want to go to New York some time. Maybe that's why I like Portland so much. It has the tallest buildings I've ever seen."

Although she spends most of her summer enrolled in University music courses, Miss Adler manages to find time to spend three weeks each summer with her family at Lake Woods near her home town, Klamath Falls. Her favorite recreation there is speedboating, she claims; her pet all-year pastimes are reading and dancing—including jitterbugging.

Concert Pianist

Her driving ambition is to be a concert pianist. She plans to earn her bachelor's degree at Oregon and then study in the East.

"Few people realize that the University of Oregon music school is one of the up and coming schools in the country," Miss Adler said. Perhaps by her performance next month she may help to convince others of her earnest belief.

University Ski Club Meeting Thursday

Rumors that a "big cold front" is moving in have aroused the University ski club to schedule its first meeting for 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the band room of the military building, Lynn Bucklin, new president of the group, announced.

"The ski club's activities will be greatly expanded this year," Bucklin promised, "and special emphasis will be given to a program for novice skiers."

Talks and movies will supplement the organizational business of the meeting. Old members, new freshmen, and all students interested in skiing are invited to attend.

The ski club was reactivated last winter term, after going off campus during the war. Letha Peterson is treasurer of the organization.

Just a Bear Story: Huskies Worry Cal

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 19—The University of California football team, top Rose Bowl contender, studied motion pictures of the Oregon State game last night in preparation for Saturday's clash with Washington at Seattle.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said the Bears played better football in knocking off Oregon State last Saturday than they had in dumping Wisconsin the previous week.

He professed to be worried about Washington, telling his players the Seattle team is "always tough."

The first team worked in sweat suits today, while the third team scrimmaged against the fourth, and reserves against the Frosh.

The fish that escaped is the big one.

British Labor Party Member Speaks Oct. 28

Reginald Sorenson, who at 57 has nineteen years' experience as a Labor Party member of the British parliament, will speak in the Oregon campus October 28.

Under the sponsorship of the educational activities board, the speech will be given in room 3, Fenton hall, at 4 p.m.

The speaker has long been an active member of his country's legislative body. He had an important part in work done on the India crisis, and is the author of several books on India and international reconciliation.

Sent on tour by the American Friends Service committee, Mr. Sorenson will talk on a subject relating to the present international crisis and a Christian ethical solution.

Frosh IFC Meets

Freshman Intrafraternity council will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Chi Psi lodge. All pledge class presidents are urged to attend this meeting announced Russ Haeal, council president.

Y Service Group To Meet Thursday

All members of the YWCA service committee will meet Thursday at 4 p.m. at the YMCA, announced Dorothy Collier and Margie Scandling. Each will meet with their committees and all girls who signed up when joining the Y and all others interested are asked to attend.

Activities of the service committee include work in the spastic hospital, the YWCA nursery, tot-tenders, girl scout and Y-Teen counseling, and miscellaneous short-time service projects.

ADVISORY BOARD TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the advisory board and cabinet of the YWCA will be held Thursday noon at the Y bungalow, with the advisory board being hostesses for the luncheon.

Mrs. Curtis Avery, chairman of the advisory board, will preside over the meeting, and Nancy Moran, junior in political science, will report on her summer work in Washington, D. C., with the Washington Students in Government project of the YWCA.

The best advertisement for a reducing course is, naturally, a girl who doesn't need to lose an ounce.
