

ADS Pledges Begin Duties For Initiation

Tomorrow, the campus will view Alpha Delta Sigma's recently tapped pledges as they begin their duties toward initiation. The twelve men have canvassed the merchants of Eugene and through the medium of sandwich boards should advertise a variety of local products, services, and entertainments.

Watch for them as they mosey to and from classes on Friday and Saturday, stiffly trussed between two billboards. In addition they will mingle with the crowd at the rally Friday night and on Saturday will take a turn around the oval at Hayward Field during halftime, distributing cigaretttes on the way.

Men Chosen

The following men were tapped: Cork Mobley, Bill Plumber, Bill Barnum, Dar Johnson, Jim Yarbrough, Larry Baer, Welton Graham, Bill Gardner, Carl Miller, Mel VanLom, John Joachims, and Lyle Laws.

In June of next year the Oregon chapter of A.D.S. will play host to the many other chapters throughout the United States when the National Convention of the advertising fraternity will be held in Eugene. Under the leadership of Earl Walters, pres., the nucleus is being formulated and committees, chairmans, and general preparations have already been voted upon.

IRC Names New Officers

The International Relations club elected two vice-presidents at its meeting Tuesday night; Bob Hamill, senior in political science, and Ed Van Natta, junior in political science.

Hamill will be in charge of programs for the local IRC. Van Natta will head the program committee for the Northwestern Conference of International Relations clubs, to be held in Eugene December 3 and 4.

Chairman Named

Other committee chairmen named for the December convention include: Nancy Moran, assisted by Margaret Winslow, registration, transportation, and housing; Barbara Murray, meals; Celeste Glesecke, hospitality; Bob Miller, dance; and Betty Lagomarsino, publicity and bulletin.

The United States foreign policy was the topic of the discussion led by Ed Van Natta. Relations with the USSR and in the Near East were especially emphasized.

The next meeting was set for 7:30 p.m., November 2 in Westminster house. The Marshall Plan in light of the present election will be discussed.

Young Socialists To Hold Meeting

The Young Socialists will hold an organizational meeting at 8 p.m. tonight in Westminster house.

A general discussion of the principles of the Socialist party and the stand of its candidates will be featured, promises Bob Miller, senior in political science in charge of the meeting.

Miller added that a new discussion group will be organized. The meeting is open to all students either interested in or sympathetic with the principles of the American Socialist party.

WORLD HEADLINES

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 21 (AP) — A Royal Dutch airlines (KLM) Constellation bound from Amsterdam to New York crashed near Prestwick, Scotland, early today and first unofficial reports said at least 30 were believed dead.

KLM officials in London and Glasgow said "we have no information about the crash and don't even know whether there were any casualties at all."

The officials added: "Communications are bad and until they improve we are largely in the dark."

A Mrs. Faraday, wife of a Tarbolton village policeman, was quoted by the British Press association as saying:

"I understand there are forty dead and six survivors so far. The plane was burned out."

KLM could not confirm this. Officials said they were not sure of the exact number of passengers and crew members.

The plane was reported to have cut telephone wires when it crashed, making it difficult to get information from the scene.

KLM officials said the plane was a Constellation. They expressed the belief it may have had as many as 50 passengers and crewmen aboard.

Hospitals in the Prestwick area said they were told to stand by to receive casualties, but none had arrived immediately.

The KLM office in Glasgow said it had no particulars.

"It may be hours before we have any definite information," one official said.

Press association said it had been told by unofficial sources at least thirty were believed dead. Some of the bodies were reported charred beyond recognition.

These accounts said rescuers were groping through turnip fields trying to find injured victims and picking up the bodies of the dead.

KLM officials said the plane, a Constellation, was believed to be carrying 36 to 40 passengers and crewmen. They said they "presumed all the passengers were Dutch."

They said they were unable to check the passenger list immediately, twice over the village of Targolton, in the highland overlooking the Ayrshire coast. It is believed the plane struck electric wires on the approach to the airport. Telephone and power lines were damaged in the area.

First news of the crash came through messages from the Prestwick airport controller who ordered hospitals in the area to stand by to receive the injured.

Glasgow police said Farmer Thomas Neil on whose farm the plane came down told them he saw some badly burned bodies but did not know how many were killed.

The plane, which was scheduled to stop briefly at Prestwick, was described as a total wreck. Debris was scattered for hundreds of yards in flaming masses.

Residents of neighboring villages joined policemen in the rescue work.

Four survivors were reported taken to a hospital at nearby Manchnline.

Frosh To Start Junk Collection For Big Blaze

Freshmen are asked to start bringing bonfire material to the site of the blaze near the intramural field this morning at 8, according to chairman Johnny Backlund.

All trucks will enter the field through the 18th street gate, just below the Alpha Tau Omega house, and must stay off the playing field.

Alpha Phi Sophomore Class Serves Dinner at Pi Kap House

The Alpha Phi sophomore class balanced the AWS auction ledger Tuesday night by serving dinner at the Pi Kappa Alpha house.

The outstanding debt was incurred at the recent AWS auction when the Pi Kaps contributed $26.00 to the AWS treasury.

As the girls' work entailed washing dishes as well as serving, the dinner was served on paper plates and each person was provided with one spoon.

A pie-eating contest was staged by two Phis, Phyllis Gardner and Mary Knox. The contestants ate without use of their hands and Miss Gardner was the winner.

Other entertainment included a vocal duet by Ann Kafoury and Mary Hawkins. Janet Francis played the piano and narrated an original comic version of her experience as a bridge player.

The Pi Kaps boasted that it "was one of the best served dinners of the year" as they all journeyed to a local cafe for hamburgers.

Candidate Choices Must Be In Tuesday

The dangerous thing about war mongering in this day and age is that there's so little sales resistance.
